ESTABLISHED 1866. The Columbia Democrat, ESTABLISHED 1887. CONSOLIDATED 1899. PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING at Bloomsburg, the County seat of Columbia County, Pennsylvania.

FRIDAY, JUNE 29, 1894.

THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES.

WILLIAM M. SINGERLY.

The Democratic State Convention at Harrisburg on Wednesday made the following nominations: For Governor, William M. Singerly, of Philadelphia; Lieutenant Governor, John S. Rilling, of Erie; Auditor General, David F. Magee, of Lancaster; Secretary of Internal Affairs, W. W. Greenland, of Clarion; Congress-at-Large, J. C. Bucher, of Union, H. K. Sloan, of Indiana.

MR. CHRISMAN'S WITHEBRAWAL.

To the Democratic Voters of Columbia County:

GENTLEMEN:—Since the announcement of my name in this county as a candidate for nomination to the State Senate such action has been taken in other counties of the senatorial district, and public opinion in those counties has taken such direction, that a candidate from this county in my judgement, and in that of personal friends with whom I have consulted, has no reasonable chance of success in the District Conference.

Besides, this county will present a candidate for the Congressional nomination with strong probability of his success; therefore, in the judgment of myself and many of my friends, it is not desirable or proper for the Democracy of this county to present a candidate for the senatorial nomination at the same time.

In view of these facts I feel it my duty, in order to promote the harmony and welfare of our party in this county and senatorial district, to withdraw my name from further consideration as a candidate for State Senator and hereby thank my friends throughout the county for their generous support.

WM. CHRISMAN.

THE PAY OF ABSENT CONGRESSMEN.

Congressman Sperry, of Connecticut, threatens to turn on some light in regard to the pay of absent Congressmen. He holds that the conscientious member is the only loser under the prevailing law and requirement. Those willing to certify to being present when absent looking after their political fencing, etc., are the ones who get full pay. Now, $5,000 looks like a heap of money to pay a Congressman, when you come to consider what he does and what he fails to do. Besides their perquisites, that's their pay. And no matter whether the wheels of legislation are clogged by their absence or not, they want no dockage for any cause whatever. How would it be for the sovereign power to try to help our bewildered statesmen who are now in Congress to settle this dockage question? In these times it is barely possible that the people could find representatives who are willing to take the $5,000 a year and stand to their work just like men have to in about all other avocations of life. And, unless the dockage law actually docks the absentee Congressman who persists in making false report, we think the sovereign power had better give all this tired class of statesmen absolute retirement from office. It can easily be done on this issue. No matter who he is or where he comes from, we believe the sovereign power can find Congressmen for $5,000 a year who will stand up to their full duty, and who, if absent on private business when needed to make a quorum, will willingly submit to being docked like other mortals have to.

For instance, Mrs. Chas. Rogers, of Bay City, Mich., accidentally spilled scalding water over her little boy. She promptly applied DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, giving instant relief. Its a wonderful good salve for burns, bruises, sores, and a sure cure for Piles.—W. S. Rishton, Druggist.

IN CONGRESS.

Our Fostered and Fattened Industries--The President and Speaker--Pensions--More Sugar Trust Sweetness--Adjournment--Political Fodder.

From our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, June 23, 1894.

“What can't be cured must be endured” is a homely adage that is about all the consolation that the average Democrat can get out of the delay in the Senate in passing the tariff bill. Senator Harris, as the Democratic leader, has done all that one man could do, and he has been ably supported by some of the Democratic senators; but, unfortunately, not by all, and the margin is too small to force anything without a united support. Some of the Democratic Senators seem to have an idea that when they pledged their votes to the bill they had performed their whole duty; as a consequence, here's another week gone and the final vote is not in sight, although it is difficult to see what excuse the Republicans will have for prolonging the agony longer than next week. A Democratic Senator remarked in my hearing today: “I don't believe the Republicans will ever consent to have a vote taken on this bill until we compel them to do so.” Whether this is true or not, I understand that it is the intention of nearly all of the Republicans to make long speeches on some portion of the bill next week. If that is allowed it is a very easy mathematical calculation to show the impossibility of passing the bill next week.

