THE QUARTO CENTENNIAL.

Last Friday a large audience as-sembled at the grove belonging to E. M. Laubach, or Forks, pursuant to a call for a reunion of the membership of the Reformed people of the Orangeville charge in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of Rev. Houtz's pastorate of said charge. Of the ministers present of the Wyoming classis we noticed Rev. Schoedler, of Turbottville; Rev. Deiffenbacher, of Strawberry Ridge Rev. Brandt, of Eloomsburg; Rev. Sorber, of Watsontown; Rev. Noll, President of Wyoming classis, with several others whom we cannot mention, and Rev. Goodrich, of Clear-spring, Md., and Dr. J. C. Bowman, Prof. of Lancaster Theological Seminary. In the several addresses the union was characterized as the "silver wedding" of the pastor and his people, and of the mutual relations exist. ing between them as of the most cordial and agreeable, and from all present appearances as enduring as the marriage relation between man and wife. The sacred songs and poems appropriate, and highly eulogistic. A the name of the charge by Rev. Noll. The presentation address and response were impressive and effecting. This gift was in appreciation of the valuable and acceptable services rendered by the pastor. The program was not yet fully carried out when the sudden and unexpected benediction in the form of sharp thunder claps dispersed the audience pell mell without further ceremony or the usual formalities of good-by hand shaking and "come see us soon," &c.

Many hard and refreshing showers have passed to the north and south, east and west of us, while we have here a section of territory of extremely dry weather. Every thing seems to be drying up. Last Friday afternoon a small cloud, insignificantly small, comparatively speaking, presented the most astonishing phenomenon of cloud burst, or down pour of rain and wind almost ever witnessed in our life, at Stillwater and vicinity. The cloud spread over about two miles square and there hung and exhausted its fury with Stillwater village as the storm center. After it quit raining there was no trace of the passing storm. The wind was terrific, bordering to the fury of a cyclone. We again happened in close proximity of the storm centre. The remarkable feature of this storm was that the wind blew from the storm center in every direction outward. Every locality heard from outside of the storm visitation expected the rain from the course of the strong wind blowing from the storm.

Several heavy showers passed a little north and south last Saturday afternoon, still leaving our locality high

The present outbreak was therefore the result of internal strife between China and her subjects on the peninsula of Corea, and because of oppression. No less than 4,000 incendiary Coreans took up arms against the government and its officials; and they would be germ proof.

gaging our government as mediator, the prejudice is thought now to be too deep for anything like peaceful abitration. It looks now as though compromise is completely out of the question and that war to the knife (and from knife to hilt) in all heathendom is inevitable. Such a war, too, will most likely seriously involve, through sympathy, policy, and prejudice other na-tions. It will also be apt to more or less affect every nation on earth commercially and financially, politically and morally. So far-reaching, indeed, will be apt to be a prolonged war in heathendom.

Being remote from the seat of war, the United States should, as we would naturally suppose, be least injured and most benefitted by an eastern war. It it said to be "an ill wind that blows no good," and it is quite possible that the American Granger, even, may notice its benficial effects. He will be very apt to if one-half of the available soldiers of China and Japan are called into action against each other for any length of time.

The latest from the seat of war, up to time of this writing, is that the Japanese have sunk a transport carrying about 1700 soldiers and more recently a Chinese battle-ship, one of her best war vessels, besides capturing two big cruisers. The Chinese boats carried about a thousand men. In each instance but few Chinese escaped with their lives after the Japanese torpedoes struck their boats. Two German officers who were in command of the battle ship met death with the rest of the crew and soldiers. Thus the conflict has madly opened, the news of which now speedily reaches all christendom by telegram across the ocean.

Lost Her Arm Petting a Bear.

Mrs. Annie Fries, of Philadelphia, had her right forearm amputated recently, as the result of petting one of the bears belonging to the Zoological

Mrs. Fries, in company with her mother and sister-in-law, drove to the Zoological Garden and passed the afternoon in viewing with interest the various forms of animal life there on

After feeding the monkeys and jesting with the seals, their steps unfortunately strayed towards the bear pits. At first the party threw peanuts to the members of the ursine family from the elevation above the pits, but eventually determined to look at the bears from a nearer point of view. Acting upon this determination they descend far been wrought out in God's provi. ed the steps that led to the lower ground and found themselves directly back of the bear pits, separated from the animals only by a few iron bars and a semi-circular guard rail. Even this near distance did not satisfy Mrs. Fries' desire to become better acquainted with the animals and she accordingly climbed over the railing and began to pat one of the brown bears

The animal seemed to relish the operation and Mrs. Fries, turning around to her sister-in-law, said : this slur upon his character, for no sooner had the remark been made than he shut his jaws upon the caress-ing arm and held on like grim death. The agonizing cries of Mrs Fries and the alarmed shrieks of her frightened companions speedily brought two of the keepers to the spot, but try as they would they were unable to pry open the beast's jaws, and were forced to drag out the arm by main force, badly lacerating it in consequence.

Mrs. Fries, half fainting from fright and loss of blood, was carried to her carriage and driven as quickly as possible to the Jefferson Medical Hospital, where it was deemed necessary to amputate the arm at the elbow.

Great Fire in Wisconsin.

Think, if you can, of a fire covering an area of woodland a hundred miles square and you will have some idea of the destructive flames that recently swept over a portion of Wisconsin and entirely burned out the town of Phillips. So earnest and deep was the sympathetic feeling in consequence that three trains of provision, etc., was sent to Phillips in charge of Governor Peck and his staff. Many persons are reported to have perished and conservative estimates put the loss at $1,500, 000. Several other small places and stations are reported as more or less burned by the fierce flames that swept through the Wisconsin pines.

The Mosquito Strip.

We should not wonder if it were so -that is the report about trouble in the Mosquito territory and Bluefields of Nicaragua. It is said, furthermore, that the Mosquito chief is expecting a renewal of the attack; anticipating it, the women and children have already left. We learn from the same source that the subjects of Corn Island, having chartered a schooner, are on their way to Bluefields. Of course matters are looking towards bloody encounter there soon.
