JAPAN SCORNS PEACEMAKERS.

Bound to Dictate Terms from Peking and Will Brook No intervention from European Nations.

PARIS, Nov. 6 .- The World correpondent called to day on Mr. Sonte, lapan's Minister to France, to inquire s to the truth of the repeated rumors regarding the intervention of the powers to enforce peace between China and Japan.

Mr. Sonte, still young, though he has gray hair, is a cultivated. polished gentleman, without any assumption of pride of office. He is a great admirer of America, has many American books in his library and is full of enthusiasm over the enterprise of the American press as illustrated by The World.

He told The World correspondent that there is no truth in the rumored peace negotiations. "Japan, being victor," he said, is not anxious to sue for peace. Sae will persevere in the war and will not rest until Chine is quite defeated.

"If China were to sue for peace, that would be a different matter. But China is untruthful. She is a har, and cannot be trusted.

" Japan intends to dictate terms of peace from Peking. If the powers should intervene now Japan would not listen to them. The powers can do nothing."

The World correspondent suggested that China would not be conquered, even when Peking is taken.

"No," replied Mr. Sonte. "China is a great, powerful, wealthy country, It is impossible to conquer her; but the reigning dynasty would accept Emperor cannot fly south because he is unpopular there. He must remain in Peking."

The World correspondent asked if it is true that Japan intends to di vide China into small separate king

"No," answered the Minister, " Ja pan is interested in maintaining the present dynasty. If China were to be divided into separate small kingdoms they would become strong and unite. That would mean the awakening at China, would be a danger to Japan and a misfortune for the whole world."

"Is it true," The World corre spondent inquired, "that Russia is concentrating troops on the Manchurian frontier so as to be ready to march into Corea?"

"Russia," Mr. Sonte observed, "may have a few troops there for purposes of a scientific survey, but for no other purpose. She often sends scientific expeditions and formerly even sent survey parties into Corea.

"The present Emperor of Russia, although wounded in Tokio in 1891, is well disposed towards Japan, has a strong affection for the Japanese peo ple and is in turn very popular. He is a personal friend of mine and I have known him some time. He has a most amiable disposition, is very clever and highly educated, but his modesty is so great he kept himself in the background during his father's

"He will be a great Emperor. Under his reign Japan will not fear

"But China cannot be trusted," Mr. Sonte repeated, getting red with wrath, "China lies. It is because she lied to us ten years ago that we were compelled to make this war."

At the French Foreign Office The World correspondent could not obtain any definite statement, though what he was told is significant. The official who received the correspondent said :

"What can the powers do? They can bring diplomatic pressure to bear, but Japan would not fear that. So England sends a big fleet to those waters. How can France detach her fleet when the English fleet remains

"The two powers are watching each other. If France or England sent a few cruisers I should not be surprised if Japan defeated them.

Japan to day is a great power and will not submit to dictation."

MAKING IT ALL RIGHT.

The man had a stub of whiskers on his chin which waggled when he talked, and kicked up their heels when he brought his jaws together.

"As I was sayin'," he remarked, when I was out West I seen 'em hang a man to a telegraft pole fer stealin' a hoss."

"Whose hoss?" asked a person sitling on a molasses barrel.

Nobuddy knowed"

"How'd they know he stole it?" "They ketched him ridin' it."

" Mebbe it was his'n." " P'raps." "Did the owner ever claim the boss ?"

" Not that I ever heerd."

"Then it must a been his'n." " P'haps."

"What become of it?" "They hel' it three months fer the owner to claim it, and then they sold it fer $87."

"What became of the money?" "Well, they spent it fer a monument to the man they hung. They thought mebbe they might a made a mistake, and they wanted to do the fair thing by the deceased."-Detroit Free Press.

Frank P. Rollins, of Mountain Grove, and Mrs. Luella Rollins, his wife, sparked all over the station from 4 o'clock until the 'Frisco train pulled out, says the St. Louis Globs Democrat. He bought her popcorn and candy and lemonade, and then he would take her hand and squeeze it, and they would both smile sweetly at each other until Mr. Rollins could contain himself no longer, but just had to rush off and buy some more fruit or something as a relief to his feelings. And all of this after five years of matrimony!

It was not hard for a curious person to worm himself into the confidence of the happy couple-they were both only too eager to tell anybody all about it. He was a stalwart, handsome young farmer in jeans. Lucila was clothed in a more sophisticated manner, having had the benefit of some six months of city experience.

"We've got a pretty nice farm down to Wright County," said Rollins, "and it'll be a sight nicer now we're going back to it. Won't it, Lu?"

