Hiegal Pensions in a Year.

LOBBYISTS STILL AT WORK. Falsity of Republican Prophecy-Prospects

From our Regular Correspondent.

Cleveland and his Cabinet are pursuing the even tenor of their official duties just as though there was no such thing in existence as Coxey's army. The President has promised to attend the unveiling of the Martha Washington monument at Fredericksburg, Virginia, on the 10th inst., and to morrow Secretary Herbert will leave Government Navy Yards in that section.

Coxey's march upon the Capitol the age. To day he and Carl Brown gravestone : and Christopher Columbus Jones are being tried in the police court for violating the law in attempting to make speeches from the steps of the Capitol. They are not likely to be severely punished—probably small fines as a warning. If the foolish men now on their way to Washington to join Coxey could get within smelling distance of the pest-hole in which the poor Coxeyites are confined-Coxey says camped -they would turn back at once. Inasmuch as Coxey was told by the Health officer of the danger attendant upon putting those poor devils in a marsh partially filled with dumpings of city filth, with an open sewer on one side, and stagnant green scummed cesspools on the other, and the foul atmosphere thoroughly impregnated with malarial germs, it looks as though he would be glad to gain a little additional notoriety by having a lot of them die like dogs. Nearly all of the four hundred men now there are half sick from exposure and lack of proper food, and daily inspections by the Health officials is followed by the ambulance carrying some of them to the hospitals. Coxey, being comfortably quartered at a hotel, says he intends to keep these men here until they are joined by several hundred thousand: but he won't. Those who don't get sick will desert; every day some of them get arrested for begging in the streets and are sent down as vagrants.

They would doubtless resent being called lobbyists, but there can be no doubt that the work upon which the gentlemen who are here representing the various parties interested in Pacific Railroads legislation, now being sale Druggists, Toledo, Ohio. considered by House and Senate committees, are engaged in is lobbying pure and simple. Each and every one of them is after legislation that will protect the interest he represents, regardless of the interests of the Government.

The Republicans in Congress are not doing much talking this week about the special election Tuesday in the third Ohio Congressional district, at which the Democrats elected Paul J. Sorg to Congress by a substantial majority, although a week ago they were boasting that the district would go Republican as a protest against tariff reform. It seems that the Democrats of that district are like those of trumpet sounded, the dead rose from all the other districts-they want tariff reform, and the Democratic Senators cannot give it to them any pen!" too soon.

The Republicans are as quarrelsome and spiteful as a lot of setting hens these days, and all because the Democratic Senators do not see fit to take them into their confidence as to the nature of the proposed amendments to the tariff bill. With the exception of the day that the Senate adjourned immediately after assenbling, because of the death of Senator Stockbridge, of Michigan, there has not been a session of the Senate for a week at which the Republicans have not attempted to provoke the Democrats into a row. To the credit of the Democrats, be it said they have, as a rule, kept their tempers, allowing the Republicans to make a lot of ridiculous statements about something that they knew absolutely nothing about-the intentions of the Democrats. The favorite misstatement seems to be that a new tariff bill is being prepared. Although denied when first made, by Senators Voorhees and Harris, it has since been reiterated by half a dozen Republican Senators. The Democratic Senators will, in due time, announce the amendments to the tariff bill, which will be supported by the Finance Committee, and they will pass them, too; also the bill. The object of the Republicans is to create dissension among the Democrats, but it will not succeed. The Democrats are to day nearer together than they have been during the session, and will remain so.
