A GREAT OFFER.

THE COLUMBIAN AND WEEKLY WORLD FOR $1.50.

For several years past we have been offering THE COLUMBIAN and New York Weekly World for $1.50 a year. A new arrangement has just been effected by which we are enabled to reduce the price, and for a short time only subscriptions will be received at the remarkably low figure of $1.50 for the two papers. The regular price for each paper is $1.00 a year. Don't let this splendid opportunity pass. Sample copies of either or both papers will be sent to any one free, on request. Old subscribers who are in arrears will be expected to pay the amount due to date to avail themselves of this offer.

THE COLUMBIAN. Entrance through Well's Jewelry Store, next to Post Office.

Get a 15c. tie at Lowenberg's.

We could not improve the quality if paid double the price. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the best Salve that experience can produce, or that money can buy. W. S. Rishton, Druggist. 10-14-1y.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

Interesting Items From Various Points in the County, Reported by Our Staff of Correspondents

FORKS.

J. M. Ammerman is making some improvements to his store property.

H. W. Garra, came near being killed last week by a miscalculation of distance, while crossing the B. & S. trestling near E. M. Laubach's. He had started to the post office, and was returning for his umbrella, when, it being very dark, thinking he was to the end of the trestling he turned to go down the road, but instead, fell down over the side of the trestle, a distance of about ten feet, striking on his head and shoulders, receiving several bad cuts about the head.

Mrs. Jones of Asbury, lost a horse with distemper last week.

A steam saw mill has moved in on the Kink tract near here, and will commence operations at once.

Miss Hattie Edgar has been teaching the Forks school for the past week for S. J. Pealer.

Alfred Evedand will exhibit a fine colt at the Bloomsburg fair this week.

The buckwheat crop this year is measured by the load. A load of straw to about six acres is the average. Farm hands are exceedingly scarce in this section.

E. M. Laubach has graded his lawn.

CENTRAL.

The news from this section I will relate as have occurred within the last week.

Rev. A. Houtz and wife went to Elk Grove to hold a meeting on Wednesday evening last. When coming home his lantern went out shortly after starting home, and in going across the bridge over Peterman run, the horse walked off the bridge, upset the wagon. Rev. Houtz and wife went back for help. When he came back the horse was dead, but fortunately Mr. Houtz and wife came out without scarcely any injury to either of them.

The church at Jamison City under the contractor Mr. Chas. Krug, is going up finely. The work looks first class, and will be a great improvement to the city.

I also see in your paper that J. F. Lamson was appointed Post Master at Pine Summit, and many thought it was Mr. Lamson that lives at Central which is not the case. Mr. Lamson is busy here as a painter and has no desire to go to Pine Summit.

J. W. Perry is pushing his building at Elk Grove for a large three story hotel, which mention will be given some future time.

All living in this place seem to be busy at their various occupations.

The Tannery will soon start in operation again. The new stack 125 feet high is completed.

Chestnuts, beech and butternuts are ripe and the mountains are putting forth their beautiful foliage.

Elegant ties for 15c. at Lowenberg's

G. W. Sterner handles nice shell oysters.

Creasy & Wells have a fine exhibit of lumber of all kinds at the Fair.

When your blood is impoverished the remedy is at hand. Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Beware of pickpockets during the fair. Last year a number of people lost money by them.

We go to press too early to give a full report of the fair. Next week a complete account will appear.

Little Tycoon, Bloomsburg Opera House, Friday, October 13th, by a company of 40 people.

The county commissioners of Sullivan county are having the old court house at Laporte torn down, it having been condemned by the grand jury.

W. H. Moore's large and attractive store, corner of Main and Iron, is a scene of activity these days. He has a fine stock and the people know it.

The public can always be accommodated with good horses, easy carriages, and drivers when wanted, at Winner & Derr's livery.

To make the hair grow a natural color, prevent baldness, and keep the scalp healthy, Hall's Hair Renewer was invented, and has proved itself successful.

Since the inauguration of the new marriage license law in 1893, there has been 2260 marriage licenses granted in Columbia County. During the same time 4000 licenses were granted in Chester County.

The audience that will greet The Little Tycoon on Friday night will be one of the best that has gathered in the Opera House for a long time. The Opera is a charming one, and the company is first-class. Reserved seats are filling rapidly.

One of the parties who broke into the depot at D. L. & W. railroad, has been captured. He was taken before Guy Jacoby, Esq., who committed him to jail to await trial at December term of Court. He is a colored man.

