Senator Hill, catering to the most powerful political and financial influence of this country, declared upon the floor of the Senate that the income tax feature of the tariff bill is intended to make the Democratic party the tail of the populist kite.

Whether Democratic prospects are benefitted or injured will depend more upon what is said and done by the party as a party than upon the length or brevity of the present session of Congress. We might also add that things left undone that should be done, and things done that should not be done, may seriously affect Democracy for better or for worse between this and next election.

It seems that Coxe, the pious captain of the Commonwealth army, has a continuous fluctuation from feast to famine as he goes marching on. If subjected to harsh treatment at one point he is reported as being feasted and in a measure lionized at the next. Its pretty hard to tell just what the effect of the Coxe movement upon the Capitol will have until the advance guard gets out of jail.

THE AMBIGUOUS BAKER BALLOT LAW.

Among the ill effects resulting from the ambiguity of the 36 sections of the Baker Ballot Law are the many misunderstandings from the opening of the polls clear through to the return of the judges from making their returns at the county seat.

At McKeesport, for instance, the sovereign power wanted to witness the count of the votes, and being denied this sacred privilege, they proceeded to assert their power by breaking the door down while the election board was in executive session piously counting off. Upon being prosecuted for this undue outburst of patriotism, the grand jury ignored the bill and informed all concerned that these sovereigns were acting entirely within their rights as citizens; that they had legal right to be present (outside the guard rail) and within sight, and hearing of the election board, until the very last vote was counted. This right is not only clearly conveyed by the law, but it should be fondly caressed by the soverign power, in its zealous care for a secret ballot and an honest count.

Considering the fact that you can screw the whole top off of the Baker Ballot box when it is loaded and supposed to be locked and securely sealed, it is all the more imperative that somebody watches the ballots go in the refrigerator. We mention this fact because we want to advertise it in the interest of the sovereign power.

Up through the centre of the Baker ballot-box runs an innocent iron rod upon the end of which a thread is cut.
Just turn the top of the box so that the thread on this rod catches on, or uncatches—just as you wish—and you have it locked or unlocked at pleasure.
You can do all this without touching a lock or breaking a seal, for they only lock and seal the little aperture through which the ballots are dropped into the box. The whole top of the box, locks and all, may be unscrewed and taken off at any time by any body, by a simple turn of the wrist. That's the kind of secret ballot this particular ballot-box contains.

And the ambiguous terms of the law in regard to what shall be returned by the Judge of election and what retained in the ballot-box causes further confusion, even to a well-meaning and patriotic judge.

The confidence that people have in Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a blood medicine is the legitimate and natural growth of many years. It has been handed down from parent to child, and is the favorite family medicine in thousands of households.

THE NEW PUBLIC PRINTER.

Thomas E. Benedict, of Albany, New York, the Public Printer under President Cleveland's former administration, seems to have filled the office so well that the President has again appointed him out of a host of other anxious applicants.

The anxiety of the applicants for this particular place is because of the lusciousness of the plum, so to speak.

There was a time when this office was among the best gifts within the hands of the President, because of the heavy purchases and contracts within the control or sanction of the Public Printer.

Whatever of value may since have been taken from his control by the House and Senate committees on printing, there are still some perqui-sities besides a snug salary attaching to the office, and hence the anxiety of applicants.

For prudential reasons, no doubt, the President deferred his naming of the man for this important office until just recently.

There being some 3,000 employees engaged under the Public Printer, at rates somewhat higher than printers make elsewhere, and not being under the jurisdiction of the civil service laws controlling the clerical departments, the office requires no doubt discrete and conservative handling on the part of the Public Printer who would serve his country and his party well.

THE TARIFF TALK.

It is intimated that there may be tariff talk continued until June next.
On the 3d instant Senator Allison opened the obstructive side of the debate. It is said, however, that the Democrats may cut it short. Should they do so at once it would still be long enough. In fact the tariff has been an open question as far back as we can remember, and it is likely to continue as much longer spasmodically, just for want of something better upon which our statesmen and students of political economy can fight their battles for power and pelf. However, we think the growing tendency, or abiding effect of the everlasting tariff discussion, is to brake down selfish barriers, whether of a national or international character, and that in the fulness of time much freer trade will prevail, under some other name perhaps, in spite of all persistent effort towards monopoly, and all so-called patriotic argument along these lines.

We predict that the farmer will figure more extensively and more importantly in politics in the future than in the past, and as a happy result of this, more equitable laws will be passed in his favor, both of a national and international character. And such laws will be apt to encourage a more general leveling up of profits at home and abroad.

This surely is a consummation devoutly to be sought at a time when the general out-cry is against our prevailing monopolistic commercial conditions.

If high protective tariff is indeed the desideratum, then the voice of the people (which is frequently called the voice of God) spoke very loudly and very wrongly against the wicked old champion of high protection—the ousted Republican party. High protection cannot therefore be the thing altogether lovely with the voters.

VIGILANCE THE PRICE OF LIBERTY.

It would seem from recent events in South Carolina that the individual dealers in liquors rather object to State dispensaries. In view of the money there is in the business, this is quite natural. So also does the Western Union Telegraph Company object to the Governments taking control of all telegraph wires. And likewise, we presume, the railroad companies would make a fight for their rights and individual property if the Government were to attempt to rectify abuses by taking charge of all railroad business in the country. Just what power belongs of right to the executive force of our free institutions and what should under the Constitution be reserved and vigilantly guarded by the people, the writer is obliged to leave in the hands of our Constitutional lawyers and statesmen, while reserving the personal right of his individual opinion. Some one well up in statesmanship has said "They are governed best who are governed least." That's about our notion.

Straight From The East.

A Sultan of Turkey once said, As he groaned at the pain in his head,
"Oh, my favorite wife, I am sick of this life,
And I wish very much I were dead."
But his wife, who was wise, answered "Fie!
If you will I'll give you Pellets but try.
You'll be well in a week—
And then you will speak Of these Pellets with praise just as high." Dr. Pierce's Pellets cost only 25 cents and they are guaranteed to cure all the troubles which spring from constipation, indigestion, and bilious attacks. If you have any of these troubles, why don't you follow the example of the Sultan of Turkey?

All Hope Given Up—But Hood's Sarsaparilla Gives Perfect Health.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass."
"Dear Sirs:—I had been a sufferer for nearly three years and had doctored during that time, but without avail. I had given up all hope of ever recovering my health. At times I would rather have died than lived, but now I am thankful that I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for I am now as sound as a dollar. I was afflicted with Typhoid Fever, and an abscess formed on my right side above the fourth rib. The strange part about this was the fact that it did not open for six months after it appeared, although it pained me continually.
After it broke it became a running sore and I was compelled to wear a bandage all the time.
The doctors told me the only way it could be cured was to have an operation performed and I had used three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla."

and have the ribs taken out, claiming that I had bone disease, inasmuch as four pieces of bone had been discharged from the sore. Before giving myself up to the doctors I decided to give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial, although I had but little faith that it would do me any good. I used it strictly according to directions, and before I had used three bottles I Began to Feel a Change, and by the time I had used the fourth bottle the sore on my side had healed. It is now nearly three months since the eruption closed and I have not the least fear of it ever bothering me again. Hood's Sarsaparilla is certainly a gem among medicines. It has cured me and it will cure others." W. H. HEFFNER, Alvira, Pa.
