WORTH MORE THAN A HORSE. Mules Average Higher in Every State of the Union Except Oregon. If nobility may be estimated in dollars the mule is a nobler animal than the borse, says the New York Sun. Yet there are no autumnal mule shows, and even if there were it is hardly probable that flower-adorned young women would make a practice of pat-ting the prize animal. The only way to pat a mule, according to the Texas code, is with a fence rail or a board. The man who collected horse and mule statistics for the census report shows that the average price of a mule is $7 more than the average price of a The ordinary mule in South Carolina, which owns about 55,000 of the long-eared beasts, is worth about $90; the average price of a horse in the same state is about $79. Texas prob-ably has more mules (about 200,000) than any other state. The average price is about $11, or nearly twice the value of a Texas horse. In Missouri mules are worth about $7 more and in Kentucky about $3 more than horses. Only a few states have no mules, or so few that the statistician didn't make a note of them. One of these states is Rhode Island, which the mule driver of Texas doubtless would think is not any too large a pasturage and playground for a festive mule of southern birth. Oregon is the only state where horses bring higher prices than mules. The ordinary mule out there is worth $48 and the horse $51. The figures for California are: Mules, $67; horses, $46. In Pennsylvania, where mules, famous for longevity, are much used in the mines, they bring about $36; horses, $57. In this state there are seventy times as many horses as there are mules, which number about 14,000. A New York mule is worth 891 and a horse $76. Mules are prized more in New Jersey than in any other state, the average price being about $106, or $30 more than horses. Illinois has about 140,000 mules, or more than any other western state.

THE DAY OF DEATH.

Rich and Poor of Paris Join in Honoring the Dead.

The Jour des Morts is observed by the Parisians with great reverence, and it is a touching sight to watch the erowds pressing into the large cemeteries such as Pere Lachaise and Montmartre on the 2d of November, says the Pall Mall Budget. Crowds composed of all classes, all fortunes and all professions, make the same solemn pll-grimage—the rich with their carriages full of the gorgeous wealth of flowers which Paris can produce in such perfection, and the poor with their bunches of violets and chrysanthemums, tokens of love and remembrance of their dead. A few visitors go from a feeling of curiosity or from habit to see the tombs of celebrities which have become national monuments, such as those of Heloise and Abelard, of Eashel, Chopin, Moliere and others in Pere Lachaise, or the tomb of Cardinal Richelieu in the Sorbonne, violated at the time of the revolution, when his mummified head was taken out and sold-or the church of St. Denis where lie so many royalties.

The sale of flowers on this day is enormous; the thousands of visitors to the cemeteries buy in large quantities, and as the chrysanthemum is now the flower of the season, there are masses of them at low prices to be had everywhere-golden, white and red and a fine rose-pink, which color, an old flower-seller said, as a pretext for not having any left, was produced by a dye. Chrysanthemums are becoming every ear more popular in Paris, and the annual show of them has very much improved, though it does not yet equal in magnificence the displays of the same flower in London.

THE APPLE'S MANY VIRTUES. It Is Especially Useful in Renewing Nervous Tissue Chemically the apple is composed of wegetable fiber, albumen, sugar, gum chlorophyl, malic acid, gallic acid, lime and much water, says the North American Practitioner. Furthermore, the German analysts say that the apple contains a larger percentage of phosphorus than any other fruit or vegetable. The phosphorus is admir-ably adapted for renewing the essential nervous matter-legithin-of the brain and spinal cord. It is, perhaps, for the same reason, rudely understood, SATURDAY, JANUARY 20, 1894, that old Scandinavian traditions rep resent the apple as the food of the gods, who, when they felt themselves to be growing feeble and infirm, re-sorted to this fruit, renewing their powers of mind and body.

Also, the acids of the apple are of singular use for men of sedentary habits, whose livers are sluggish in action, those acids serving to eliminate from the body noxious matters, which, if retained, would make the brain heavy and dull, or bring about jaundice or skin cruptions and other allied troubles. Some such experience must have led to the custom of taking apple sauce with roast pork, rich goose, and like dishes. The malle acid of ripe apples, either raw or cooked, will neutralize any excess of chalky matter engendered by enting too much meat. It is also the fact that such ripe fruits as the apple, the pear, and the plumb, when taken ripe and without sugar, diminish acidity in the stomach, rather than provoke it. Their vegetable sauces and juices are converted into counteract ac idity.

The Eyes of Marksmen. Lieut. C. L. Collins, inspector of mall-arms practice in the department of the Colorado, says in his annual report that the competitions in shooting have shown that men with light blue eyes rank highest, followed in their order by dark blue, slate blue, light brown, dark brown and black. In the colored troops light blue eyes again stand at the top. How large a proportion of the colored troops have light blue eyes is not stated in the published abstract of his report. Tall men shoot more accurately than short ### 1894. Harper's Weekly.

Harre's Weekly is beyond all question the leading journal in America. In it's spiendid illustrations, in its corps of distinguished contributors, and in its vast army of readers. In special lines, it draws on the bighest order of talent, the men best fitted by position and training to treat the leading toptes of the day. In fiction, the most popular story-writers contribute to its column. Superb drawings by the foremost artists illustrate its special articles, its stories, and every notable event of public interest; it contains portraits of the distinguished men and women who are making the history of the time, while special attention is given to the Army and Navy, Amateur sport, and Music and the Drama, by distinguished experts. In a word, Harrey's Weekly combines the news features of the distip paper and the artistic and literary qualities of the magazine with the solid critical character of the review.