"Yes, Frank, it will." "And we've been getting along pretty well ever since we were married | in 1889 up to last winter, when Lu she joined the Baptist Church, all our folks being Methodists, you know, although I ain't a professor myself. Well, you know how old folks is, There was Lu's ma and my ma and the rest of the women, and I guess I heerd more about infant baptism and mersion and falling from grace in about six weeks than would puzzle a our terms if we were in Peking. The Philadelphy Jawyer. Lu she argued one way, and the other folks they argued the other, and I couldn't chip into the play without turning the whole pack of 'em onto me. I just got so every time they'd get to talking I'd sneak out into the barn, where I had a diminyjohn hid out, and lay round there till I'd see the candles blown

"Well, one day I came home from Hartville and found a note from Lu, saying she couldn't stand it no more, and that soe'd up and quit, and that none of us needn't never expect to see hide nor hair of her again. I was pretty near crazy, and I lit into both the old woman and sister Dosha, who'd been making her share of the trouble, too, and I got that house so trimmed up that I ain't heerd a chirp about faith or works from that day twell now. The women were skeered any how, and sorry, too, for Lu was mighty popular with 'em outside of church matters. And then I set out to hunt Lu. I tracked her to Memphis, and there I lost her. That was in April. Well, I've been to Louisville on a false scent, and I've been to Vicksburg and Little Rock. Last week a neigh bor met up with Lu right on the street here and talked with her, and she said she'd come back if I'd come after her. Well, maybe I didn't come arunning, didn't I, Lu? And what's more, stranger, she has the consent of the whole family to believe what she dumb pleases from now on. You see, she done give us the worst scare any one of the family ever got."

"But how did you get along in the meantime?" the wife was asked. "I had a pretty hard time, but I'd a stayed away till I died before I'd a given in," Mrs. Rollins replied. "I had about $100 that I'd saved up, and I came direct from Memphis here. Then I went and saw a clergy man, whose name I knew, and he got me work with one of the families in the church. I tell you it was hard work, though, and I was lonesome for Frank all the time. But it's all over now, and I'm goin' home to stay."

"You bet your life you are, honey," said Frank, "or if you have to run again we'll just run away together."

"Trust those who have tried."

Catarrh caused hoarseness and difficulty in speaking. I also to a great extent lost hearing. By the use of Ely's Cream Balm dropping of mucus has ceased, voice and hearing have greatly improved .- J. W. Davidson, Att'y at Law, Monmouth, Ill.

I used Ely's Cream Balm for catarrh and have received great benefit. I believe it a safe and certain cure. Very pleasant to take.-Wm. Frazer, Rochester, N. Y.

Coal and Population -- Where to Get the One and Put the Other in the Future -- Vast Population of the United States -- Fertile Territory of Manitoba.

It is quite true that the temperate regions of the world are becoming more populous, just as it is equally true that the stock of coal in the world is being gradually exhausted. The coal supplies of the United Kingdom are, for all practical purposes, much larger than they were 50 years ago, when a great geologist persuaded a great minister to stave off a prospective danger by imposing an export duty on

Since that time new coal fields have been discovered, new mines have been at depths which would have been declared impracticable then, and the stock of available coal, though hundreds of millions of tons have been consumed in the interval, is actually larger than it was at the commencement of the present reign. Just the same thing may be said of the great countries in the western and southern hemispheres, which are becoming the new homes of the Teutonic race.

Almost every new trade route, almost every new colonial railway, has opened out fresh territory to the colonist, and the land available for colonization, instead of becoming less, is, for all practical purposes, greater than it was 50 years ago. True that in the United States most of the land has already been appropriated, while the population has increased till it has doubled that of Great Britain. But vast as is the population of the United States, they would easily sustain, if they were peopled as England is peopled, 20 times their present num-

The Anglo Saxon race might go on multiplying at its present rate for 250 years, and might pour the whole addition to its numbers into the United States, and, at the end of that period, they would not be more thickly peopled than the Netherlands are now. The thumb is an unfailing index of character. The Square Type indicates a strong will, great energy and firmness. Closely allied is the Spatulated Type, the thamb of those of advanced ideas and business ability. Both of these types belong to the busy man or woman; and Demorest's Family Magazine prepares especially for such persons a whole volume of new ideas, condensed in a small space, so that the record of the whole world's work for a month may be read in half an hour. The Conteal Type indicates refinement, culture, and a love of music, poetry, and fiction. A person with this type of thumb will thoroughly enjoy the literary attractions of Demorest's Magazine. The Artistic Type indicates a love of beauty and art, which will find rare pleasure in the magnificent oil-picture of roses, 1614 x 24 inches, reproduced from the original painting by De Longpré, the most celebrated of living flower-painters, which will be given to every subscriber to Demorest's Magazine for 1895. The cost of this superb work of art was $350.00: and the reproduction cannot be distinguished from the original. Besides this, an exquisite oil or water-color picture is published in each number of the Magazine, and the articles are so profusely and superby illustrated that the Magazine is, in reality, a portfolio of art works of the highest order. The Philosophic Type is the Artistic. fusely and superbly illustrated that the Magnaigne is, in reality, a portfolio of art works of the highest order. The Philosophic Type is the thumb of the thinker and inventor of ideas, who will be deeply interested in those developed monthly in Demorest's Magnaine, in everyone of its numerous departments, which cover the entire artistic and scientific field, chronicling every fact, fancy, and fait of the day, Demorest's is simply a perfect Pamily Magnaine, and was long ago crowned Queen of the Monthiles. Send in your subscription; it will cost only $2.00, and you will have a dozen Magnaines in one. Address W JESNINGS DEMOREST, Publisher, 15 East 14th Street, New York.
