FIRESIDE FRAGMENTS.

Breaded Omelet.—Put into a stew-pan two tablespoonfuls of rich milk. Sprinkle in one tablespoonful of salt and half a tablespoonful of pepper. Stir until the crumbs have absorbed all the milk; take from the fire, and let the mixture cool, and then beat it up with six eggs, and fry like other omelets.—Old Cook Book.

Sugar Cookies.—Two cupfuls of sugar, two eggs, one-half cupful of butter, one-half cupful of fried meat gray or drippings, one-half cupful of sweet cream, one-half teaspoonful of soda. Before baking, dip the top of each cookie in the white of egg, then in granulated sugar. The white of the egg is not to be beaten.—Housekeeper.

Canned Rhubarb.—There is nothing which keeps so easily in cans as rhubarb. Fill perfect cans with the sliced stalks, crowding them down firmly. Put the cans in a cool place and fill with cool water, and leave overnight. Examine the cans the next day and see that they are full to the brim then screw on the tops and treat like canned fruit. I have used it when five years old which was as nice as the fresh vegetable.—Rural.

Stewed Sweetbreads.—Parboil and carefully remove the skin without breaking the sweetbreads, put them into a stewpan with two ounces of butter, a tablespoonful of chopped parsley, one clove, one bay leaf, a teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce, a half teaspoonful of salt and a half pint of white stock. Set the pan over a moderate fire and simmer for thirty minutes. Dish the sweetbreads. Wash a pint of French peas in cold water, add them to the sauce, let the whole come to a boil, skim all the fat from the surface, and pour the sauce and peas around the sweetbreads.—N. Y. Observer.

Beef Olives.—Cut one and one-half pounds of beef in strips three inches wide and four long. Add to the chopped trimmings and fat, salt, pepper, three tablespoonfuls of cracker powder, one teaspoonful each of sage and savory. Spread on strips, roll up and tie with twine. Roll them in flour. Fry quarter pound till brown, remove it and put olives of beef in the fat. Fry brown, then put in a covered pan. To fat add one tablespoonful of flour and rub smooth. Add one and one-half pints of boiling water. Season to taste, pour over olives and simmer two hours. Cut strings, and pour gravy over dish of olives.—Good Housekeeping.

Graham Shortcake.—One and one-half teaspoonfuls sweet cream, two teaspoonfuls graham flour, two large teaspoonfuls baking powder and one-half teaspoonful salt. Mix lightly together and roll out two round cakes, one-half an inch thick. Lay one on a buttered tin, brush over the top with melted butter and lay the other cake on it. Bake in a quick oven. When done remove the upper layer, spread with butter and then with a layer of sweetened rhubarb, strawberries, or any kind of sweetmeats one has at hand, on both the layers. Eat warm, preferably with cream and sugar, though it is nice without.—Orange Juice Farmer.

Orange Ice Cream.—To make an orange ice cream grate the peel of three Valencia oranges into a pint of boiling milk. Be careful to use only the yellow peel, none of the bitter white peel that lies underneath. Add the juice of the oranges, mixed with a cup of sugar and the yolks of six eggs. Stir the boiling milk gradually into the eggs. It must not curdle. Add a pint of perfectly fresh cream, and if the mixture is not a good yellow a drop or two of the yellow French coloring liquid used by confectioners and caterers. These vegetable colorings are perfectly safe, and often add considerably to the appearance of the dish. Freeze the ice cream as usual, and dish it out in little round forms, about the size of small oranges.—Boston Budget.

A Unique Motive Power.

Accounts come from Germany that Krupp, the famous gun maker, is now building a number of experimental engines to test a novel idea. According to Hardware, a German inventor has taken patents on the utilization of the general principle that finely divided carbonaceous matter floating in the air readily explodes. He proposes to grind coal to an impalpable powder, and after introducing the dust floating in the air into the cylinder of an engine, explode it, the idea being to follow very much the same lines which are being so thoroughly developed in the use of gas in engine practice. Naturally, the first question which has risen has been how to get rid of the ash. Krupp is reported to have stated that his experience in gun manufacture convinces him that this is not a serious obstacle. The advantages which would grow out of a direct utilization of mineral fuel as mined are very obvious. While modern practice converts only 10 to 15 per cent. of the heat energy stored in coal into power at the crank shaft of a steam engine, it is believed that no less than 75 to 80 per cent. could be made available by the direct combustion of fuel through explosion of coal dust.—Mechanical News.

An Alligator's Nest.

Alligator's nests resemble hatched more than anything else to which they can be compared. They average about four feet in height and about five feet in diameter, and are constructed of grasses and herbage. First the mother 'gator deposits one layer of eggs on a mortar-like floor, and having covered this with a stratum of mud and herbage about eight inches thick, lays another set of eggs upon that, and so on to the top, there being commonly from 100 to 200 eggs in a nest. With their tails the parents then beat down the tall grass and weeds, to prevent the approach of unseen enemies. The female watches her eggs until they are hatched by the heat of the sun, and then takes her brood under her own care, defending them and providing for their subsistence. Dr. Lutzenburg, of New Orleans, once packed one of these nests for shipment to St. Petersburg, but the young hatched out before they were started on the long voyage, and were kept about the doctor's premises, running all over the house, up and down stairs, whining like young puppies.—Harrison's Monthly.

The Best Medicine.

J. O. WILSON, Contractor and Builder, Sulphur Springs, Texas, thus speaks of Ayer's Pills:

"Ayer's Pills are the best medicine I ever tried; and, in my judgment, no better general remedy could be devised. I have used them in my family and recommended them to my friends and employes for more than twenty years. To my certain knowledge, many cases of the following complaints have been completely and by the use of Ayer's Pills alone: Third day chills, dumb ague, bilious fever, sick headache, rheumatism, flux, dyspepsia, constipation, and hard colds. I know that a moderate use of Ayer's Pills, continued for a few days or weeks, as the nature of the complaint required, would be found an absolute cure for the disorders I have named above."

"I have been selling medicine for eight years, and I can safely say that Ayer's Pills give better satisfaction than any other Pill I ever sold."—J. J. Perry, Spottsylvania C. H., Va.
