The Hess re-union will be held this year on Thursday, August 10th. It is quite probable that Oak Grove, Bloomsburg will be chosen as the place for the assemblage. The committee seems to be unanimous in its choice of the place. Efforts are being made to make the occasion the most interesting of any of its three predecessors.

While the boys were standing in line in front of Gidding & Salsburg's on the Fourth waiting for their fire crackers, C. G. Duffy, the photographer, took a photograph of them.

THE NATION'S BIRTHDAY

How the Fourth Was Celebrated in Many Places.

AN IMMENSE CROWD AT THE FAIR

Ringling Speeches Made by Vice-President Stephenson and Others—Enthusiastic People Enjoy the Exercises—Gen. Davis' Washington Elm Gavel.

WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS, CHICAGO, July 5.—The national holiday started out to chronicle the largest attendance since the opening of the World's Fair. The special rates given by all railroads attracted many thousands of visitors from the surrounding States, and the general cessation of business in the city gave Chicagoans an opportunity to come out in full force.

By 9 o'clock about 100,000 people were on the grounds, and shortly after mid-day this number was more than doubled.

At 11 o'clock a dense throng of thousands filled the enclosure between the Administration Building and Terminal station, and the arrival of each person of prominence was greeted by cheers.

Shortly after 10 o'clock Mayor Harrison and the city officials and common council of Chicago entered the grounds in carriages led by the Second Regiment of the Illinois National Guards. Inside the gates a large crowd of exhibitors and visitors was drawn up in double columns under the command of Major Pangborn as Chief Marshal. After a somewhat popular greeting Mayor Harrison and his party proceeded directly to the stair near the terminal station and were seated with the national commissioners, directors and chiefs of departments.

Director-General George R. Davis opened the ceremonies in a few words appropriate to the day, and Rev. John Henry Barrows, of Chicago, followed in prayer.

Great applause greeted Vice-President Stephenson as he stepped forward to deliver the opening address.

He spoke of the great assemblage and auspiciousness of the place for celebrating Independence Day, and was glad of the honor of addressing the assembly.

An applause such as can only be given by a throng of over 150,000 people followed the address.

A chorus of 2,000 voices then sang "Columbia the Gem of the Ocean."

The Hon. Carter H. Harrison, of Chicago was the next speaker. He was given a greeting by the multitude that was quite as hearty and enthusiastic as that accorded Vice-President Stephenson and the crowd listened attentively to all that he had to say. He welcomed the tens of thousands of visitors from every State in the Union and every country on the face of the earth and told of the untiring energy Chicago had displayed in building the great exposition. He dwelt at length on the celebration of the Fourth of July and spoke of the reason for observing it.

Mayor Harrison was frequently interrupted by applause during his speech, and at the close the shouts and cheers of the vast multitude was such that it fairly made the ground tremble.

The Hon. Hampton L. Carson, of Philadelphia, made an address following Mayor Harrison. Then there was a salute of the flags and "Old Glory" was given one of the grandest greetings it has ever received. The great chorus struck up the "Star Spangled Banner" and the enthusiastic throng quickly caught up the tune and swelled the grandeur of the soul-stirring song. The effect was sublime.

The "Declaration of Independence" was read by J. S. Norton, of Chicago, and during the reading the great audience maintained a respectful and attentive silence. "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," was sung, and again the crowd took up the song and carried it through to the end. The exercises were concluded by the singing of the doxology.

A pleasing incident occurred when Director-General Davis took his seat on the platform. Col. C. H. Clarke, of Milwaukee, stepped forward and presented him a gavel made from a piece of the famous Washington Elm at Cambridge, Mass. In presenting the gavel Col. Clarke said: "Director-General Davis, 118 years ago, Washington arrived at Cambridge, Mass., drew his sword and took command of the Continental army under the tree now known as the Washington Elm. I take pleasure in presenting you with a gavel for this morning's services made from the wood of that now famous tree."

At the stroke of noon the Paul Jones flag was hoisted and the electric button dedicating the New Liberty Bell now in the foundry at Troy, N. Y., was pressed by Mrs. Madge Morris Wagner and Miss Minnie F. Mickleby, of San Diego, Cal.

AT THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

The Day Celebrated Upon an Unusually Extensive Scale.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Celebration of the Fourth of July at the national capital was upon an unusually extensive scale this year. It opened with religious services at Epiphany church, conducted by Rev. Dr. McKim, in the presence of the Sons of the Revolution, Sons of the American Revolution, and Daughters of the Revolution. Then the three societies proceeded to the grounds of the Washington Monument, where, after the reading of the Declaration of Independence, two speeches were made, interspersed with music.

While these exercises were being held the "Oldest Inhabitants" were entertaining the "veteran firemen" at Willard's Hall, after which they sat down to dinner at Willard's hotel, followed by patriotic speeches in response to toasts.

