DEMOCRATIC MEETINGS.

The Opera House and Court House both filled at the closing demonstration of the Campaign.

Last week Thursday night the Democrats had their closing meeting of the campaign in Bloomsburg. A week before, the leaders were assured the County Chairman, William Chrisman Esq. so announced by hand-bills and through the newspapers. That these gentleman did not get here was no fault of Mr. Chrisman or Senator by deft hands. Herring or anybody else in Bloomssix speeches a day in the open air, allow. and when they reached Wilkes-Barre on Thursday afternoon it was found that Mr. Singerly must go to Scranton and Mr. Hensel to Honesdale. Gov. that evening, though suffering from the morning and succeeded in secur ing the services of James M. Beck Esq. of Philadelphia, and with Thomas Collins, candidate for con gressman-at-large they came down on consisting of Hon E R Ikeler, John R Townsend, Joseph Ratti, J. K. Lockard, W. H. Rhawn, R. Buckingham, Louis Cohen and Chairman Chrisman, with W. Hartzell's hand some gray four in hand and barouche stimulate the newly married to go to for the speakers, and numerous other vehicles. As they came down Main street there was a magnificent display of rockets and red fire. After supper at the Bloomsburg Club House, a meeting was organized at the Opera House with the following officers:

President—John G. Freeze, Vice Presidents—Jas. Quick, C. B. Robbins, John Kelly, J. C. Rutter Jr., A. V. Kressler, Amos Wanich, Wm. Dietrick, John G. McHenry, Daniel McHenry, C. A. Kleim, F. R. Carpenter, Hiram Manning, Jos. Edwards, N. U. Funk, Martin Rassmus, Chas. Taylor, Chas. B. Ohl, Miss Eva McHenry, Miss Blanch McMiss Eva McHenry Mis vehicles. As they came down Main

Redeker, Samuel A. Goodhue, J. P. Hon. Iram Derr, Hon. Thos. Chalfant, Dr. P. C. Newbaker, and Dr. Grier Barber.

Secretaries-Geo. E. Elwell, Wm. Krickbaum, C. E. Randall and W.

The Hall was packed to the doors, and the Court House was thrown open for an overflow meeting, and here too every seat was occupied.

Mr. Beck was escorted to the Opera House by Messrs. Mercer, Khawn and Buckingham, and was introduced by Col. Freeze. He was greeted with great applause, and he made an admirable address. He is one of the foremost orators of the State, and his speech was scholarly and eloquent, and he held the close attention of the vast audience for over an hour. It is too late now to Mauser to serve until a successor is home. The funeral service was conattempt to repeat any of the telling points that he made. His argument bristled with points from start to finish. Fred Ikeler Esq. followed him in a brief address, in the usual well known eloquent style of our pop-ular young townsman. Mr. Beck was escorted to the Court House where Senator Herring had been making one of his vigorous bombardments of the citadels of Republicanism for an hour, and spoke for about twenty minutes. He was then taken across the river again, and returned to Wilkes Barre by special train. The stage at the Opera House was beautifully decorated with flags and palms, and a large mound of roses rested on the the speaker's table. Prof. Elwell's orchestra was present, and interspersed the proceedings with several of their choice selections. The B. & S, train was late, not reaching here until nine o'clock. It brought several hundred people, and the Benton Band.

A babe a few months old, of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Barrett of Cambra, died of cholera infantum last Sunday. It was buried at New Columbus on Wednesday.

The first snow storm of the season began on Wednesday night.

A BRILLIANT WEDDING.

As gay and pleasant a little wedding in the country as is often seen was that of Mr. J. E. R. Killgore, of New Columbus, to Miss Hattie May Pealer of the same place on last Sunday evening.

Until quite recently the groom being well educated had been the printhat William M. Singerly and Attorney cipal assistant of his father, Dr. Kill General Hensel would be here, and gore, who is still the Principal of the New Columbus Academy.

An Influential Man Dead.

