The Danville fair is on this week. Go down and see it.

W. F. Hartman, of East Main street, having added greatly to the appearance of his buildings is now giving attention to the parking about them.

No Griping, no Nausea, no Pain, when DeWitt's Little Early Risers are taken. Small Pill. Safe Pill. Best Pill. -W. S. Rishton, Druggist.

The celebrated "Apollo" and "Valey Novelty" ranges are now on exhibition and for sale at the hardware store of Hartman & Harman. 4t.*

Workmen are now busily engaged putting down a remarkably fine pavement on East 5th street. As it leads clear out to Oak Grove Park, it is very apt to enhance the value of property in this section.

Salve, giving instant relief. Its a wonderful good salve for burns, bruises, sores, and a sure cure for Piles .- W. S. Rishton, Druggist.

John Joy, of California, is no longer joyful, he having recently been sentenced to life imprisonment, by Judge Wallace, under the habitual criminal act. His last crime was that of robbing a man of $5, and this in connetion with a long series of accumulative crimes deprives him all personal liberty hereafter.

A factory that could supply bridles for the tongues of all the scancalmongers who are plying their infamous vocation hereabouts, would do a good business. Of all the trash that has been put in circulation recently, there is probably not one word of truth, and it may be safely asserted that the parties who are so regardless of the reputation of others will be found in residences composed largely of glass.

The recent train robbery at Acquia Creek, Va., whereby $182,000 was stolen, is supposed to have been planned and headed by the notorious George Carter, who, besides being a practical engineer, is quite familiar with the neighborhood in which the robbery took place. This robbery has the distinction of being the largest on record, and up to present writing the bandits are at large. With 300 passengers on board the train it seems strange that seven men should thus succeed in getting away with all that

A large and enthusiastic political meeting was addressed at Rohrsburg last Thursday eve. by Fred. Ikeler and Jno. G. Harman, Esqs. The officers were as follows. Pres. G. W. Utt, Esq. Vice Presidents, Wesley Morris, C. H. Dildine, Jno. Gillaspie, and Dr. J. B. Fullmer. Sec. Wm. J Kreamer.

The Committeeman for this district, Peter Kline, esq., is a hustler and the arrangements were complete.

When milliners tell reporters that they have more business and orders than they can handle, it would seem to be high time to conclude that busi-ness is picking up generally. This we are pleased to report as a positive now occupying the Mrs. Phillips stand on Main street, contemplates further improvement of his spacious ice cream and oyster parlor.

fact in Bloomsburg. It is possibly the result of many new bonnets ordered during the fair. We give it as we got it and for what it is worth to the calamity howler, who will be sad enough Hon. C. R. Buckalew and Rev. to hear of this highly indicative boom. Charles H. Steck will speak in the in bonnets.

The twelve years in penitentiary which was recently given the train-wreckers De Camp and McConnell Rishton's windows are always ar-ranged in an attractive manner. One of them contains a shower of tooth-brushes, and the other is filled with short of life imprisonment at hard labor is too short in our opinion. If the perpetrator of a single deliberate murder must suffer the penalty of death, why the train wrecker who cares not how many he kills in con sequence, should certainly never have the second opportunity to wreck a

Among the most attractive exhibits in the main building at the fair was the painted china of Miss Nellie Patterson. It included a half dozen fruit plates, cups and saucers, pin trays and master hand. Miss Patterson has devoted much time to the study of art decoration and has attained a degree train to Sunbury. For instance, Mrs. Chas. Rogers, of Bay City, Mich., accidentally spilled scalding water over her little boy. She winter, and the other a leader of perfection seldom reached by amateurs. > The Bloomsburg School Director, editor of the Republican, in last week's issue, attempts to justify the Bloomsburg School Board for requesting the payment of $10.00 for the use of part of the High School building for a short time during Institute week because he says I have claimed in the settlement and audning of my account that I gave the janitor a tip of an annual average of ten dollars.

> His statement is a deliberate false hood as I never gave the janitor a tip for services Institute week and never claimed that I did; and I never was obliged to pay the janitor ten dollars or an annual average of ten dollars for his services that week, and I never claimed that I paid him ten dollars or an average of ten dollars.

> Mr. Brown's use of the term " tip ' is unaccountable unless he is so accustomed to "tipping" hotel waitresses that he uses the term carelessly.

Very Respectfully, WILLIAM C. JOHNSTON, County Supt. Jerseytown, Pa., Oct. 16, 1894.

Ran Away With the Money.

The Jockey Minstrels gave a good show to a big house last Saturday night, and after the performance it was found that the backer and his wife had disappeared, leaving most of the members of the company penniless, and a week's salary due. Another performance was given on Monday night to raise money to get out of town with, but not enough was realized to pay the hotel bills. The manager went to Wilkes Barre on Tuesday to raise money. Some of the musicians endeavored to sell their instruments to get back to New York. It is believed that the man who ran off with this money was concealed in a room in the Exchange Hotel all day Sunday. A couple went there about midnight and registered as G. Cowles and wife, and had tered as G. Cowles and wife, and had plates, cups and saucers, pin trays and numerous other pieces. The painting their meals sent up to the room on Sunday. About four o'clock they got kicking, &c. on the other hand. a team and were driven to Catawissa, ho claimed to own the goods, to seize the same and take them away, but he was too late, as the goods were attached by Mr. Aurand and Mrs. Phillips for board. The troupe got some of their baggage to pay board Power. bills.

Candidate for State Senator, James Henry Cochran, was in Bloomsburg Friday attending the fair. He met a great many of Columbia County's leading Democrats, and was accompanied by Seth T. McCormick, John J. Reardon, Seth Foresman and Judge Metzger of Williamsport, all of whom are interested very deeply in Mr. Cochran's securing a large Democratic vote in the district.

Mr. Cochran is deservedly popular and makes friends wherever he an-pears, and there is no doubt but that he will carry the district by over 5000 majority. He and his friends were entertained at dinner at the house of Senator Herring in the evening, and left on the 8:18 train for Williamsport.

Theatrical Entertainment. There is no doubt that manager Holmes would feel more encouraged in his efforts to provide theatrical entertainment for the citizens of Bloomsburg were they more disposed to patronize the theatre. But is it not the truth that the nomadic troupes are somewhat to blame in their want of ability-not to say respectability-to attract and hold those who are apt to seek an evening's entertainment at the theatre. To advertise high toned entertainments is one thing, but the more important thing is to make people believe they are edifying and proper entertainments after having been fooled over and over again. Fooled by the stereotyped expression, "no of-

Crowded storeroom. Busy salesmen. Customers going out pleased. Customers coming in to get pleased. Tables loaded with new and stylish suits and overcoats for men and boys. Shelves loaded with hats and furnishings that find favor among the best dressers of this community. Such is what you'll find here. Not only that. Bear in mind that we have brought our business up to its present standard by selling first-class goods at honest prices; dealing with our customers as we would be dealt with. Do not claim to sell cheap clothing. Never did. But we do claim to sell the BFST, and that we sell it at prices below what other dealers ask for cheap clothes is evident by the vast increase in our business each succeeding season. We're looking for your trade if we've not already got it, and if you appreciate honorable business efforts together with a determination to do justice and please our customers you'll call at this store, the largest and finest clothing establishment in this vi-