The most elaborate celebration was that conducted by the Citizens' association of Mount Pleasant, in the northern part of the city, which lasted all day, closing with a display of fireworks in the evening. It was held at Ingleside, the manor grounds of Col. Corckhill.

Nick Young, president of the National Baseball League, umpired a game between the bachelors and bachelorettes.

In the afternoon speeches and the reading of the Declaration of Independence were the order.

Other societies observed the day in a formal manner. Among them Wladau-His, with a programme containing only India, and the colored order of the Odd Fellows.

Athletics at the various parks attracted large crowds, and races between local horses at Bennings provided sport for lovers of the turf.

Business, of course, was suspended in all the departments of government service and in the commercial world generally; and the weather was all that could be desired, and everybody who could do so found his way into the open air.

CORNER OF MARKET AND MAIN STREETS, BLOOMSBURG.

D. P. Crossley, an old resident of Benton, died on Wednesday. He had been sick for a long time.

A lot of new notes of the sharpest kind have just been printed and are for sale at this office. Also common receipts, estate receipts, and collectors' receipts, neatly bound in books of 25, 50 and 100.

Hon. Theodore Runyon, recently appointed Minister of the United States to Berlin, is a cousin of our townsman, Mr. Layton Runyon.

The August Number of Harper's Magazine will contain a large amount of fiction. Besides a story by Richard Harding Davis, called "His Bad Angel," and a one-act play by Mr. W. D. Howells, entitled "Bride Roses," there will be short stories by Herbert Ward, F. Mary Wilson, and Mrs. E. Levi Brown. The last-named writer, who is the wife of a colored minister in the South, has constructed a tale of unusual power out of the superstitions of her race. It presents a view of the Southern negro from the stand point of a more intimate and sympathetic knowledge than has belonged to previous writers in this field.

Ignorance of the merits of DeWitt's Little Early Risers is a misfortune. These little pills regulate the liver, cure headache, dyspepsia, bad breath, constipation and biliousness. W. S. Rishton, Druggist. 10-14-15.

The Bishop and the Profane Man.

From the San Francisco Wave. "Can't spot the place, but I've seen you before. Where in h— did I know you, anyhow?" asked a Californian on meeting the Bishop at a San Francisco auction in a very unclerical garb. "I cannot say," retorted the ecclesiastical dignitary, "what part of hell are you from?"

This is the time of year when everybody begins to think about cleaning up and making improvements, and new wall paper is usually one of the first things to be done. W. H. Brooke & Co. have a very large & elegant stock to select from. Call and see and get estimates. 3-31-15.

Just for a Change.

Ownhouse.—"Talk about your female Amazons. I ran across a woman up in the country last Summer who made one hundred pounds of butter in one day without turning a hair."

Boardliv.—"Without turning a hair! Say, would you mind dropping in and telling that story to my landlady. 'Mebbe she'll take a notion to try some of that butter."

If you can afford to be annoyed by sick headache and constipation, don't use DeWitt's Little Early Risers for these little pills will cure them. W. S. Rishton, Druggist. 10-14-15.

The storm in Sugarloaf township on Monday was a terrific one. Besides S. S. Fritz's barn, the lightning struck in six other places in that vicinity, burning trees, but injuring no other buildings. Mr. Fritz lost all that was in the barn except the horses. A number of new sheds recently erected were not covered by the insurance of $400. His loss is three times that amount.

A Great Bargain.

One of the very best water power flour and grist mills on big Fishing-creek with good buildings, new machinery, two dwellings, and other out buildings all in good order, and nine acres of land for sale cheap on easy payments by J. H. MAIZE, Insurance and Real Estate Agt., 3-31-15. Bloomsburg, Pa.

They All Try.

Night Editor (of New England paper)—Has the editorial correspondence from Chicago got in yet?

Telegraph Editor—It's on the wire now.

"How does it begin?"

"The glories of the great Columbian exposition are simply indescribable!" Shouting to foreman through speaking tube. "Save about three columns for description of Chicago fair!"

We could not improve the quality if paid double the price. DeWitt's Little Early Risers is the best Salve that experience can produce, or that money can buy. W. S. Rishton, druggist. 10-14-15.

A CHANCE OF THE SEASON.

A great many of our Dear Readers have probably put off buying your Summer Suit, Pants, or whatever it is in the Clothing line. You kept saying: "Well, I'll wait a few days—those few days have stretched into weeks and still you haven't bought. Well, to you folks, we mean those who haven't bought, we have this to say:—You didn't get your Clothing quite as early as your neighbor but you have the advantage of saving some money. That's what we're going to do for you. We do not want to carry one suit over until next season. That's the way we do business. We'll clean them out at any cost even at a sacrifice. We are now selling regular Ten, Twelve and Fourteen Dollar Suits for Eight and Ten Dollars each. Single Pants, regular Three, Four and Five Dollar ones at a great deal less.