On Friday of last week Rev. Heilman of the Lutheran church was called to the bedside of his father Abram Heilman, near Muncy. For four years he had been confined to his bed by rheumatism, which was the immediate cause of his death. Mr. Heilman was a faithful member of the Lutheran church and was well known as an active Christian worker both in Church and Sunday School and was a frequent representative in Synodical meetings. His death occurred on his 75th birthtwp, to fill vacancy caused by removal day and his burial on election day in court judge of election in second ward He leaves to mourn his loss three

> On Wednesday afternoon the 31st ult. Miss Mary Catharine Boone, of Afton, was united in the bonds of wedlock to Mr. J. Edwin Pague, of Carlisle Pa. Rev. Stevens performed the interesting ceremony in the presence of many invited guests. Miss Shoemaker, of Philadelphia, and Misses Katie and Ella Vastine, of Riverside, were the bridesmaids, while a brother of the bride and a brother of groom officiated as attendants. The occasion was a most brilliant and happy one and was witnessed by many from Bloomsburg.

> The season for street sprinkling has closed and E. J. Brown has housed his sprinkler for the winter. His work has given excellent satisfaction to his patrons, and the streets have been freer from dust than ever before. J. L. Dillon and Geo. Runyon are in Philadelphia this week attending the chrysanthemum show.

Rev. P. A. Heilman, the popular Lutheran preacher of Bloomsburg went to Muncy last week to visit his sick fatner who has since died.

Hon, E. M. Tewksbury was in Bloomsburg on Friday, after an extended tour in the in-terest of the Democratic party.

Miss Anna Hassert has been visiting her sisters, Mrs. Erath of Wilkes-Barre, and Mrs. Sleppy at Kingston. Stephen Dresher and daughter, Miss Josephine of Stillwater, listened to the demo-cratic speeches here last Thursday night. Mr. and Mrs. Brayton anticipate a trip to the West Indies in the near future, Mr.

Brayton will enter into business there. A. J. Derr and his venerable father Judge

Iram Derr of Jackson township, spent last Thursday in town, and remained over night to attend the democratic meeting. Mr. Myron I. Low and a friend from Lime Ridge, took a trip up the creek last Saturday. They returned in the evening with a fine lot of pheasants. Mrs. Woodin and Mrs. Hanly of Berwick, who sailed for Europe recently, will spend the winter in Nice. They expect to return home next May.

Postmaster Chalfant, Geo. W. Miles and M. Ellenbogen of Danville were among those who came up from that place last Thursday night to attend the Democratic meeting.

Judge Elwell rode up to the polls on Tues-day and cast his ballot the sixty-sixth time at a fall election. He remarked to the board that during that time he had been on the winning side about half the time.

A recent letter from Woodin Hanly states that he has sailed from Melbourne, Australia, and will fouch at twenty or more ports be-fore landing at London. From there he will Col. Jameson came home last Saturday and remained until after election It was through his efforts that Thomas Collins was on the Democratic ticket for cong man-at-large, and the Colonel was very much interested in his receiving a good vote. Prof. J. H. Kurzenknabe, of Harrisburg, well known as a director of music at camp-meetings about here, and at present president of the State Music Teacher's Association, has recently received a certificate from the London College of Music and which or-ganization he will hereafter represent in this

The experience of last Tuesday evening has clearly shown that the court-room is not the place to receive election returns. The room was crowded full of members of all parties, and a noisy gang of boys who ought not to have been allowed there. Every body smoked, and chewed and spit, and stood on the seats, and the next morning the room presented a sorry spectacle. It is eminently proper that the court-house should be used by the public for public gatherings such as lectures or speeches, where good order is maintained, and cleanliness ducted by Rev. F. A. Koser his pastor citement on election night, and every and Rev. A. W. Lentz, of Millerville. thing goes. It is proper to say that the commissioners permitted the use of the court-room at the request of the chairmen of the two county committees. Hereafter it is likely that each party will receive the news in its own hall, and neither of them will use the court room.

> Dr. McReyno'ds showed us a fine pear recently, of the Keefer variety, that his tree produced this year. It was quite equal to anything we ever saw from California. It weighed just one pound.

A visit to Dillon's chrysanthemum house will be enjoyed by all lovers of beautiful flowers. One house several hundred feet long is devoted to the culture of these popular plants, and they are now in full bloom, in numerous varieties.

A remarkable case of longevity is that of Mrs. Mary Walker, of Easton, Pa., who lived to be 104 years and 1 day old. She died on the morning of the 6th instant; her husband William Walter, having died on his seventieth The Normal and Bloom teams will birthday 33 years ago.
