There being no less than eleven points of difference between France and England connected with frontier matters in dispute, they are now positively known to be at loggerheads and to be making very ugly faces at each other over one point in particular, it is known as the Madagascar trouble. Candidate Hill's plan for making the two wings of the New York Democracy flap together seems to have partially succeeded. By the device of offering to the Committee of Seventy the name of John W. Goff for Mayor, who they were sure would neither accept the nomination nor be accepted by the Republicans, the Grace-Cleveland State Democrats were furnished with a pretext for withdrawing from the anti-Tammany conference last evening. The conference adopted a ticket headed by William L. Strong, Republican, for Mayor, and John W. Goff, Democrat, for Recorder, and the Republican Convention indorsed the ticket. The State Democracy will probably nominate William R. Grace, who, at the dictation of Hill and Whitney, will be indorsed by the Tammany organization. This leaves only one recalcitrant body of Democrats, the Sheppard faction of Kings county to be harmonized, and if they cannot be harmonized otherwise it is possible that Hill may withdraw and allow the State commit-tee to substitute the name of Judge Gaynor in his place. The probabilities, however, are that, having pulled the however, are that, having pulled the State Democracy and the Tammany organization in New York together, he will remain at the head of the ticket and make the fight of his life .-The Times.

Mr. Singerly's Acceptance.

On Saturday, September 27, at the Lafayette Hotel, Philadelphia, the Democratic State nominees were of ficially informed, by Hon. W. U. Hensel, permanent chairman of the late spoke as follows:

myself, I beg to say that the honor done us by the Democracy of Pennsylvania in naming us their candidates for the State ticket, and the kind terms in which you have given us forappreciated.

The people can take care of themselves. Legislation which promotes capitalistic aggregations, syndicates, increase wages," upon the other hand trusts and political combinations for his friends and followers are already the purpose of plunder, promotes counter organizations of the plundered, will be perfectly fair to reduce wages and disorganizes society. A resump-tion of simpler Jeffersonian methods, protection has raised them." Effect of the Foreign War Now Predicted.

China's sudden and rade awakening from stolid conceit and complacent confidence may have important and farreaching results not only in the empire itself, but in the future history of the world. What the fierce kindling of the war spirit would mean in a country with a population numbered by hundreds of millions must of course be left largely to conjecture. - Boston

While McKinley himself is quoted as saying "no one ever claimed that protective tariffs were intended to trying to make votes by saying, "it to exactly the extent to which high sidering the numerous strikes during the prevalence of the McKinley law, they of themselves seem rather to confirm the quoted remark of McKinley than to indorse or justify the contem sense of the phrase.

Our best efforts will be given to make the campaign successful, and we not protect the labor in wages upon which they have grown so arrogant, why further impose upon the masses for their particular benefit and further enrichment. When our protected industries presume to say just what they will have from Congress in shape of laws, and just what they will not have from employees who ask a liberal share of their handsome profits, we can see no evil in doing by them as they have uniformly done by their employees, namely, reduce their earnings by curtailing somewhat the spe-cial favors hitherto shown them. We ate upon the few rich manufacturers (who are no doubt specially benefitted

The naked truth, still fresh in the their monopolies are carried on in the the protective tariffs were intended to increase the laborer's wages," pecuniary interest has the laborer in high and just as long as the deluded people protection? Though McKinley did not say so the fact is quite apparent favor and consequent monopoly in that somebody else than the laborer must be benefitted, and greatly benefitted, by high protection. And it it is statesmanlike and patriotic that dismiss its employees to the very last these special benefits shall be continuman if by the distress thus engendered ed to manufacturers (now out of their swaddling clothes and quite able to escape the poor-house) then we into power. The same may be truth should all vote to continue special favors to a special few; but taking what seems to us the more rational equitable, and patriotic view of it, our first care should be for the masses who are generally left to care for themselves as best they can even though promised equitable laws by stamp speakers before election.
