Get Plenty of Sleep and Rise Early.

The excellence of early rising and its inspiring influences on both body and mind have been themes for the poet's song and the sage's sermon. Early rising promotes cheerfulness of temper, opens up new capacities of enjoyment and channels of delight to which the sluggish must be insensible. It increases the sum of human existence by stealing from indolence hours that would else be utterly wasted, and, better still, unquestionably conduces to longevity. All long lives have been early risers. Now the habit of retiring to bed at late hours will hardly admit of early rising; therefore the necessity of refraining from the one in order to secure the advantages of the other. From six to eight hours are generally held to be sufficient and no doubt on the average are so. Our sleep is much regulated by the season. In winter people lie longer on account, as they say, of it being too dark to get up early. There is some plausibility in the reason, but the system in cold and dark weather is more prone to sleep in light and sunny times. Invalids need generally plenty of bed rest, but they should procure it by going early to bed. There is more health and strength to be found in the practice of seeing the sun rise than in looking at it any other part of the day.—Providence Journal.

Lowest in Ninety-nine Years.

The Harrisburg Patriot says: The low water in the Susquehanna river, November, 1892, has about reached the point marked on Macley's rock, opposite South street, by Balhazer Steers. The mark he made in August, ninety-nine years ago, reads "1803." The figures are beautifully cut and are several inches long. The straight line below marks the lowest stage of the water of which there is any record. About forty years ago the numerals were visible above the face of the water and the mark almost so. At present the level of the water is in nearly the same condition.

Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

"Seeing is Believing."

And a good lamp must be simple; when it is not simple it is not good. Simple, Beautiful, Good—these words mean much, but to see "The Rochester" will impress the truth more forcibly. All metal, tough and seamless, and made in three pieces only, it is absolutely safe and unbreakable. Like Aladdin's of old, it is indeed a "wonderful lamp," for its marvelous light is purer and brighter than gas light, softer than electric light and more cheerful than either.

Look for this stamp—THE ROCHESTER. If the lamp dealer has not the genuine Rochester, and the style you want, send to us for our new illustrated catalogue, and we will send you a lamp safely by express—your choice of over 2,000 varieties from the Largest Lamp Store in the World.
