

THE FORM OF THE OFFICIAL BALLOT.

A Facsimile of it as properly marked by a voter intending to vote a STRAIGHT DEMOCRATIC ticket. This is not an official ballot and cannot be used in voting.

A Cross (X) marked in the square at the right of the party appellation at the head of a Group of Candidates indicates a vote for all the candidates in such group.

A Cross (X) marked in the square at the right of the Name of a Candidate indicates a vote for that candidate.

The reader should not forget that the Marks (X) which appear as shown below are not upon the ballot when it is taken by the voter, but indicate how he is to place the marks upon it in order to vote. The names given are not those of the candidates.

TO MARK A BALLOT.

AN INTERESTING OBJECT LESSON FOR DEMOCRATIC VOTERS.

Plain Directions as to the Proper Method of Marking the New Official Ballot in Order to Vote a Straight Party Ticket or to Split the Ticket.

Elsewhere in this paper will be found a facsimile of the new form of ballot that will be used on Nov. 8, marked in accordance with the recent opinion of Attorney General Hensel on this point. It should be noted that the names that appear in this sample ballot are not those of the candidates to be voted for, the names having been filled in at random to give the appearance of the real ballot.

A little study of the form will show that the new ballot is not nearly so intricate and formidable as it appears at first sight.

To vote the straight Democratic ticket, without any scratching, the voter marks his ticket as shown. In other words, he puts a cross (X) in the square to the right of the word "Democratic" where it occurs in the second column; that is, as many crosses as there are groups in the Democratic column—the word "Democratic," as often as it may occur, indicating the beginning of a distinct Democratic group. The only difficulties in the use of the new ballot being those which arise from an attempt to vote a mixed or "scratched" ticket, Democratic voters are cautioned against voting any but a straight ticket (except for good cause, and then only after careful instruction), as to do so is attended with danger that the entire ticket may be invalidated.

It is necessary to observe the groupings carefully, as indicated by the heavy black lines. Where a straight vote is cast for the candidates in a group the cross should be opposite the name of the party, never opposite the name of the nominee or nominees.

Where a voter wishes to scratch his ticket the marking is different. With more than one name in a group, the cross is omitted from opposite the name of the party at the head of a group and must be put opposite the name of every candidate in the group for whom the voter wishes to vote. With but one name in the group the cross should be put opposite the name of the party.

In the case of the Prohibitionists, whose candidates have a place on the ballot through nomination papers, the name of every candidate voted for must be marked separately. Every presidential elector must be marked. Where a Prohibitionist desires to vote for a Democratic or Republican candidate in preference to one of his own party, he should place a cross opposite that name, leaving a blank in his own list.

The voters of the People's party, not having filed any nomination papers at Harrisburg, will vote by writing in the names of their candidates in the blank space reserved for that purpose at the right hand side of the ballot. No marks are necessary in this case. In the same way any Republican, Democrat or Prohibitionist wishing to vote for any candidate whose name does not appear on the ballot, such as an independent candidate for the legislature, can write his name in the blank space in that group.

The blank column on the extreme right of the ballot is intended to permit the voter to cast his vote for a person or persons whose names are not on the ballot under any of the ticket headings. In order to do this it will be necessary for the voter to write the name of his candidate in the blank space opposite to the title of the office. Should he intend to vote for either Democratic, Republican or Prohibition candidates for offices comprised in the same group, he must make the cross opposite the name of each person for whom he intends to vote in that group.

By paying a little attention to these directions no voter need have any trouble in preparing his ballot correctly and expeditiously.

A Touchy Point With Him.
Algy—Do you think, my love, that your father will consent to our marriage?
Angely—Of course papa will be sorry to lose me, darling.
Algy—But I will say to him that instead of losing a daughter he will gain a son.
Angely—I wouldn't do that, love, if you really want me. Papa has three such sons living at home now, and he's a little bit touchy on that point.—Tit-Bits.

Night Hold Together.
Mrs. Binks—I wish to get a boy's suit, the a longest you have.
Dealer—Here, madam, are some goods which will stand anything except to be gauding on a barbed-wire fence.
Mrs. Binks—Um—a boy couldn't go tobogganing on a barbed-wire fence, could he?
Dealer—No, madam.
Mrs. Binks—Then perhaps they'll do.—Good News.

To Enlarge His Paper.
"I'm going to enlarge my paper," remarked the editor to the farmer.
"So am I," was the response.
"Why, you haven't got any paper," exclaimed the puzzled editor.
"Not like yours, maybe, but I've got a note out for $250 and I've got to enlarge it to $500 or sell off half my farm."—Detroit Free Press.

Couldn't Get a Word in Edgeways.
A newspaper writer asks the question: "Why is it that a young man will sit beside a young lady for hours and yet say hardly anything to her all the time?" We venture the suggestion that perhaps he is too polite to interrupt her.—Boston Transcript.

Wanted It All.
"By Jove!" said the burglar, as he looked about him in the house of the merchant he had come to rob. "This is elegant. I've half a mind to give up laughing and become a lawyer. Then I can steal the house if I have luck."—Truth.

Poisoned by Scrofula
Is the sad story of many lives made miserable through no fault of their own. Scrofula is more especially than any other a hereditary disease, and for this simple reason: Arising from impure and insufficient blood, the disease locates itself in the lymphatics, which are composed of white tissues; there is a period of foetal life when the whole body consists of white tissues, and therefore the unborn child is especially susceptible to this dreadful disease. But there is a remedy for scrofula, whether hereditary or acquired. It is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which by its powerful effect on the blood, expels all trace of the disease and gives to the vital fluid the quality and color of health. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not accept any substitute.

A Leader.
Since its first introduction, Electric Bitters has gained rapidly in popular favor, until now it is clearly in the lead among pure medicinal tonics and alteratives—containing nothing which permits its use as a beverage or intoxicant, it is recognized as the best and purest medicine for all ailments of Stomach, Liver or Kidneys.—It will cure Sick Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, and drive Malaria from the system. Satisfaction guaranteed with each bottle or the money will be refunded. Price only 50c. per bottle. Sold by C. A. Kleim.
A shoemaker advised a customer, when he complained of his new boots being tight, not to put them on until he had worn them for a day or two.
Many have found immediate relief and permanent cure of aggravated cases of rheumatism by the persistent use of Salvation Oil. When applied according to the directions it rarely ever fails to cure the most obstinate cases. As a pain-cure it has no equal in the market. 25 cts.
