

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

THE COLUMBIAN.

BLOOMSBURG, PA.

FRIDAY, JULY 6, 1894.

Entered at the Post Office at Bloomsburg, Pa. as second class matter, March 1, 1888.

Legal advertisements are printed on the seventh page.

The band was out Saturday night and made some very good music.

Buckalew Bros. have purchased a new side seat hack for their livery.

J. R. Townsend is the leading Merchant Tailor of Columbia county. See his advertisement on fourth page.

The Towanda Weekly sarcastically intimates the propriety of turning the balance of the Lexow investigation over to New York city scavengers.

A satisfied customer is a permanent one. That's why we recommend DeWitt's Little Early Risers. They cure Constipation, Indigestion and Biliousness.—W. S. Rishton, Druggist. tf.

Collector Herring has appointed R. B. Brundage, of Wilkes Barre, a deputy collector of internal revenue for Luzerne, Carbon, and a part of Northampton counties.

The new stapling machine for book-binding is now doing full duty at the COLUMBIAN office. It can be run by tread or hand-power, and it does its work well either way.

The work of remodeling the D. L. & W. depot has begun. Some extensive changes will be made. When completed there will be two buildings, one for freight and the other for passengers.

Bloomsburg's curbstone market now makes quite a display of fruits and vegetables. But the time is coming, no doubt, when Bloomsburg will boast of a market house that is both ornamental and useful.

Though the school, which is the usual mode of teaching young ideas how to shoot, is now closed for a summer vacation the 4th of July still serves as a sort of pyrotechnic review for patriotic young America, so-called.

At the last meeting of the School Board of Bloomsburg it was decided to have a nine months' term of school, the same to begin on Monday, August 27. And as to the work on the Third Street building, the committee reported satisfactory progress.

Master Claud Bittenbender, who was helping his father to mow away hay a few days ago, got tangled somehow in the harness of the horse he was riding and, falling off, was dragged some distance and pretty badly scarified about the head and face.

If the London fad of leading the cow to the very door of the milk-customer ever takes root in America we have an idea that a high tariff on chalk will be useless. And as for the town pumps now supplying the lacteal fluid they, too, can take a rest.

Philadelphia has a recording clerk named Bird. It was his duty recently to make out a marriage license for a Mr. Waste who wanted to marry a Miss Haste. However much they may now aim to avoid it in their family, little Wastes will be apt to creep in more or less hastily.

The fine dapple-gray horse owned by Eli Knorr has been plagued with a rather severe case of distemper. He attributes it to his drinking at troughs where horses having the ailment had drank only a short time before. A little asafetida kept about the feed-trough is said to be a sure preventive.

No Griping, no Nausea, no Pain, when DeWitt's Little Early Risers are taken. Small Pill. Safe Pill. Best Pill.—W. S. Rishton, Druggist. tf.

Collector's tax receipts and tax notices are for sale at this office. tf.

The mercantile license must be paid by July 15th.

There was a big market on Tuesday morning. Thirty-four wagons along the curb.

Oscar Alexander's new home on the corner of Third and West streets is a handsome property. A new Ohio stone pavement has recently been laid.

The Episcopal Sunday School and congregation will have a picnic at Central, Pa., on Wednesday the 11th inst. If stormy, the day following. The public generally are invited.

Small in size, great in results: DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Best pill for Constipation, best for Sick Headache, best for Sour Stomach.—W. S. Rishton, Druggist. tf.

The weather forecaster, so-called, who said we should expect thunder showers on Friday afternoon or night, fooled us again. It seems to be a little difficult for our weather forecasters to forecast it, somehow.

While garden vegetables from abroad have been in Bloomsburg market for sometime, the period is at hand when any one having a garden can draw upon it for something good and fresh to eat, and when cherries and berries may be had for the picking in the country.

It will occur to the average mind as a little too hoggish, if it be true as reported, that Governor Hogg called one of his pretty daughters Ima and the other Ura. His only son he also threatened with Bea, but here the loving mother of the children interposed objection, for fear, perhaps, that the name would have a deleterious and lasting effect upon the lad.