President Cleveland's little salt water trip did him a world of good. He returned looking like a new man; but the trouble with him is that he works just as hard in the debilitating weather of summer as he does in cold weather, and the natural consequence is that he soon gets run down. He knows this just as well as anybody does, but he is so constituted that he cannot stop work unless he goes away from where the work is.

Speaker Crisp has been confined to his room the greater portion of this week with a stomach trouble. His physician made him stay in the house more as a precaution than because his condition made it necessary. Representative Bailey, of Texas, made a great success as Speaker pro tem.

Commissioner Lochren, of the Pension Bureau, will turn over to Uncle Sam on the 30, inst., the snug little sum of $25,000,000, which by economical management of that bureau he has saved out of the amount his Republican predecessor estimated would be necessary to pay pensions from July 1, 1893, to June 30, 1894. Republicans who believe in wasteful and extravagant expenditure of public money will be sure to denounce Judge Lochren for not having paid out every dollar appropriated, but sensible people who believe that public business should be conducted on the same principles which govern successful private establishments will be apt to say: “Well done, thou good and faithful servant.”

The Senate committee has about concluded its investigation of the sugar trust. It will hear no more witnesses, except the two or three Senators who have not, owing to their absence, yet been examined. It has already been made plain that the report will not be unanimous, the republicans being determined to try to make political capital out of the matter.

In order that no inconvenience may be caused by the failure of the regular appropriation bills to become laws by the first of July the House Appropriation committee has reported a joint resolution extending the appropriations for this year thirty days from July 1. This indicates that members of that committee are of the opinion that the appropriation bills can all be passed by the first of August. Democrats hope to have things in such shape that Congress can adjourn about that date.

It might be supposed that with the Senate meeting daily at 10 o'clock and not adjourning before 6, or half past, that Senator Faulkner, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign committee, would be unable to find any time to devote to the work of the committee. But he does find lots of time. He spends something like an hour at committee headquarters every morning before the Senate meets and he returns in the evening as soon as he gets through his dinner and remains until 11 o'clock or later. Those who are familiar with the work he has already done pronounce him to be one of the most thorough organizers who ever directed the work of a campaign committee. Senator Faulkner is too experienced a political manager to discuss his plans in a newspaper, but it can be said without any violation of confidence that he is confident the Democrats will control the House in the next Congress.

The House has again put its official endorsement on Representative Hatch's anti-option bill.

“There is a Salve for every wound.” We refer to DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve; cures burns, bruises, cuts, indolent sores, as a local application in the nostrils it cures catarrh, and always cures piles.—W. S. Rishton, Druggist.

THE OBNOXIOUS INCOME TAX.

On the 22nd. instant two important amendments were reported which are calculated to mollify the income tax provision of the tariff bill. The objectors to the bill succeeded in pulling its wholesome provisions down far enough to cover incomes of $3,000, instead of running it up the other way so as to commence on those receiving not less than $5,000 or $10,000 per year. But here is where the railroads and corporations got in their fine work in the exemption from assessment of their running expenses, so-called. We presume if that amendment in the interest of railroads and corporations does not afford loophole enough for them to escape taxation, then our sympathetic statesmen will devise some other ways and means by which they can escape. Senator Sherman was obliged to admit that he favored an income tax in 1871, but he attributed his present opposition to it to the prevailing changed conditions and circumstances; saying if the circumstances (surrounding his individual case perhaps) were the same to day as they were then, he should now insist upon an income tax. He said he then believed it to be a fair and just mode of raising revenue, but he did not think that it was wise now. That's what is sometimes called candid; but if that is not what may be called straddling the question then I never saw or heard an aspiring politician attempt to get on both sides of a popular issue. They just seem to study how to do it successfully. And Sherman can come as near covering both sides at once as any statesman we know of who wants to be President, but, can't somehow.

