News Gathered from all Sections of the Commonwealth.

ALTOONA, June 7.—In the Blair county democratic convention, which met here yesterday, A. V. Dively, of Altoona, and Hon. A. S. Landis, of Hollidaysburg, were placed in nomination for president judge. A dispute arose over a decision given by the committee on credentials, whereupon the Dively delegation retired from the convention.

The Landis delegation then unanimously nominated their candidate. More disputes arose than at any other similar meeting ever given in the county. Several of the Dively men who remained in the room got up and stated that they would not sanction the Landis nomination. For more than an hour it was impossible for Chairman Thomas McKiernan to keep order in the house.

MEDIA, June 5.—A trolley car on the Media and Chester line ran into a lot of cattle instantly killing two cows and a bull. The cattle were not seen by the motorman until a moment before they were struck. They were walking up the track in a line, with their heads toward the approaching car. The car was thrown off the track and derailed. There were only five passengers aboard, and none of them were hurt. The cattle killed belonged to Rufus Ingram, a neighboring farmer, and had broken out of a field near where the accident occurred.

LANCASTER, June 5.—Dr. S. E. Weber, who has been investigating the flea or louse plague in the northern part of the county, was summoned to Washington for a conference with Secretary of Agriculture Horton and Professor Riley, of the Entomological bureau. There is no doubt that the plague is spreading in the country and is growing in seriousness. At Petersburg the insects have been discovered in a tobacco warehouse, and a number of people have been deprived of work in consequence. Dr. Weber has been advised of their presence in two more houses in East Earl.

READING, June 6.—In the equity proceedings brought by Mrs. Angelina Fox, widow of Adam Fox, against the children of her late husband by a former marriage, a decision has just been rendered in favor of Mrs. Fox, awarding her property of the value of $5,000. The decedent devised his property to his children, but his widow claimed that certain real estate did not belong to her husband, but was her separate property acquired by her personal earnings.

HARRISBURG, June 6.—The following were chartered yesterday: Avandale Marble Company, of Chester county; capital, $250,000; to operate in London Grove township. Among the incorporators are William Vollmer, S. Croft Register and Phillip S. Vollmer, Philadelphia. Copley Knitting Company, of Lehigh county; capital, $5,000. St. Mary's Creamery Company, of Elk county; capital $5,000. Citizens Electric Light Company, of Wayne, Delaware county; capital, $5,000.

READING, June 5.—Work upon the proposed Reading, Lancaster and Baltimore railroad having been abandoned, the portions of the roadway already graded having been plowed under and planted with corn, the last chapter in this enterprise is about being completed in the secure and sale of the contractor's plant. The receivers of the Reading Railroad Company will sell on the 31st inst., to secure freight charges, the carts, wagons and tools consigned to W. E. Warren, the contractor.

LEWISBURG, June 7.—At the Union county democratic convention resolutions endorsing the national and state administrations were passed, and Governor Pattison was endorsed for the presidency in 1908. James Glace was nominated for commissioner and Adam Krug for auditor. After a lively time the nominations for treasurer and register and recorder were referred to the standing committee for settlement.

READING, June 6.—Everything is in readiness for completing the South Mountain railroad from the Schuylkill to the Susquehanna river, through the counties of Berks, Lebanon and Dauphin. Work will be commenced this week on the section between this city and Berneville. The greater part of the roadbed has been completed from Berneville to Grantville, Dauphin county.

EASTON, June 6.—While John Cole, aged about 30, and George Baltz, aged 45, were breaking up stone in the Lizzie Clay and Pulp Company's quarry yesterday, a mile south of Phillipsburg, N. J., a slide occurred and they were buried under 100 tons of rock. The bodies were recovered a few hours later. Both were terribly mangled. Baltz leaves a wife and five children.

HARRISBURG, June 7.—An explosion of gas occurred in No. 2 Sinton colliery, owned by Linderman & Sizer, yesterday, by which Martin Kneack, Michael Laska, George Palcko and John Morasani were horribly burned. The explosion was caused by a naked lamp coming in contact with a body of gas which had collected in a heading. The injured men were taken to the hospital.

READING, June 6.—The annual report of State Adjutant Hammer, of the Sons of Veterans, has just been issued from the headquarters in this city. It shows over 6,000 members in the state, twenty-four new camps having been instituted during the past year. The new members mustered numbered 2,701, while there was a loss of 832 members.

HARRISBURG, June 7.—Governor Pattison yesterday attached his signature to the general appropriation bill, which appropriates about $15,500,000 for the ordinary expenses of the executive, judicial and legislative departments of the commonwealth, interest on the public debt and for the support of the public schools for the next two fiscal years beginning June 1.

POTTSVILLE, June 6.—The Reading Company inaugurated a new policy in its coal traffic and sent out no trains on Sunday. Until the coal trade warrants it no coal trains will be moved hereafter on that day. This is done to give train hands rest and at the same time will very materially cut down expenses.

