GETTING A QUORUM.

Already it is urged, as might have been anticipated, that to dock the proud statesman who deliberately absents himself when his vote is needed, will place the Sergeant-at-Arms in an embarrassing position.

This official wants never to offend but always to oblige the recalcitrant statesman upon whom he relies for his own position.

He can't afford to quarrel with them about their dockage, and therefore don't want to be used as the leverage by which truant statesmen are brought to school and kept there in order that the wheels of legislation may continue to grind out needed laws.

ADVANCEMENT OF DEMOCRACY.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND WRITES A LETTER TO CHAUNCEY F.
BLACK

WASHINGTON, April 22. President Cleveland has forwarded the following letter to Chauncey F. Black, president of the National Association of Democratic Clubs, dated "Executive Mansion, Washington, April 18, 1894:

"MY DEAR SIR: I have carefully read the communication you lately placed in my hands, setting forth the future purposes and present needs of the National Association of Democratic Clubs.

"The achievements of the organization should be familiar to all who are interested in the continuation of Democratic supremacy and should enlist the encouragement of those who appreciate the importance of an effective dissemination of Democratic doctrine.

"Your association has done much by way of educating our people touching the particular subjects which are recognized as belonging to the Democratic faith; but it seems to me that its best service has been an enforcement and demonstration of the truth that our party is best organized and most powerful when it strives for principles instead of spoils, and that it quickly responds to the stimulus supplied by an enlistment in the people's cause.

"This acknowledgment of the important services rendered to the advancement of true Democracy suggests that the National Association of Democratic Clubs and every other Democratic agency should labor unceasingly and earnestly to save our party, in this time of its power and responsibility, from the degradation and disgrace of a failure to redeem the pledges upon which our fellow countrymen entrusted us with the control of their government.

"All who are charged, on behalf of the Democratic party, with the redemption of these pledges should now be impressively reminded that, as we won our way to victory under the banner of tariff reform, so our insistence upon that principle is the condition of our return of the people's trust; and that fidelity to party organization demands the subordination of individual advantages and wishes, and the putting aside of petty and ignoble jealousies and bickerings, when party principles and party integrity and party existence are at stake.

"I cheerfully enclose a contribution to the funds necessary to carry on the good work of your organization, with a hearty wish for its continued success and usefulness.

"Yours, very truly,

"GROVER CLEVELAND."

There are Sarsaparillas and Sarsaparillas; but if you are not careful in your purchase, the disease you wish to cure will only be intensified. Be sure you get Ayer's Sarsaparilla and no other. It is compounded from the Honduras root and other highly concentrated alteratives.

COXE FOR GOVERNOR.

The Democratic State Convention will meet in June. A recent dispatch from Washington to the Harrisburg Patriot says: "It is stated here that the name of Eckley B. Coxe, the coal magnate and millionaire, will be presented as a candidate for governor to the Pennsylvania Democratic State Convention."

Now we regard Mr. Coxe as a very likely man. He is popular with the laboring classes, because he has shown himself in full sympathy with them.
A rich man can do much worse with his money than to give his employes an occasional Christmas turkey and be among the last rather than the first to reduce their pay. Considering the conditions likely to confront the candidates next fall, with the laboring classes more or less disheartened and distrustful, the most likely men to win at the polls are those (without regard to party affiliations) who have in their business relations shown themselves capable of sympathy in the hour of business depression. We believe Mr. Coxe to stand out the more conspicuous as a genuine friend of the laboring classes because of his being very lonely in this respect. We are among those who believe that labor will do well to mark those who for political effect have deliberately closed their business plants from Maine to California. Those, we mean, who regard not the sufferings of the poor when the extraordinary dividends of the rich are in jeopardy.
Those we mean, who hold that high tariff and high wages are synonymous, when they know in their deceptive hearts that high dividends are the synonyms they are after while wages depend entirely upon the supply and demand which they themselves can frequently make or break through foreign importation of the raw material upon which there is no protective duty. Until we have high protection upon the importation of foreign labor (which never will happen) such men as Eckley B. Coxe will be appreciated by "wage-earners" proper. Don't let it escape you between this and next fall.

CIVIL SERVICE AGAIN.

The new civil service examining rules are worrying their workers. They believe that they would stand a better chance were their papers examined by the local board instead of by the Commissioners. In fact we think the civil service that gives a life tenure of office to the official—and remember they are not subject to removal for political reasons if the law is complied with—will never fully satisfy under our ro-tative system of Government. Were it not for the relief that permanence in office gives Congressman and Senators who are not willing to assume the responsibility for disappointing constituents who might return the compliment at the polls, we would have no such thing as civil service reform; but the patronage of the various departments would be apportioned to the various Senators and Representatives who are in political harmony with the administration, and then, indeed, "to the victors would belong the spoils," as we verily believe they should in harmony with what the fathers contemplated in appointive as well as in elective officers. If it is important that an elective office should belong to the victor, is it not also just as important that an appointive official should be in political harmony with the winning party? In spite of all civil service rules to the contrary, and the life tenure of office they necessarily provide for, we think a discordant appointive official as repugnant to our rotative system, (which is based upon the rule of the majority) as is an elective official who would presume to hold and retain an office in the face of a majority of votes against him. Our Civil Service Reform is a convenience for our Senators and Representatives who want all the emoluments of public office and none of the trouble and responsibility that they can by any means evade. The civil service is a means of evading constituents in search of office; that's about the sum of it.

McLaurin's First Speech in the Senate a Good One.

Discussing the all-absorbing tariff and income-tax question, which continued by mutual consent till Tuesday at five o'clock, Senator McLaurin made his first speech in the Senate chamber on the 17th instant. He gave the tariff bill his unhesitating support, saying it commended itself especially to him because it was a step in the right direction; that an income tax is a step in the direction of apportioning the expense of the Government in proportion to wealth. He said, furthermore, that it represented the doctrine of revenue as against the doctrine of extortion. He denied the assertion that an income-tax was undemocratic.
He held that Democracy meant that the people should rule. And as sure as the people ruled an income tax would be levied. We wish the honorable Senator could also have said that, when levied, the income tax would be collected. The Senator's reliance was upon the voice of the people whom he said would be heard from the polls.

Ex Congressman Robert Klotz, of Mauch Chunk, has decided to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in Mr. Munchler's district. His consent has been given on the petition of several hundred leading Democrats of the county.
The hostility to Mr. Munchler in Carbon shows no signs of diminution.

That Tired Feeling

All Run Down—Blood Poison Feared

Hood's Sarsaparilla Permanently Cured All Troubles.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: "I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for seven or more years as a spring tonic. I was so run down with hard work and female weakness that I would go to bed thinking that I would not be able to get up in the morning. I have suffered severely with My Back and Limbs.

I have just finished taking five bottles and am feeling well. I do not have that tired feeling and feel better in every way. I have an excellent appetite and sleep well at night. I have also given it to my nineteen-year-old son with good success. Last fall he cut his limb with a corn sickle. It healed up in about two weeks, but in a short time after he was

Seized With Chills, and the limb swelled to twice its natural size.

He was not able to move and was obliged to take his bed. The swellings and sores went up into his body and I feared that blood poison had set in. After taking Hood's Sarsaparilla he Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Improved steadily and was soon able to be about again. I have recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla to several and shall always have words of praise for it." Mrs. A. M. C. DIL-WORTH, Hamorton, Pa.
