Attractive Tours to the Near South via the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The advantageous season of the year and the attractive destinations fixed for the tour to the near South on February 9th make it one of the most desirable of pleasure trips. The territory traversed is the most attractive and historical portion of the Union, embracing as it does a picturesque route, the military post of Old Point Comfort, the beautiful resort of Virginia Beach, and the cities of Richmond and Washington. The rates of $45.00 from New York and $42.50 from Philadelphia cover railroad fare, hotel accommodations, and all necessary expenses during the entire time of nine days spent on the tour. For an extended tour to Washington an exceptional opportunity is offered on February 16th. Seven days will be spent on the trip. The rates, including transportation, hotel accommodations, transfers, carriage ride, and a trip to Mt. Vernon, are very low. This tour affords ample time thoroughly viewing and resting at the Nation's handiwork city. Further information furnished on application to Tourist Agents, 849 Broadway, New York, 860 Fulton Street, Brooklyn, and 223 South Fourth Street, Philadelphia, or Ticket Agents, Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

This is Meant for You.

It has been truly said that half the world does not know how the other half lives. Comparatively few of us have perfect health, owing to the impure condition of our blood. But we rub along from day to day with scarcely a thought, unless forced to our attention, of the thousands all about us who are suffering from scrofula, salt rheum and other serious blood disorders, and whose agonies can only be imagined. The marked success of Hood's Sarsaparilla for these troubles, as shown in our advertising columns frequently, certainly seems to justify urging the use of this excellent medicine by all who know that their blood is disordered. Every claim in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla is fully backed up by what the medicine has done and is still doing, and when its proprietors urge its merits and its use upon all who suffer from impure blood, in great or small degrees, they certainly mean to include you.

As soon as the snow disappears the bicycle season reopens.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE SICK HEADACHE

Headache, not Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, indigestion and prostration. Their soothing effect is not only on the bowels, but on the nerves. They regulate the bowels. Even if they only cure the headache, they are worth the price.

Ask them to be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but for the relief of their condition does not depend on the quantity of the pills, but on the quality of the ingredients. In so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after a quick trial.

In the hands of so many lives that there is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure all kinds of ailments.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not irritate the stomach, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

HINDU JUGGLERS.

Men and Women Perform Remarkable Feats of Legerdemain.

The wonderful tricks of legerdemain, the feats of balancing, tumbling, and rope-dancing performed by men and women in the theatres and circuses in this country, are hardly equal to the commonest tricks and feats performed by Hindu jugglers in their native land.

It is a very common sight in India to see young girls balancing themselves on their heads with their heels in the air, or to see them walking on their hands and feet with their bodies bent backwards. It is an easy thing for a girl of fifteen years to bend backwards, plunge her head into a hole eighteen inches deep, full of water and dirt, and bring up between her lips a ring that was buried in the mud.

Women are not less dexterous than the girls and the men. They are frequently seen dancing in couples on slack ropes, one playing on the violin or Hindu guitar, while the other poses, postures, and capers gracefully about with a vessel brimful of water in each hand, without spilling a drop.

A Hindu juggler will stand a pole twenty feet high on the ground, and then climb to the top of it as if it was a firmly rooted tree. He fixes the top of the pole in the middle of his sash, and dances about in all directions without disturbing the equilibrium of the pole. The same man, after giving an exhibition of this sort, slides down the pole, takes a boy on his shoulders, climbs once more to the top, fixes the top of the pole in the hollow of his foot, and stands erect, balancing himself, with the boy on his shoulder, as easily as the average person could balance himself on one foot on the ground.

Another very difficult act is that of balancing a sword with a broad blade, the point resting on the performer's chin; then the juggler will balance a straw on his nose, or on a small stick which he holds in his lips. While performing this trick the juggler sometimes places a piece of thin tile on his nose, and tosses up a stone which, falling on the tile, breaks it in pieces.

Some of the most wonderful feats of these men are performed on the slack rope. While balancing himself on the rope, the performer carries a long stick on the end of his nose. At the top of the stick is set a large tray from which walnut-shells are suspended by threads. He takes in his lips a stick long enough to reach the shells, and by sudden movements of the lips he tosses each shell upon the tray without deranging anything or losing his balance. While doing this he strings beads upon a horse-hair by means of his tongue, and without any assistance from his hands.

The Hindus have found means of communicating this wonderful dexterity to domestic animals. They train bullocks to perform very difficult tasks. A Hindu juggler will lie down on his back and place a small piece of stout wood, two feet high and six inches in diameter, on the lower part of his stomach. At his command a trained bullock will set its four feet on the top of this stick and balance itself. The juggler will then place another piece of wood, similar to the first, a few inches from it, and the bullock will shift its position to it without touching its feet to the ground. Goats are also taught wonderful feats by this queer people.

Unpleasantly Affectionate.

Everybody likes pets if they are harmless but when you make a pet of a wild beast, take care it doesn't become unpleasantly affectionate.

A traveller in Persia had arrived at Abadeh, where a European telegraph official, Mr. G., welcomed him hospitably, and invited him to remain for the night. He says:

An hour later I was comfortably settled upon the sofa, when my rest was suddenly disturbed by a loud bang at the sitting-room door, which, flying open, admitted two enormous animals, which I at first took for dogs.

Both of them made at once for my sofa, and while the larger one curled comfortably around my feet and composed itself to sleep, the smaller one, evidently of a more affectionate disposition, seated itself on the floor and commenced licking my hands and face, an operation which, had I dared, I should strongly have resented.

But the white, gleaming teeth and cruel-looking green eyes inspired me with respect, to use no stronger word, for I had by this time discovered that these domestic pets were panthers. To my great relief, Mr. G. entered at this juncture.

"Making friends with the panthers, I see," he remarked pleasantly. "They are nice companionable beasts."

That may have been true at the time. The fact remains, however, that three months afterwards the "affectionate one" half devoured a native child. The neighborhood of Abadeh, Mr. G. informed me, swarms with these animals.

What Will be the Awakening?

It was of Harriet Martineau (and the saying might apply to all who, like her, have done their best to serve their fellows) that the large-souled Florence Nightingale remarked: "What a delightful surprise it will be to her to wake and find herself in heaven!" Somewhat similar in its blending of kindly intention with a spice of innocent malice was Galileo's remark on the death of a skeptical cotemporary, who had refused to look through the telescope at some newly discovered spectacle in the skies: "I hope he saw the moons of Jupiter while on his way to heaven"—surely the most amiable exhibition of the spirit of "I told you so!" in record. Of a like liberal vein was the old minister's surmise that "we shall meet a great many people in heaven whom we had not expected to see there," though he followed out his surmise to the less pleasing conclusion that "we shall also miss a great many we had expected to find."