To one not directly interested it looked as though our coal operators were less desirous of ending the strike than the miners were. The miners may resume, but the victory is as yet by no means decisive. If the unprofitable effects of these strikes prove of value to both labor and capital for the future, then it will be well; otherwise all their time and money will have been lost for nothing.

The wagon loads of trunks recently taken to the depot, and the throng of bright looking young boys and girls upon the pavements wending their way homeward, means that a sense of loneliness will be felt on Normal Hill from now until next September, when the school will re-open. It means more than this to Bloomsburg, since the Normal School has much to do with her social and financial affairs.

Notwithstanding her general complaint about warm weather, suffocation, &c., Philadelphia reports largely about her great number of June weddings. In this connection she says: "With us weddings have continued to give June its nuptial character, and although many of them have been quiet home affairs, they have interested large circles of friends, so that hymenally the season has been in no way deficient. Indeed, this has been one of the most matrimonial Junes on record."

Now, considering the weather, we call that encouraging.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

The Glorious Fourth.

How many'll usher in the day
With drum and rifle and "horn,"
Whose patriotism's very gay
Until the following morn'
And patriots loud will wake the town
With crack and bang and shout,
Forgetful of all cops around
Until they can't get out.
And thus 'twill be, sweet Liberty,
Since custom fairly spikes us
To precedent and devilment
Until evolution strikes us.

The voice of the reaper is now heard in the country, and, thanks to the giver of all good and perfect gifts, there is a good harvest when it is greatly needed, both by the producing and consuming classes.

Fruit culture is more profitable to the farmer now than his other crops. Brown Bros. Co., the most extensive nursery house in the U. S., have a vacancy in this section. Write them at Rochester, N. Y., for their terms. 4-63m.

Through the malicious act of some one, as it is thought, Joseph Lauderbaugh, of Jonestown, suffered quite a loss by fire on last Saturday night, when all the wood he had gotten out and prepared for paper-making was set fire to and totally consumed.

The $9,500 appropriation for Farmers' Institutes in Pennsylvania the coming year will be apportioned on a basis of $65 for each county and 2 cents additional for each farm. This is a very sensible distribution.—Mountain Echo.

One word describes it—"perfection." We refer to DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve; cures obstinate sores, burns, skin diseases and is a well known cure for piles.—W. S. Rishton, Druggist. tf.

UNION SERVICES.

At the regular meeting of the Pastor's Union, held July 2d, the following schedule for Sabbath evening union services, to be carried out during the months of July and August, was adopted:

July 8th. Lutheran—Rev. G. E. Weeks. Reformed—Rev. O. H. Strunk.

July 15th. Presbyterian—Rev. J. Womelsdorf. Baptist—Rev. P. A. Heilman.

July 22d. Lutheran—Rev. I. M. Patterson. Evangelical—Rev. C. H. Brandt.

July 29. Presbyterian—Rev. G. E. Weeks. Reformed—Rev. P. A. Heilman.

August 5th. Lutheran—Rev. J. Womelsdorf. Baptist—Rev. I. M. Patterson.

August 12th. Presbyterian—Rev. C. H. Brandt. Evangelical—Rev. G. E. Weeks.

August 19th. Lutheran—Rev. C. H. Brandt. Reformed—Rev. I. M. Patterson.

August 26th. Presbyterian—Rev. P. A. Heilman. Baptist—Rev. J. Womelsdorf.

The public will please take notice of these services and be governed accordingly. They are open to everybody and all are cordially invited.

Weather Prophecy for July.

Rev. Irl R. Hicks, in his July number of the World and Works gives a forecast of July weather. The month will open with storm movements intensified by the equinox of venus and the new moon. The 2nd and 3rd will be centers of the storm movements. Violent storms will probably appear from the 2nd to the 4th. These storms will be attended by a very warm wave that will be followed by a cooler one. A severe warm wave is due from the 7th to the 11th, and this wave will culminate in heavy electrical storms with rain, hail and wind. Unless storms appear about the 8th, 9th and 10th the heat will continue until the 13th or 14th. Seismic disturbances are expected in many parts of the globe. Many storms, much cloudiness, local cloudbursts and heavy downpours will figure in the storm period from the 17th to 21st. Heavy hail storms may come also in this storm period. Great heat may be expected on the 25th and 26th. Cooler weather will follow this brief but hot wave. The last July period runs from the 29th to August 3rd, and hot weather is promised at this time. The greatest general heat will be reached in the last days of July and the first week in August.

