FRIDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1893.

The President's message to Congress is printed in full on an inside page.

William F. Harry is being urged to accept the nomination as candidate for congressman-at-large to succeed the late General Lilly. A special election will be ordered by the Governor.

The Lehigh Valley strike is over, and both sides claim the victory. The public is more interested in the resumption of traffic on that road than they are in the question of who won the fight.

Congress convened in regular session on Monday. The President's message was read, and a resolution to investigate the trouble on the Lehigh Valley railroad went over under objection. The deaths of Charles O'Neill and General Lilly were announced and the House adjourned.

THE WAY THE REPUBLICANS DO IT.

At the recent November election the republicans made a clean sweep of all the county offices in Northumberland county. It was the first for many years, and see how they profit by it. There was a meeting at Sunbury recently of the leading republican politicians of the county to discuss who should be the ones to be appointed to do the clerical work under the newly elected officials. The following is part of the resolutions adopted:

We believe that the voters expect that everyone appointed be actually identified with the Republican party, and this should be a condition precedent to appointment, nor should any of the present officials be retained.

That a copy of these resolutions be given to each one of the elected officers and also a copy thereof together with the proceedings of the meeting be given to the newspapers of the County for publication.

This is but a type of the republican organizations in every county, state and the national government. They believe in removing democrats and filling their places by republicans, and bestowing favors upon those who are deserving. There is a good lesson in this for the democracy in every county and state, as well as for the general government.

COUNTY BRIDGE AT BLOOM.

law does not apply to Columbia county. The commissioners therefore had the legal right to make the contract for the bridge just as they have done it.

After the bridge is completed an opportunity is given to remedy any wrong that may have been committed. The law provides that "Every bridge erected by the commissioners of any county, or under contract with them, shall be inspected by six persons to be appointed by the court of quarter sessions of the respective county, and report thereof shall be made by them to the said court.

If any such bridge shall be approved by the court, and the same shall have been erected under contract with the commissioners as aforesaid, the money shall be paid agreeably to such contract.

If the persons appointed to inspect any bridge erected by contract as aforesaid, shall not approve of the same, they shall report to the court what sum, in their judgment, ought to be deducted from the sum stipulated in such contract; and thereupon the court shall grant a rule upon the builder or contractor, to be named.

After the service and return of such rule, it shall be lawful for the builder or contractor to file a declaration or statement in the court of common pleas of the respective county, upon the contract made by him with the commissioners aforesaid, and thereupon proceed to trial, in due course, in like manner as if an action had been commenced by him upon such contract, against the county; or, at his election, he may show cause against the said report, and thereupon the court shall determine the matter as justice and equity shall require.

President Cleveland's message to Congress is unusually long, but the number and importance of the subjects with which it deals made it necessary that it should be. Like all of his utterances it is straightforward and to the point and even the republicans admit that it is an able presentation of democratic policy. Tariff reform as embodied in the Wilson bill is commended in language that carries conviction and Congress is earnestly urged to pass the bill at the earliest possible moment in order that the business of the country may be adjusted to the new conditions.

Cured of Scrofula

The People will have Hood's

Mr. Dorman's Experience
 "My boy, now 9 years old, had Scrofula in one eye from the time he was a baby; discharging all the time. Of late we have been giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it has done all that medicine can do. The Scrofula has disappeared, and his eye is healed up and well. I fully believe Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine in the market. I keep a general store, and it is not a trick to sell Hood's Sarsaparilla for the people will have it. I sell more of Hood's Sarsaparilla than all other medicines together and the store would not be complete without it. My wife has also been entirely cured of Scrofula by Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I am heartily thankful for what it has done for us." JOHN DORMAN, Shy Beaver, Pa.
