PROCEEDINGS IN BOTH BRANCHES.

The Senate Kills the Brown Road Bill-The Neabit Bill Likely Not to be Considered-The House Preparing for Some Very Lively Sessions.

HARRISBURG, April 26 .- One of the burning questions before the legislature has been finally disposed of by the defeat of the road bill introduced in the senate by Mr. Brown, of Westmoreland. This bill has been agitated since the opening of the session, innumerable petitions coming from farmers' organizations from all parts of the state to senators and representatives. There were seventeen votes in favor of the bill and twenty against it. The opposition arose largely from the fear that the provision for the county supervisor of roads might operate disadvantageously. The democrats all voted against the bill under the leadership of Senator Ross, of Bucks, who was against the principle involved in the system proposed.

Unless the vote is reconsidered, which is not likely, the senate will not consider the Neshit bill, which the house may pass be-osuse it is similar to the Brown bill.

cause it is similar to the Brown bill. The passage of the Liberty bell through this city on its way to Chicago re-called to State Treasurer Morrison a curious item which he had seen some time since in a musty old book in his department. The book in question is the cash ledger of the city of Philadelphia for the year 1776 and in it is an entry to the effect that William Dewsee was on August 16, 1776, paid the sum of £8 for his services of ringing the bell in announcement to the citizens of Philadelphia in particular and the world in general the signing of the Declaration of independence. History leaves no room for doubt that History leaves no room for doubt that old Mr. Dewces risbly deserved the liberal fee he received since it records the fact that he kept its branes tongue pounding against its sounding sides for over two hours. Ex-State Treasurer Henry K. Boyer has in his possession a photograph of the larg-est check ever paid into the treasury of the commenwealth. It is the equivalent sant by the United States treasurer for the $1,-606,080 of direct tax refunded to this state by set of congress. Mr. Boyer, realizing that he would probably never again have in his possession a check for so large a sum of money, took it to a local photographer. The operator took the check and told the state treasurer to "call again in about half an hour." Mr. Boyer had no intention of allowing the check to go out of his sight, however, and he didn't adopt the photo-graph man's suggestion. The house committee on rules is getting ready for a grand assault on the calendars. The day is gradually drawing near when final adjournment must come, yet there are two hundred or more bills remaining to be acted upon. It will be impossible to con-sider all of them and, threfore, those lowest down will be ruthlessly lopped off.

GAVE THEM A NOISY WELCOMM. The Caravels and Warships at Anchor is the Lower Bay. NEW YORK, April 26 .- The old Spanish caravels, counterparts of the little craft which composed the fleet of Columbus, were objects of wonder as they swung, at were objects of wonder as they swing, at anchor in the lower bay yesterday, to all persons who saw them. They are certainly a queer looking trio of vessels for any one to have crossed the Atlantic in, and those who saw them yesterday can now better appreciate the great courage of the discoveter of America

The caravels have iron cannon modelled after the guns of Columbus' original fleet. One of the guns of the latter fleet is still "alive" and may be seen on the Santa Maria. In addition, there are broadside guns called bomboridas and falconetas, mounted on the rails.

Loud mouthed cannon boomed a noisy welcome to the crack fighting ships of the world as they steamed slowly up the lower bay and swung into the anchorage just be-low the Narrows near Fort Hamilton, Fort Lafayette and Fort Wadsworth.

Over the city came the dull echo of the Over the city came the dull echo of the cannonading, giving a warning that the long expected naval review was now on in earnest; that the ships of our own nation and of our guests had safely made the trip from Hampton Roads, and were now here, ready for their part in the greatest naval pageant of modern times. The cannonading began when the cara-vels from Snain were towed un the Hudson

THE GOLD IS ALL RIGHT

Uncle Sam not To be Allowed to Suffer Badly.

THE TREASURY NOT IN BAD SHAPE.

Secretary Carlisle Says the Supply is Increasing The Treasury to Continue the Policy Now Being Pursued-What President Cleveland Savs.

WASHINGTON, April 24.-The gold re-serve, depleted Friday, is intact do-day, offers aggregating nearly $4,000,000 having been received and accepted by the secre-tary during Saturday. Secretary Carlisle says he did not think, in justice to those who were disposed to supply the government with gold, that their names should be published, and for that reason alone he did not think it wise to state names and places from which the offers came. It is believed, however, that the west again came to the relief.

The said that the treasury would continue the policy now being pursued of paying out gold for the treasury coin notes, and that at an early hour Saturday, when it saemed that the reserve would beencroacked upon, he directed the sub-treasurer at New York to continue paying these notes as hereto-fore. He was therefore at a loss to under-stand how any uncertainty prevailed in the public mind as to the action of the treas-stand how any uncertainty prevailed in the public mind as to the action of the treas-ury department in the premises. The exaggerated stories which gained circulation to the effect that President Cleveland and Secretary Carlisle had had a serious misunderstanding which might lead to the resignation of Mr. Carl-isle are officially denied by members of the cabinet and officials of the treasury depart-ment. The relations which exist to day between Secretary Carlisle and the presibetween Secretary Carlisle and the presi-dent are as cordial as they have ever been.

A Word from the President.

A Word from the President. WASHINGTON, April 34.—To a news paper representative the president said last night: "The inclinations on the part of the public to accept newspaper re-ports concerning the intentions of those charged with the management of our na-tional finances seems to justify may em-phatic contradiction of the statement that the redemption of any kind of treasury notes, except in gold, has at any time been determined uson or contemplated by the notes, except in goid, use at any time been determined upon or contemplated by the secretary of the treasury, or any other members of the present administration. The president and cabinet are absolutely harmonius in the determination to exercise every power conferred upon them to main-tain the public oredit, to keep the public faith and to preserve parity between gold and silver and between all financial obligations of the government. "While the law of 1890, forcing the purchase of a fixed amount of silver every month, provides that the secretary of the treasury in his discretion may redeem in either gold or silver the treasury notes given in payment of silver purchases, yet the declaration of the policy of the govern-ment to maintain the parity between the two metals seems so clearly to regulate this discretion as to indicate their redemption in gold.

"Of course perplexities and difficulties have grown out of an unfortunate finan-cial policy which we found in vogue and embarrassments have arisen from ill-advised financial legislation confronting us at every turn; but with cheerful confidence among the people and a patriotic disposi-tion to co operate, threatened dangers will be averted pending a legislative return to a better and sounder financial policy. The strong credit of the country still unimpaired and the good sense of our people, which have never failed in time of need, are at hand to save us from disaster.'

The Situation in New York.

NEW YORK, April 25.-The explicit statement of President Cleveland that the government would continue to pay out gold for treasury notes as well as for greenbacks, and that it had never had any other intention, had the effect of partially clearing the financial atmosphere yesterday. at the balance o trad
