Judge Sittser has been renominated for President Judge by the Democrats of Wyoming County. He is an able jurist and his re-election ought to be sure. The Sullivan County convention has not yet been held.

We have members now in the United States Senate who will likely remember their actions with some remorse of conscience in the near future, or as fast as their terms expire. This would certainly be the case if the people could reach them directly. But indirectly they may and many of them will be reached.

There is a feeling, we will not say a wish, in the mind of some folks on this side of the ocean that the Russian bear and the British lion may get to clawing and biting each other before China and Japan fully determines which shall own and control the rich peninsula of Corea. The mineral True Inwardness of Senatorial Dignity.

And now Senator Vest proposes to unbutton his vest and make some more startling revelations to the toofrequently startled sovereign power. To our mind the people cannot find out a great deal too much about the modus operandi of law making. The more the Senators themselves disclose of their crookedness the more anxious the people will be of course to find straight statesmen. While we have no doubt this body of Senators is about as straight as the general run, it is appalling to see how crooked the straightest are. The only hope of the people is to get the law-makers into a real fight once in awhile, and then cull the plain truth from what the row discloses for the common good. A much worse thing might happen to this country than a genuine fight at headquarters. Peaceful log-rolling is ten times worse than a real fight, and besides it costs more money. The "you tickle me and I'll tickle you" plan is very docile, dignified, and harmonious, but as a general thing it gets too much money out of the Treasury in a short space of time. There has been too much peace entirely in Congress for the common good. This last session has been a model educator of the common herd of lambs that have been led to the financial slaughter through the sharp practice and violated promises of our so-called statesmen. That's exactly what it and yet the country at large bleeds because of the truth of it, as clearly of the Senate bill, but because it was just that or nothing with the representatives of the people seeking better times through tariff reformation.

It is a great relief to friends through which there is some hope of the astounded and honest votes. Financial.

There is quite a difference of opinion among Treasury officials, it seems, as to the probabilities of another bond issue. While the Secretary of the Treasury is not willing to admit that there is any great cause for alarm about our financial affairs, the $50,000,000 bond-issue is likely spoken of through the wish which is so often the parent of the thought, rather than because of any positive and disinterested knowledge about the absolute necessity for it. Notwithstanding the gold reserve has reached low-water mark it is nevertheless contended that the Government is better able to-day can people at large, as demonstrated to meet its obligations than it was by the attempted tariff reformation, prior to the February bond issue. In that there has been but one force at no instance is there any feeling of the seats of Government that has pre-sumed to withstand the overtures of tions the Government is now gaining our powerful national trusts and com-bines. That force has been the Chief a day. Even under the recent dis-Executive aimost single handed and turbed condition it is claimed there alone. Capital Forcing a Bond Issue.

The Treasury figures show that there is now, in this country at least six months' supply of sugar, so that little revenue may be expected from that source. This also is true of whiskey. The statistics of the Internal Revenue Bureau show that the tax already has been paid upon over 13,000,000 gallons of whiskey in excess of the amount upon which the tax had been paid one year ago. Therefore but little revenue may be expected from this source before December. The only recourse, therefore, it is contended, will be to a bond issue, and there are many well-informed people who believe that if this Congress does not adjournment $50,000,000 or more will soon be issued. That there would be no difficulty in placing any reasonable amount, even at the premium exacted in February, seems apparent from the fact that the February bonds are being sold at a premium of 1.27 per cent.

Classes Versus Masses.

It may take as long to pass the Wilson tariff bill as it did to pass the Mc-Kinley bill. As a rule, it is more difficult to secure legislation favoring the masses than it is to secure legislation in favor of the classes. The classes are clamoring and persistent; the masses stay quietly at home and think.

—Philadelphia Record.

Yes, times will likely be harder now-that is harder for our trusts and combines, but vastly better for the masses. We take it for granted, however, that our fostered trusts and combines are rich enough to stand the pressure and still escape the poorhouse. The trouble is they have grown too rich under the special and fostering care they have always received at the hands of the Republican party.

Nothing but the firm and determined attitude of President Cleveland, assisted by a very few members of the House of Representatives, has avoided the further infliction of the McKinley tariff upon the consumers of America. To defeat all tariff reformation whatever was no doubt the sole aim and purpose of the combines
