THE OLD JOHN BULL LOCOMOTIVE.

It Left Harrisburg This Morning for the World's Fair.

MIDDLETOWN, April 18.—It was in October, 1836, when the Old John Bull locomotive, which is propelling the train of two fifty-seven-year-old coaches from New York to Chicago, which left Harrisburg this morning enroute for the World's Fair and is a part of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's exhibit at the Columbian Exposition.

This same locomotive made the first trip on the part of the road between Middletown and Harrisburg and on its trial trip among the passengers was a youth of 16, who tended bar for his father at the Washington House, in Middletown, and some years afterward became one of the directors of this line known then and since as the Harrisburg, Portsmouth, Mt. Joy and Lancaster railroad, which was leased to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in 1860. This youth is Colonel James Young, the renowned farmer king of Middletown. IRVIN S. MERRILL WAS NOT DEAD.

He Returns to His Old Home After an Absence of Thirty-Four Years.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., April 18.—Irvin S. Merrill, a former resident here, whom everybody had given up for dead, has just arrived in the city, after an absence of thirty-four years. He served in the civil war, and the men who survived brought news to his relatives here that he had perished at Vicksburg.

His sister, Mrs. Worthley, of No. 153 Easton avenue, contended that he was still alive, and that she would see him before she died. She and her sister, Mrs. Campbell, went to Washington and searched the records. They learned that a few months previously a man named Irvin S. Merrill had applied for a pension. The address was secured and a correspondence followed, which resulted in the establishing of the relationship.

Mr. Merrill says that after leaving New Brunswick in 1859 he settled in Chicago. He wrote to his sisters but never received a reply. The sisters never received his letters, nor did he receive theirs. Mr. Merrill is now located in Kansas City.

MINISTER EGAN'S DIFFICULTY

Not Yet Satisfactorily Settled—What the Reports Say.

Three Strikers Killed.

BRUSSELS, April 18.—The dynamite explosion at Mons yesterday seems to have acted as an incentive to the strikers to commit further outrages. The strikers filled the drinking places and indulged in all manner of threats against the government, and as the day wore on they became emboldened and determined to take possession of the town for a labor procession. The intentions were known to the authorities, who have many spies among the workmen, and when the mob, singing the "Marseillaise" and the "Marsellaise," attempted to march through the streets they were met by a strong detachment of the civic guard. The usual order was given for the strikers to disperse, but no attention was paid to it by the strikers.

Hooting and yelling they attempted to march on, when the order was given for the civic guard to prepare to fire. The mob defied the guards to fire upon them, and threw heavy stones, bottles and other missiles at them. The guard fired upon the crowd, but this did not effect their dispersal. On the contrary, it only infuriated them and a charge en masse was made upon the guard. A desperate hand-to-hand conflict ensued. The main body of the strikers was broken up, but groups of struggling men could be seen in the side streets leading from the main thoroughfare.

The battle was long and bitterly contested, but finally the civic guard were victorious. It is known that three of the miners were killed. Many of the rioters were wounded and a number were taken to the hospitals. It is thought that the exact number of the wounded will never be known, as some of them were carried away by their friends to prevent their falling into the hands of the authorities.

The killing of the strikers has added greatly to the excitement in the town, and there is danger of a more serious outbreak. Men and women from the adjacent mining villages are flocking into Mons and the authorities are anxiously awaiting events.

Mons is the center of the great Borinage coal mining district. Three-fourths of all the miners in Belgium are employed in this district.