LANCASTER, June 6.—The horribly mutilated remains of James McCarty, of Fall River, Mass., were found along the Pennsylvania railroad, near Columbia. It is supposed he tried to board a freight and fell under the cars.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, June 5.—The rag room of the D. M. Eise Company, at Boaring Spring, this county, took fire from spontaneous combustion and was entirely destroyed. The main buildings of the mill were saved by energetic work of the fire brigade.

POTTSVILLE, June 3.—Winfield W. Scott has made an assignment. Scott ran stores at Minersville, Glen Carbon and William Penn, in this county, and also near Wilkes-Barre. He is also engaged in contracting. No statement filed.

SHAMONK, June 5.—D. H. Rothermel, of Trevorton, extreasurer of Zerby township, has been found to be $509 short in his accounts by the auditors.

Lippincott's Magazine for June.

The complete novel in the June number of Lippincott's is "The Translocation of a Savage," by Gilbert Parker, author of "The Chief Factor," "Pierre and his People," "Mrs. Falchion," etc. It has an unusual subject, and tells how an Englishman of family and wealth married an Indian girl of Hudson's Bay and took her home, with results naturally mixed, but better than might have been expected.

The fourth in the series of Lippincott's Notable Stories—"The Philosophers," by Geraldine Bonner—deals with an extraordinary wedding, in which the men concerned were philosophers indeed. It is illustrated. "Ambition," a play in one act, by Johanna Staats, has a double love-story.

The Athletic Series is continued in an illustrated article on "Amateur Rowing," by John F. Huneker. In the Journalist Series, Theodore Stanton descants on "The Foreign Correspondent."

John Burroughs gives "A Glance into Walt Whitman," and Frank A. Burr tells "How Men Write," with portraits of Captain King, J. G. Blaine, Julian Hawthorne, Eugene Field, Joel Chandler Harris, J. W. Riley, Bill Nye, and Walt Whitman.

W. S. Walsh supplies anecdotes illustrating the methods, now more honored in breach than in the observance, of "The Practical Jester." Alfred Stoddard, in "An Actor's Art," contributes a brief study of Edward S. Willard. "A Colonial Vista," by F. H. W., is a notice of Miss Wharton's "Through Colonial Doorways." "When Doctors Differ," by F. M. B., is a comment on a recent deliverance of Mr. F. Marion Crawford.

M. Crofton, in "Men of the Day," offers pen-pictures of Ambassador Bayard, Millionaire Mackay, Composer Verdi, and Editor Burnand.

The poetry of the number is unusually full, containing lyrics by Graham R. Tomson, the late Phillip Bourke Marston, Lorimer Stoddard, Bliss Carman, and Harrison S. Morris, besides quatrains by Frank Dempster Sherman, Clinton Scollard, and Joel Benton.

"Is this hot enough for you?" is a silly question; but if you meet a man who complains of suffering from the heat, ten to one you will find, on inquiry, that he does not use Ayer's Sarsaparilla to tone up his system and free his blood from irritating humors.

The statistics of crime throughout the country show a marked increase in the number of murders during recent years—from 2,335 in 1887 to 5,906 in 1891—while for several years prior to 1887 the number fell short of 2,000.

Woman's Mistake.

She tries to do too much. This applies to all women.

The ambitious girl striving for school honors. The busy house wife, the shop girl, the society woman.

What follows?

Nervous prostration, excitability, fainting spells, dizziness, sleeplessness, backache, and most likely organic diseases of the uterus or womb, causing bearing-down pains and irregularity.

Oh! women, if you must bring upon yourself these troubles, remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more to relieve such suffering than any other remedy.

"It cured me, and will you."—

IT KILLS COMPETITION! THE DEERING JOINTED PLATFORM BINDER. After a thorough test of TWO YEARS, the JOINTED PLATFORM has proven a wonderful Success. NOSES OUT OF JOINT. Our competitors do not like this Folding Platform. We never thought they would. Who could expect them to go into ecstasies over a valuable invention upon which we own and control exclusive and far-reaching patents? Same old case of sour grapes. Barely looking on them has set their teeth on edge, and it is amusing to hear them chatter. Every intelligent farmer knows that the true test of an invention is the character of the work it does. The thorough tests made prove the Deering Jointed Platform to be a marvelous success. Farmers who have used it are charmed with it. It is a great boon to farmers, and it has come to stay. It simply adds another mechanical triumph to the long list of labor-saving devices patented and given to the world by William Deering & Co. THE DEERING PONY BINDER. No Grain so badly down or tangled, that the DEERING PONY BINDER cannot cut, elevate, bind and discharge every straw of it. Last year it was subjected to the most severe tests, and has been pronounced by all who used it, "A Marvelous success."