Send in the news. We want to hear from every township in the county. Too many people fail to inform the papers of what is going on in their several communities, but they can find time to blame the editor for not knowing what nobody tells him.

One of the largest exhibits at the Bloomsburg Fair will be specimens of bread made from flour of the Benton Milling Co. The company offered a special prize to the one baking the finest bread from this flour, and a 50 pound sack of flour to all who entered the contest.

L. T. Sharpless has put a new roof on his store building. This ought to be a success; it is his third attempt, the two former ones were flat roofs, and would not keep out the rain. The present roof is steep, insuring absolute protection from all storms.

DURING FAIR—Best Photographs and Crayons at M'Killip Bros.

C. H. Reice has put a new sign in front of his meat market. It was made by Vannatta.

One of J. R. Schuyler's show windows is artistically arranged with a representation of Arbutus Park, including the creek and the B. & S. railroad. It is the work of an artist, and attracts much attention.

A peculiar case of runaway was experienced in Philadelphia last week. A strand was broken in the cable, and the grip becoming entangled could not be released. The car was only released when word was telegraphed and the cable stopped. Many were injured in jumping from the car while running away.

MARKSMEN'S BADGES.

In the show window at J. H. Mercer's drug store may be seen two handsome gold badges. They are intended as prizes for the most successful pigeon shooters in Columbia County, and will be presented by the Bloomsburg Gun Club. A match will be arranged soon, at which the prizes will be awarded. The badges are beauties, and there will be a lively contest for them.

All that honesty, experience and skill can do to produce a perfect pill, has been employed in making DeWitt's Little Early Risers. The result is a specific for sick headache, biliousness and constipation. W. S. Rishton, Druggist. 10-14-1y.

A Sad Accident.

White Rose, wife of White Bull, a chief of the Iroquois tribe, traveling with Boyden's Wild West Show, was killed at the Fair Grounds Thursday morning about eleven o'clock. A race was on and her horse, going at a rapid gait, swerved from his course to go through one of the openings in the railing around the course. She checked him too suddenly and losing her balance was hurled against a post. Blood gushed from her nose and mouth, and never speaking, she was dead in half an hour. She was about 23 years of age.

This death calls attention to the necessity for a continuous fence around the race course. Each of the openings are temptation to a horse to leave the track and endanger the life of the rider or driver.—Berkish Independent.

Ignorance of the merits of DeWitt's Little Early Risers is a misfortune. These little pills regulate the liver, cure headache, dyspepsia, bad breath, constipation and biliousness. W. S. Rishton, Druggist. 10-14-1y.

Swamps Filled With Bodies.

STORM SURVIVORS URGENTLY IN NEED OF RELIEF.

The news from every section of Louisiana stricken by the storm makes it safe to estimate the loss of life at fully 2,000, while millions of dollars' worth of property was destroyed. Besides that, thousands of people have been deprived of means of making a livelihood. The situation is appalling, but New Orleans is doing all it can to relieve the thousands in want.

Dr. Story, Coroner of Plaquemine parish, has made the following report: "A good many carloads of provisions and clothing have been sent, but not near enough. Men, women and children are without food and clothing. They have become so desperate that they have threatened to attack the stores and steal food. Single graves for the dead were impossible. Great trenches were dug and bodies were piled in one on top of the other."

"I do not think I exaggerate the facts when I state that at least 2,500 souls were ushered into eternity by the recent storm in Louisiana. I never saw bodies decompose so rapidly as those of the storm-sufferers which were viewed by me. This was due to the fact that the fish and crabs in the bayous eat the remains. I believe firmly that the marshes and other places are filled with human forms."

"There can be no doubt of the fact that this is conducive to an epidemic of fever, or even cholera. If one case of the latter disease should develop it would spread through the country like wildfire, but nothing can be done to prevent this."

The relief party which set out from Biloxi tells an awful story of the destitution and loss of life in the Louisiana marshes. The marshes are filled with dead and putrefying bodies, in very few cases the corpses being recognizable. The number of lives lost on those marshes will never be known. The territory covered was a distance of 200 miles. The only sign of life seen in the marsh was one raccoon and it was floating on a log.

Captain Julian Lefort, the leading spirit among the survivors of the Cheniere Camanada, places the number of saved at 300. The population of the island and the bayous immediately connected with it was slightly more than 1,500. He says the island will be abandoned as a habitation of man. Grand Isle and Cheniere-deur will also be abandoned.

The fastest record on a bicycle is 1 mile in a minute and 58 1/2 seconds. The fastest record of a horse is 2:04.
