TYRONE, May 31.—Yesterday a special train on the Tyrone and Clearfield road, composed of Walter Main's circus cars, got beyond the control of the trainmen and came down the mountain with fearful rapidity. At Vail station the train was wrecked and animals, men and broken cars were piled up together. Several tigers and lions made their escape and only after the greatest exertion were they re-captured, and then not until one of the tigers had killed several domestic animals in the neighborhood. Five men were killed outright and ten others were wounded, some of them fatally. The cars are a complete wreck and will take several days to get the property together. The wreck is one of the worst that has occurred on this division, and the worst in number of lives lost.

Those killed are: William Henry, brakeman, Tyrone; Frank Brain, Indianapolis, Ind.; William Mueserly, East Liberty, Pa.; John Stayer, Hontzdale, Pa.; Louis Champlain, Rochester, N. Y. The injured were taken to the hospital in Altoona. They are: John Chambers, colored, Chambersburg, bitten severely by a lion; Willis Oberronn, Chambersburg, wound of the scalp; Arthur Richards, Peachville, Pa., wounded about the face; George Corlin, Hollidaysburg, contusion of the chest; Frank Barrett, Trenton, contusion of the left arm; David Jones, Harrisburg, sprain of right leg; Frank Morse, Rochester, N. Y., wounded about the head; William Evans, Williamstown, Pa., right ankle injured; William Patchel, Dubois, Pa., contusion of the left knee; James Haney, Alberton, Pa., badly injured about the body.

WILKES-BARRE, May 25.—The dangerous and disgraceful scenes that threw Plymouth people into a constant turmoil and dread three years ago, owing to the church war, are likely to break out afresh. By a recent decision of the bishop Rev. Father Kosalko, who was driven out three years ago, has been ordered back to the parish.

He forcibly took possession of the church Tuesday night, but was not allowed to enter the parsonage, the housekeeper standing guard with a revolver. The people are up in arms, and any slight encouragement would precipitate a riot. Three years ago this church was at war. Graves were broken open and desecrated, and attempts were made to blow up the priest's house with dynamite. Not until the "Polish King," Martin Wilkes, was sent to the penitentiary for a year was the trouble abated. Wilkes is now again in Plymouth.

SCRANTON, May 31.—Vance Harper, of Chester, was arrested here Monday night and taken to Philadelphia yesterday on a warrant issued by Magistrate Durham, charging him with embezzlement of $9,000. The warrant was sworn to by George W. Carpenter, of the Girard building in Philadelphia, agent for the Union Debenture Company, of Minneapolis, for whom Harper was a sub-agent in charge of Northeastern Pennsylvania offices. Harper is accused of disposing of bonds entrusted to him for sale and using the proceeds for his own benefit.

SCRANTON, May 29.—Henry Chapman, a brakeman on the Susquehanna division of the Erie railroad, was shot in the groin and probably fatally wounded at Susquehanna by Lottie Dorsey, the notorious "White Widow," of Lee Dorsey, colored.

The Dorsey woman lives near the depot and claims that Chapman came to her house and began to abuse her. She put him out and he returned with a stick and was about to assault her, when she shot him. The victim lives in Hornellsville, where he has a wife and three children.

TRUMONT, May 30.—Through the carelessness of one of their number six miners employed at the Middle Creek colliery of the Reading company were most seriously burned by an explosion of gas yesterday. The names of the unfortunate men are: Charles Maurer, John Seager, Frank Huth, William Bolts, William Bretzins and William Erdman. The injuries of the first four are fatal. The explosion was caused by one of the men carrying a naked lamp.

CONNELLSVILLE, May 30.—A horrible tragedy was discovered in New Haven, just across the river from here, about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. An entire family named Hoy, consisting of mother, father and two children, were found murdered in their home. The Hoyes lived in a house in the thickly settled neighborhood of New Haven, and no one had ever dreamed that such a tragedy could be enacted without arousing the neighbors.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—David Coldren, aged 45 years, shot at but missed his wife Kate yesterday, at their home, 4526 Lancaster avenue, and then fired a bullet into his own brain. The suicide and would-be murderer had been on a week's spree since receiving his pension money. A recent accident injured his head and he is believed to have been insane. He left a letter denouncing his spouse.

WILLIAMSPORT, May 27.—Henry J. Wessner, of the Williamsport Planing Mill Company, was run over by an engine in the Pennsylvania railroad yard, in this city yesterday and died two hours later in the hospital. He was terribly cut and bruised, his left leg and thigh, right leg and left arm being crushed. He was a highly respected citizen, 52 years old, and leaves a widow and two daughters.

READING, May 27.—A notice from City Controller Koch to some of the councilmanic committees has caused a sensation among councilmen. He has informed the committees that hereafter he will not sign warrants for expenses incurred by committees, except for such things as are clearly allowed by law. Fenesting at the public expense is to be stopped.

SHIPPENSBURG, May 27.—Peter West, who resides near here, and Hiram Plough, a pension agent at this place, were arrested by Deputy United States Marshal Samuel S. Anderson, of Harrisburg, and Detective Schweicer, of Philadelphia. It is alleged that West and Plough were in collusion to obtain extortionate pension fees from their clients.

CARLEISLE, May 27.—Yesterday afternoon the jury returned into court with a verdict of murder in the first degree against Charles Salyards, which was received by the crowd present with every mark of approval. Salyards, though striving to put on a bold front, showed signs of a breakdown when he heard the verdict read.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—Reading stock dropped to 8 1/4 yesterday afternoon against 10 1/2 at the close on Saturday. The sales were heavy. A disapproval of the reorganization plan by the speculative public is the cause. This is the lowest figure reached since the receivership was instituted.

SHAMOKEN, May 31.—The through Philadelphia freight train was wrecked at Paxinos yesterday. Twenty cars left the track. No one was injured but the damage is heavy.

It was Hook who perpetrated the jest that forms the turning-point in Gilbert Gurney's career. One day he and the elder Mathews, the comedian, took a row up the river to Richmond. Passing a well-trimmed lawn at Barnes, they noticed an inscription-board sternly forbidding any strangers to land. This was enough for Hook. Tying the boat to a tree, he and Mathews landed, taking with them fishing-rods and lines. Hook acted as a land surveyor, Mathews as his clerk. Pacing slowly to and fro across the lawn, they used their fishing-rods as pretended measuring and levelling staffs, their lines as yard and rood measures. Soon a parlor window opened. The occupant of the villa, a well-to-do alderman, strode out in great wrath and demanded what the two interlopers were about. Hook coolly but courteously informed him that a new canal was to be cut directly across the lawn, and that he and his clerk were taking accurate measurements. Partly in rage, partly in despair, the alderman invited them in to talk the matter over. Dinner was just ready. The wine flowed freely. The alderman sought to persuade the surveyor that another line for the canal might easily be obtained. Hook said he would do his best. Good humor was restored, the conversation grew general, the novelist and the comedian succeeded in charming the household. At last Hook sat down to the piano, and finally, after numerous brilliant impromptus, rattled off the following lines:

Many thanks for your excellent fare,
But we are not the men that we look;
My friend's Mr. Mathews the player,
And I am one Theodore Hook.

I tried various remedies without benefit until last April, when I saw Ely's Cream Balm advertised in the Boston Budget, I procured a bottle, and since the first days' use have had no more bleeding—the soreness is entirely gone.—D.
