

IN CONGRESS.

The Tariff Bill Passes the Senate at Last. It Will Not be Law Just Yet, However. The Campaign Committees Busy. Straight Facts Sought From the Crooked. Adjournment About August 1st.

The Administration and the Mails. From our Regular Correspondent. WASHINGTON, July 9, 1894.

The small attendance in both House and Senate shows that lots of Senators and Representatives are disposed to extend their holiday over the rest of the week. For the ten days previous to the passage of the tariff bill the Senate certainly had a hard time with daily sessions from 10 to 6 o'clock or later, and the thermometer constantly in touching proximity to ninety degrees. It is not surprising that the passage of the bill, a few minutes before the beginning of Independence Day, by a vote of 39 to 34, should have been followed by an exodus to the mountains and seashore, and that the wretched Senators should be a little slow in returning to their duties. However, no time is really being lost on account of their absence, as the work of preparing the appropriation bills for action is going right along in the Senate Appropriation Committee, and the conferees on the part of the Senate on the tariff bill—Senators Voorhees, Harris, Vest, Jones, Sherman, Allison and Aldrich—will be on hand as soon as wanted by the conferees on the part of the House. No surprises were connected with the final vote on the tariff bill, unless the vote of Senator Hill against it can be so considered. The Populists divided, Allen and Kyle voting for the bill and Peffer and Stewart against it.

Everybody is speculating on what the result of the conference on the bill will be, and everybody is agreed that many changes will be made, but there is no agreement as to the nature of the changes, further than that they are likely to be mostly towards the original Wilson bill. Representative Holman says on the subject: "It is an almost invariable rule that if there is an overwhelming sentiment in the House for a particular line of action it finds expression and overcomes all delays and obstacles of parliamentary procedure. I feel certain that in the issue between the Senate and House the latter will carry the day." Mr. Holman also says that his Congressional experience has taught him to expect considerable delay in tariff conferences between the Senate and the House. Let impatient folks make a note of that.

Representative Bynum, of Indiana, is at the head of the sub-committee of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee that is charged with compiling a text-book to be used by Democratic speakers in the Congressional Campaign. The work is progressing, but cannot be completed until the tariff bill has finally been disposed of by Congress. The choice of Mr. Bynum to direct this work was a happy one. He will be certain to include in the book everything that can help the stump-speaker in his arguments, as he believes that the stump-speaker is away ahead of the literary bureau as a vote getter; because the average man will listen to a clever speech while he will not read pamphlets, however cleverly they may be prepared.

Representative Springer, chairman of the House Committee on Banking and Currency, says he considers it extremely doubtful whether the sub-committee recently instructed to prepare and report to the full committee a currency reform bill will complete its work at this session of Congress. One reason for the delay is that Representative Culbertson, of Texas, a member of the sub-committee, has been detained at home by the serious illness of Mrs. Culbertson.

The Grand Jury this week indicted the two newspaper correspondents who declined to give the Senate investigating committee the sources of their information concerning the alleged sugar trust scandal, and, like the two stock-brokers previously indicted, they gave bail for their appearance when wanted for trial. The Grand Jury has yet to set upon the cases of Havemeyer and Searles, of the sugar trust, who were also certified for refusing to answer questions. It is expected that the Constitutionality of the law under which these indictments were found will be argued some time in August, and if the law is upheld by the local court the case will be appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court, as it is of the utmost importance that the question should be passed upon by our highest court.

Representative Catchings, of Miss., who is a member of the House Committee on Rules, and therefore in a position to know, says he does not consider it possible for Congress to adjourn as early as the first of August, but is certain that it will do so very shortly after that date.

President Cleveland is commended on all sides for the promptness with which he decided and ordered that Federal troops should be used to prevent the mail service of the country being interfered with by railroad strikers and to back up the authority of U. S. Court officials. The President is kept thoroughly posted, through Attorney General Olney, Postmaster General Bissell and Secretary Lamont, upon every phase of the strike, they being in constant telegraphic communication with their subordinates.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. 1m.

An Attractive Magazine.

"What Constitutes a Good Husband" is discussed by a lot of clever women among whom are Mary Hall-lock Foote, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Ward.

