TUESDAY, AUG. 29.

The tanneries of Lyman Smith Sons and Winslow Brothers, of Norwood, Mass., are to be shut down soon, owing to the stringency in the money market. At both places they have plenty of business and could run full time, if it were possible to get currency to pay off the hands employed. Wages will certainly be reduced on the Union Pacific. General Manager Dickinson, at a conference with switchmen has plainly told them that on September 1 there would be a general reduction of at least 10 per cent. The men demurred and argued the matter, but finally went home. It is not thought that they will strike. Prince Bismarck complains that rheumatism is again troubling him.

Good Bob White.

The male quail, or "Bob White," deserves honorable mention among gallinaceous birds because he is particularly good to his wife. He always helps her to hatch her eggs, and if anything keeps her away will take the whole duty on himself. This is particularly attested by a writer quoted by Capt. Bendire in his "Life Histories of North American Birds." He says: "In June, 1886, while I was on a visit to Dr. J. M. Pickett, of Cedarville, Ala., he informed me of having seen a male Bob White incubating. He had visited the nest at various times on different days, and always found the male bird on the nest. Wishing to be an eye-witness of so interesting a sight, I rode several miles with the doctor to the nest. There we found Bob White faithfully warming his treasures, but not into life; the eggs were never hatched. Dr. Pickett frequently went to the nest until long after the period of incubation had elapsed, and finding that the eggs would not hatch, he destroyed them, to prevent the useless occupation of the nest by the male. The female had probably been dead some hours before the male found the nest deserted; hence the eggs cooled and would not hatch."

A Strange Lake in Africa.

Lake Assal, one of the finest salt lakes in the world, in the district of Obock, East Africa, only a few miles from the head of the Bay of Tadjoutah has been bought by Mr. Chefeux from the French government. All along the edge of the lake, which comprises only sixteen square miles is a bed of nearly pure salt about a foot in thickness. The water of the lake is so surcharged with salt that it is impossible to sink in it. The bottom is apparently a bed of solid salt. The heavy waters have the base of jagged and precipitous mountains which descend to the edge of the lake, making it almost impossible to travel around it. Mr. Chefeux will probably carry on his work by floating machinery on the lake and dredging in the salt bed at its bottom.

Governor Pattison has issued a pardon to E. P. Wilkinson, of Wilkesbarre, convicted in Luzerne county in June, 1889, of murder in the second degree and sentenced to five years in the Eastern penitentiary. Wilkinson had served four years in the army when a mere boy and was always a reputable citizen. For a number of years he was an ardent worker in the temperance cause and was most active in his opposition to granting licenses in that section of the city of Wilkesbarre in which he resided. In March, 1889, he attended the inauguration of President Harrison as a member of the National Guard. While there he got drunk and continued in occasional indulgence of liquor. On April 29, 1889, while going home drunk he was teased by a number of young men, and drawing his revolver he shot and killed Thomas Gallagher, aged nineteen years. He was convicted of murder in the second degree and sentenced to five years' imprisonment. His term would have expired in September and the pardon board believes he has been sufficiently punished.

The reputation of being a good fellow never helped a man at a bank.

Paradoxical as it may seem, it is always to a man's credit to pay cash.

It ought to give promise of rest to a standing army to be ordered to the seat of war.

Some liubs of the law never braced out.

Another Letter to Women. May 25, '92, Syracuse, N. Y.

"Dear Madam: I want to tell you what your Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash have done for me.

"I was so bad with falling of the womb and Leucorrhœa that I could not stand.

"I had doctored so much without benefit I was entirely discouraged. I expected to die.

"One evening I read in the 'Herald' about your medicine. I got some, and took 2 bottles of the Compound, and used one of the Sanative Wash.

"I am now well and strong, am never troubled with either of the complaints. If more women would use your Compound, there would be less suffering in the world."—Mrs. Ida Casler, 126 Olive St.