WHAT FOSTER SAYS.

Foster, the St. Joseph, Mo., weather prognosticator, says: The warm wave will cross the western mountains about the 29th, the great central valleys about July 1 and the eastern States about July 3. The cool wave will cross the western mountains about July 2, the great central valleys about the 4th and the eastern States about the 6th.

HOMELY PROPHECY.

As to our own prognostication, we figure it about as follows, in accordance with unscientific tradition: Since Mary crossed the mountain on the 2d of July without getting her skirts wet, we shall have a six-weeks' drought. If we can't guess as straight as Hicks and Foster we will quit the business.

All the talk in the world will not convince you so quickly as one trial of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve for Scalds, Burns, Bruises, Skin Affections and Piles.—W. S. Rishton, Druggist. tf.

THE COLUMBIAN OF OLD.

Mrs. G. B. Vought, of Jamison City, kindly brought to this office a few days ago an old copy of this paper. It was then called the COLUMBIAN DEMOCRAT, and BLOOMSBURG GENERAL ADVERTISER. It is dated November 2d, 1850, and bears the names of "Levi L. Tate, editor, publisher and proprietor," and also that of J. G. Freeze, as assistant and associate editor. A cursory glance through what is left of this old paper revealed the ear-marks and gallant phraseology of the Colonel, and also some old-fashioned correspondence which the Colonel gave a most prominent place in his paper. In some hope of edifying we cull the gist of the correspondent's verbiage. He says: "James Hunter gallanted Emma Grayson home from the party last night," said one of a bevy of beautiful girls the next morning after Mrs. Munroe's party.

"Yes; and did you remark that he was very attentive to her during the entire evening," put in another, who was not so fortunate as to have a gentleman companion; "and," added she, tossing her head periciously, "how silly it does look."

"Oh," said a third, "they'll make a match, no doubt, and I guess nobody cares a great deal."

"No," answered the first speaker, "I never liked Emma Grayson much any way. She never takes any delight with us, but is always so quiet and silent that I am afraid to laugh when she is by. They'll make a tiresome couple, for James Hunter can't say anything either."

"I have noticed for some time that Wm. Thomson and Mary Martyn appear frequently on the street together. This bodes something I am sure."

"Very likely, for Thomson is going into business, and he would scarcely be willing to promenade the streets with a lady he did not intend to marry."

"Marry; of course they will marry. I've heard that whispered around for some time."

"Thus each in her own way gossiped, and in consequence of their meeting two or three imaginary weddings were fixed up by this coterie while the principals had not yet popped the question.

Editorially the Colonel is led to observe:

"The senior editor of the COLUMBIAN DEMOCRAT would be wanting in courtesy to his brethren of the press were he to omit an acknowledgement of the courtesy and kindness manifested towards him, when on a recent visit over the Allegheny Mountains. The friendship evinced by the "editorial corps" and along the entire line of the journey, will be remembered with gratitude, as "green spots in a printer's life." In designating our brethren of the quill by name, we offer to each of them, both individually and collectively, the homage of a grateful heart and the tender of an open eye.

Messrs. Eldred & Wright, of the Lycoming Gazette; Col. S. Seelye, of the Jersey Shore Republican; Geo. A. Cranford, of the Clinton Democrat; Major A. J. Greer, (Whig) of the Clinton Tribune; Wm. H. Blair, of the Centre Democrat; Daniel W. Moore, of the Clearfield County Democrat; Henry Southard, of the Elk County Advocate, and G. L. I. Painter (Whig) of the Muncy Luminary.

Gentlemen, we beg you to excuse the liberty thus made of your names; and when any of you come this way, call in our sanctum, where it will afford us pleasure to introduce you to our worthy associate, Esq. Freeze, and if all things are not right, we shall readily make the amende honorable.