"The Duchessa," "Grace Greenwood" and Amelia F. Barr, in the July Ladies Home Journal. "The Thirty and One" is the clever title of a delightful short story by Charles D. Lanier. Will N. Harben contributes "The Heresy of Abner Calihan," a strong study of life in the Tennessee mountains, which Alice Barber Stephens has illustrated most successfully. The biography of the number consists of sketches, with portraits, of Mrs. Wayland Hoyt and Mary Hartwell Catherwood. Frank R. Stockton gives two more of "Pomona's" characteristic letters to her old "Rudder Grange" mistress, and Mr. Howells' literary reminiscences, under the title "My Literary Passions," grow in interest and charm. Robert J. Burdette is particularly happy in his "Making a Suburban Home," the editor gives a most interesting review of a new and unique Southern story and the Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage writes of "When Things are Against Us." Miss Scovill's paper on "Feeding a Baby in Summer" will be found especially valuable to mothers. Women everywhere will be charmed with Miss Parloa's "House Furnishing in Paris," Cora Scott Waring's "Graceful Lunch Set," Mrs. Mallon's "The Art of Dressing in White," Eliza R. Parker's receipts for "The Apple, the Peach, and the Pear," Miss Hooper's "Styles in Household Linen," the page of "Dainty Luncheons, Tea and Dinner," "Little Summer Belongings," "Up-Stairs and Down-Stairs," "Useful Things Worth Knowing," and Harriet Ogden Morison's exquisite page of "Ecclesiastical Embroidery." Altogether this July issue, with its attractive cover specially designed by W. T. Smedley, and its admirable table of contents, is an ideal woman's magazine and worth many times its price of ten cents. Published by The Curtis Publishing Company, of Philadelphia, for ten cents per number and one dollar per year.

Headache is the direct result of Indigestion and Stomach Disorders. Remedy these by using DeWitt's Little Early Risers and your Headache disappears. The favorite Little Pill everywhere.—W. S. Rishton, Druggist. If.

Debs is a Common Enemy. President Debs, of the American Railway Union, is a common enemy. He is the enemy of labor; he is the enemy of capital; he is the enemy of industry, of commerce, of finance and of trade; he is the enemy of everything that improves the condition of workingmen and that tends to the general prosperity of the country.

He has wantonly and arbitrarily deprived scores of thousands of his followers of their daily labor and their daily bread when they had no dispute whatever with their employers. By the interruption of trade and traffic he has increased the cost of nearly all the necessities of life to the workingmen when they are deprived of all sources of income by the strike he has ordered.

He has deprived labor of millions of dollars that would have been paid in wages during the present year by the construction of new railways, which will be halted now by the great uncertainty of the cost of operating them.

He has stopped foreign investment in our railway securities for the time, and probably precipitated the return of many millions of such investments to be paid from our already scant supply of gold, thereby crippling the whole business and industry of the country. He has halted American investment in industrial enterprises which would give employment to workmen. All such investments are readily hindered by uncertainty, and the disturbance in labor circles is one of the surest methods of stopping investments which would give employment to labor. He has opened the door for the reduction of wages throughout our entire railway system. The railways have been struggling against most adverse tides during the last year, and many have been compelled to yield to the possession of receivers; but thus far they have almost invariably maintained the wages of their workmen. With a loss of a million dollars a day imposed upon the railways and those interested in their traffic, by a strike that is as costly as it is wicked and revolutionary, the railways will be compelled in the near future to reduce the wages of their employes.

Such is the entertainment to which President Debs, of the American Railway Union, is inviting his deluded workmen, and if they shall not soon understand that he is a common enemy of labor and of everything that promotes the interest of labor, they must be strangely indifferent to their own interests as well as to the interests of the whole country.—Times.

Above Everything Else Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery purifies the blood. By this means it reaches, builds up, and invigorates every part of the system. For every blood taint and disorder, and for every disease that comes from an inactive liver or impure blood, it is the only remedy so sure and effective that it can be guaranteed.

If it fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back. These diseases are many. They're different in form, but they're like in treatment. Rouse up the torpid liver into healthful action, thoroughly purify and enrich the blood, and there's a positive cure. The "Discovery" does this, as nothing else can. Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness; all Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; every form of Scrofula, even Consumption (or Lung-scrofula) in its earlier stages; and the most stubborn Skin and Scalp Diseases are completely cured by it.

Mild, gentle, soothing and healing is Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. Only 50 cents; by druggists.

Small in size, great in results: DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Best pill for Constipation, best for Sick Headache, best for Sour Stomach.—W. S. Rishton, Druggist. If.

The Thompsonville Press claims that these epithets are "curious," in which, no doubt, the reader will agree, but we are not told where they originated: Regardless of cost and regardless of pains. This stone is erected to mark the remains of wife No. 1 of Patrick Maloney, and wife No. 2 helped to pay for the stone.

It was a little burro that Peter used to drive; There were six little children, but now there's none left; For Peter teased the burro while playing on a hummock, And the horrid critter kicked him in the pit of his stomach.

There was a man called Eion Smith, Who once lived hereabouts; But he is dead and buried here— That fact nobody doubts. He lived a long and cheezy life, And led a short and troubled life.

This is the grave of Orasmus Tate, Who died on good terms with the church and the state. They attribute his death to something he ate, From which he deputed at a subsequent date. Of his virtues his friends delighted to prate, But his vices his enemies chose to debate. When Orasmus arrives at the beautiful gate He will find his name, with the elect, on the slate. He died at the age of seventy-eight.

Beneath this green grass Sleeps Annabel Gilder. She was a fair lass, But kerosene killed her. The kindling she soaked, And the oil she ignited. It was the last fire Annabel ever lighted.

He was a tailor by trade, And his habits were loose, And at forty-two summers He gave up the goose.
