WASHINGTON.

From our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, September 28, 1894. Chairman Faulkner, of the Democratic Gongressional Campaign Com mittee, consented this week for the first time to give out his estimate of the result of the Congressional elections. He figures, after making a most liberal allowance for doubtful districts-too liberal many Democrats think - that there will be in the next House 190 Democrats, 156 Republicans and 10 Populists. As instances of his liberality in making allowance for doubtful districts it may be mentioned that he only claims the election of nine Democratic Representatives in Illinois, while the estimate of the Republican Campaign Committee concedes the election of 11 Democrats in that State; he only claims 5 in Louisiana, while the Republicans concede 6, in South Carolina he claims 4 and the Republicans concede 6. That will give a fair idea of the but it is said the eldership needed care exercised by Senator Faulkner in his services at this church and he was making up his figures. The new tariff abrogated all the reciprocity treaties made under the McKinley law, and the formal notice served upon the State department by Brazil of its intention to abrogate the reciprocity treaty between the Gov-ernment and the United States on January 1, 1895, was merely a compliance with the expressed terms of the treaty, which were that either country should give the other three months notice. So far as this country was concerned, the treaty was abrogated the day the new tariff became a law. Mr. Mendonca, the Brazilian Minister, when asked what effect he thought the abrogation of the treaty would have upon the trade relations of the two countries, said: "The rates will not be materially raised by Brazil against this country, and I am expecting this country to make large increase in sending manufactured woolens to Brazil as a result of the new woolen manufacturing induced by free raw wool in the new tariff law. Outside of these items few changes will occur by the termination of the reciprocity.

Rev. Jacob R. Gearinger, who, until within a few weeks ago, was pastor of the Nagle Street Church of God in South Harrisburg, is in jail at Chambersburg charged with rape.
The father of Annie J. Miller, of Conoy street, is the prosecutor. It is alleged in the information made before a Chambersburg magistrate that the crime was committed in that town, August 14, while Miss Miller, who is but fifteen years old, was visiting relatives there.

The recent arrest of Gearinger at given to poring over such literature as the "Life of Jesse James," &c. the residence of John Railing, on Hanna street, Harrisburg, created a sensation in the southern section of the city and was still the topic of conversation last evening. Gearinger was popular among the members of the little Church of God who looked back. Levelling his gun at Dunbar he upon him as being a man of excellent parts. He had not taken a full course in the institution at which he had been preparing himself for the ministry, Gearinger was entertaining and eloquent in the pulpit and during his pastorate much interest was taken in the affairs of the church. A Boy Bandit.

The following illustrates the vicious effect of cheap literature upon aspiring youth.

MOUNT STERLING, Ill., Sept. 24 .-This place, the county seat of Brown County, was the scene of a sensational bank hold-up at 10.20 this morning, Ralph Conklin, an eighteen year-old youth, being the robber. Conklin is a native of Brown County, his parents residing a mile and a half northeast of Mount Sterling, and he has been

The young fellow left home this morning with an old fashion, muzzle-loading, double-barrelled shotgun and made for Mount Sterling. On his way compelled him to dismount, and then got on the horse himself and rode into Mount Sterling.

Riding to the rear of the Bloomfield Skiles Bank, Conklin dismounted, and, leaving a boy to hold his horse, donned a mask, entered the bank by a rear door and ordered the cashier, J. D. Milestead, to put up his hands. Milestead refused at first, saying: "What are you doing? What's the matter with you?"

"Hold up your hands or I'll show you what's the matter," retorted Conklin, drawing a bead on the cash-

At this Milestead ran out through the rear door. Conklin lost no time, and in a few minutes had gathered up all the money in sight, $411.

Ed. Allison, who was in the bank, had in the mean time run out into the street and given the alarm.

After pocketing the money Conklin went out through the rear door, and was just mounting his horse when Alf Snodgrass, the constable, ran up and grabbed him. Conklin jerked away and ran down the street in the direction of the court-house. Jack Nightswonder tried to intercept him and Conklin fired on him, the shot passing through Nightswonder's coat. but doing no bodily injury.

By this time Conklin was being followed by a crowd of citizens. Reaching the court-house, Conklin tried to seize a horse and cart, but he was knocked off by a brick thrown by one of the farmers.

A few blocks north of the courthouse Conklin was confronted by Jules Cox, armed with a gun, and his person.

The bank is on the most prominent GRAPHS corner in the city, directly under the new Bloomfield Hotel, and the robber had to pass through the hotel and through Ricker's drug store in order to get into the bank.

In jail Conklin said that four men came to his house Sunday night and, drawing their pistols, made him promise that he would rob the bank this morning. He said that if given his Secretary Edge of the State Board of Agriculture is after fertilizer agents IS who are not complying with the law. The other day he issued the following circular: "The attention of agents and others offering or selling commer-cial fertilizers is hereby called to the fact that they as well as the manufacturer, are personally responsible for a heavy penalty, one-half of which goes to the informer, if the fertilizer offered have not been branded in accordance with law; or if they are found not to be up to the guaranteed analysis. Some manufacturers have become careless about renewing their license promptly on the first of August of each year; any agent handling the fertilizers of such manufacturers is liable to full penalty prescribed by law. It is the duty of the agent, if he desires to protect himself, to know that the fertilizers which he sells are licensed according to law."

It is announced that a trial of more than usual interest will come up at the present term of criminal court in Delaware county because of the wide acquaintanceship of the party. It will be remembered that Prof. Swithin C. Shortlidge, of the Academy at Media, most cruelly murdered his wife in December last while walking together on the public streets of Media. At the time of committing the deed he was sick and was pronounced insane. Since then he has been confined in the Norristown Asylum. But notwithstanding this fact a former grand jury returned true bills against him for murder. The family of Mrs. Shortlidge are determined to convict him if possible. His mental condition shows marked improvement since his incar-ceration. Expert testimony will be adduced both pro and con and it will be a contest between scientists.