Having said in 1871 that he believed it to be a fair and just mode of raising revenue, he seems to take a large bite of crow when present circumstances compel him to right-about face and say he will vote against an income tax “because he thinks it an unnecessary invasion of the taxing-rights of States.” It looks to us a little incongruous for a bell wether in the Republican flock to now stand up and advocate the Democratic dogma of State rights. He does it, as we think, to cater to the same powerful element that Senator Hill is particularly anxious to please and to serve. In our humble opinion both Sherman and Hill are shifting their sails in the wrong direction. They are birds of a feather on income taxation, that's certain, which ever may be the Democrat and which the Republican.

Headache is the direct result of Indigestion and Stomach Disorders. Remedy these by using DeWitt's Little Early Risers and your Headache disappears. The favorite Little Pill everywhere.—W. S. Rishton, Druggist.

Now Muley Hassan has mysteriously passed away. He was Sultan of Morocco, and died recently while journeying between Marakesh and Robat. It is openly hinted that he was murdered. His son, Aziz, was then proclaimed Sultan by the escort and ministers accompanying Muley.

Small in size, great in results: DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Best pill for Constipation, best for Sick Headache, best for Sour Stomach.—W. S. Rishton, Druggist.

“I will not have plantation manners exhibited here,” says Senator Hill, of New York, to Senator Harris, of Tennessee. To which Mr. Harris retorted, “that is the manners of the slums of New York.” It seems the chastisement was just between them, inasmuch as they were both right.

A satisfied customer is a permanent one. That's why we recommend DeWitt's Little Early Risers. They cure Constipation, Indigestion and Biliousness.—W. S. Rishton, Druggist.

It's Pretty Hot. Yes, we know it is very hot now, but this is to your advantage. We do not want to carry any summer dress goods over at all, so you had better come and examine our goods and prices. It will pay you. Irish lawn, one of the most popular summer goods manufactured, has received the knife the hardest. Our Madras cloth that we are selling at 12 1/2 cents now, you cannot buy anywhere else for less than 20 cents. They were made to sell at that, but hard times compelled them to come down, all to your advantage. No use of suffering from the heat when you can keep cool as easily as you can, now that goods are so cheap.

Grocery Department. Don't forget we carry a full line of canned goods, such a boned turkey, chicken, and game; deviled turkey, chicken, ham and tongue, corned beef and lunch tongue for picnics and for your home. Saves cooking while it is so warm, and just as cheap. Also concentrated extract of coffee put up in bottles for picnics. Very low in price. Cheaper and better than most coffees. Call, see, and be convinced for yourself that what we say is so. Purcell & Harman, BLOOMSBURG, PA.

Snyder & Magee Co. Lim. 4th and Market Sts. Bloomsburg, Pa. REMNANTS. REMNANTS.

As is usually the case after a great clearance sale, remnants will accumulate. We have reserved ours, and in order to give every person from far and near an opportunity to by remnants at one third their original value, we have decided to make SATURDAY, JUNE 30th, a special day for our remnant sale.

Every piece of goods in our store under 10 yds. will be sold at one-third of the original value. We have over 1,000 remnants of the following goods:

Black and colored worsted dress goods—calicoes, ginghams, challies, crashes, table linen, silks, dotted mulls, swisses, sheeting, muslins, laces, ribbons, embroideries, trimmings, etc.

Also some odd lots of towels, napkins, underwear, shirts, ties, hosiery, gloves, etc., which will be offered at the same reduction.

“Cosmo” buttermilk soap, 5c. a cake, 12 cakes in box, 50c.

Remember opening of sale, SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 30, and will continue until the entire lot is sold. Out of town purchasers would do well to call early, as the early callers have the best selection.
