of Venango County.

JAMES DENTON HANCOCK.

The right of appeal from the settlement of the county auditors is given by law to any persons who are aggrieved thereby or think that injustice has been done, or a fraud committed, and any lawyer will tell them how to proceed, or they can ascertain for themselves by consulting the proper law books. It has been suggested that the present board of commissioners should appeal from the recent settlement as now published, but as they have been so freshly inducted into office, and are as yet not sure of any occasion for an appeal it has been suggested from another source that the proper person to appeal is some expert in figures who has given the statement careful study.

TOWNSHIP NOMINATIONS.

The new ballot law of 1893 was intended to remedy some of the defects in the act of 1891, and in many respects it has done so, and as soon as all its provisions become known by the people it will work smoothly and satisfactorily. Some defective papers have been filed in the commissioners' office, nominating township officers in certain districts. R. S. Bowman, of Berwick, filed nomination papers for Justice of the Peace without naming the party of which he is a member, as the law requires. Nomination papers from Berwick, the four Conynghams, Beaver, Mt. Pleasant, Centre and Hemlock contain two inspectors on each paper, which is a mistake, as each voter can vote for but one inspector, and their nomination must be made with separate papers. Absence of instructions on the blanks on this point led to this.
The people who signed them cannot be blamed for falling into this error, but it should be borne in mind hereafter. Several papers do not name the party policy. The commissioners have power to permit the correction of errors by the persons filing the papers any time before the tickets are printed.
There are no serious errors, and all of the small ones will probably be corrected.

The report of Dun's Mercantile Agency for February 3rd, says a fresh impulse has been given to business this week by the success of the Treasury in obtaining gold for its reserve, thus strengthening confidence in its ability to maintain gold payments.
Revenue had fallen off so much, and the prospects for the loan looked so unfavorable, until financial institutions here decided to carry it through, that some anxiety about the monetary future was natural. Investments in the ordinary sense have been affected very little, and while more demand for time loans has appeared, the money market cannot be expected to change much with $245,000,000 cash in the banks and more coming from the interior, while the Treasury also is compelled to pay out more than it now receives in taxes. Gradual improvement in business explains the appearance of more commercial paper in the market this week than has been seen for a long time, though as yet the vast accumulation of idle funds is proof enough that trade has by no means regained normal proportions. Industrial recovery continues, though, it is but gradual, in response to the demand of a people whose consumption at its lowest is greater than that of any other country, and more mills are now at work.

THAT INCOME TAX.

There seems to be in certain quarters a decided opposition to an income tax. Why this should be so, I am at a loss to understand. Of course those who will be directly affected by it, will very naturally feel inclined to denounce it. But that the plan should and opponents among those who are at present paying more than their just share of tax, and would to a greater or less extent be relieved by an income tax, is one of the strange things in this strange world of ours.

If such tax would work an injustice to any class of our citizens, all honest men should and no doubt would oppose it. The injustice has heretofore been, that those persons having large incomes have not been taxed proportionally as high as their less favored neighbors whose income has been much less. I presume it would not be difficult to find men with an income of five thousand dollars and over, whose tax bill is not so great as some others whose income is less than one-fifth of that amount. It is a fact beyond controversy, that the poorer class of people pay more tax in proportion to their ability, than the more wealthy class. This is an injustice, that will be only partially overcome by the proposed income tax. It will, however, be a step in the right direction.

One objection raised against the income tax is, that it will be evaded.
False returns will be made as to the amount of their respective incomes.
If they are put under oath, it will lead to perjury.

Well, there is a number of people in the world, who are of the opinion that wealthy men are not always honest. It would be a little strange if they were all strictly honest. There are some who are not very wealthy, who need a little watching. There is a goodly number, perhaps a majority of people, who regard taxes of any kind as a burden that may justly or properly be evaded. And those people are not confined to any one class.

If the objection to an income tax that unscrupulous men are likely to evade it, is a valid one, why not apply it to all forms of taxation. Men frequently return a less number of acres of land than they own, and cut down on the age of their horses and cattle to avoid paying taxes on them. Money lenders forget to return their money at interest. Importers frequently attempt and sometimes succeed in smuggling to avoid the tariff.

Why not put down all modes of taxation that designing men can take advantage of? Let us have a system of taxation that will hit the rogue as hard as the honest man. If such a system is unattainable, let us have a system that will divide the burden as equitably as possible between honest men with large incomes and those in more moderate circumstances.

I favor an income tax for two reasons. One is that it draws upon those who are most able to pay it, and have hitherto not had their full share of the burden. The other is purely a selfish one, viz, I will never be bothered with it. The wish is not father to the thought this time. I sincerely wish that I had an income sufficient to place me in that list of taxables.

The EMERSON PIANO.

These instruments have enjoyed a high reputation for more than forty years. Are Brilliant and Musical in Tone, and afford a most beautiful accompaniment to vocal music—the tone having that rare sympathetic quality which blends admirably with the human voice. They are durable, being constructed of the best Material, by the Most Skillful Workmen.
They have earned an especial reputation for Keeping in Tune, and also for retaining in a most remarkable degree their original fullness of tone—never growing thin or wiry with age.
The Emerson Upright Pianos especially have obtained a remarkable success during the past few years, and have invariably received a high award wherever exhibited. In all the essential qualities of a First-Class Instrument they are second to no pianos manufactured in the country. Send for illustrated Catalogue to the Emerson Piano Company, 116 Boylston St., Boston, Mass.
