

How to Mark a Ballot.

In order that our readers may understand how to mark the ballot to be used next Tuesday, we enclose in each paper this specimen. The following are the sections relating to the marking of ballots. At the top of each ballot are these words: "A cross (X marked in the square at the right of the name of each candidate, inside the line enclosing the column, indicates a vote for each candidate thus marked. If a cross (X) be marked within the circle, it will be equivalent to a mark opposite every name in the column. Those who do not desire to vote a straight ticket must not mark a cross within the circle at the head of the column."

SECTION 22. On receipt of his ballot the voter shall forthwith and without leaving the space enclosed by the guard-rail, retire to one of the voting shelves or compartments, and draw the curtain or shut the screen or door, and shall prepare his ballot by marking, if he desires to vote for every candidate of a political party, a cross in the circle above the column of such party, if otherwise, he shall mark in the appropriate margin or place a cross (x) opposite the party name or political designation, or a group of candidates for presidential electors, and opposite the name of the candidate of his choice for each other office to be filled, according to the number of persons to be voted for by him for each office, or by inserting in the blank space provided therefor any name not already on the ballot; and in case of a question submitted to a vote of the people, by marking in the appropriate margin or place a cross (x) against the answer which he desires to give. In all cases where by existing laws a voter is entitled to cast more than one vote for a single candidate, he shall place in the appropriate square, instead of a cross, a number which shall indicate the number of votes to be counted for the candidate whose name is so marked. Before leaving the voting shelf or compartment, the voter shall fold his ballot without displaying the marks thereon, in the same way it was folded when received by him, and he shall keep the same so folded until he has voted.

To vote the Democratic ticket straight, make a cross in the circle at the top of the second column.

Soft words may turn away wrath, but it is hard to convince the excited that they will also elect candidates for office. If the offices are worth the hard things said under political excitement how would it do to reduce the pay of elective officials.
