GENERAL NEWS.

Hinton G. Lee, a traveling agent of Williamsport, recently yielded to the strong temptations of Wall Street and foolishly invested his employer's money and of course lost it. The strong hand of the law is now bearing down hard upon Hinton in consequence. His employer gave him in trust $650, to be invested otherwise, but Hinton overlooked instructions in his anxiety to get rich quick.

General Cassius Marcellus Clay, aged 84, once President Lincoln's minister to Russia, recently led Miss Dora Richardson, aged 15, to the marriage altar in Kentucky—the land of conjugal sensation and the home of Breckinridge.

Because of short pasturage in some parts of the west good horses are being sold as low as $5 in many cases.

Chicago, not willing to be outdone by New York in either vice or virtue now also threatens a kind of Lexow investigation of the peculiarities of her city police. There are those who claim that some of their peculiarities are reprehensible.

The loss of his money at betting on horses, &c., and then the loss of his health, induced Jared Davis of Massachusetts to shoot himself recently.

A cut to advantage was made by a New York pick-pocket recently, who cleverly relieved Senor Modesta Soliano, Consul-General of Ecuador, of his pocket-book containing $850. The Consul-General was traveling on an elevated train and was met by chance, as it were, the thief having cut through the overcoat and also the frock coat pocket before he succeeded in reaching the wallet. New York is the home of artists of all kinds.

The largest American merchant vessel ever built was formally christened "The St. Louis" by Mrs. Cleveland and launched in grand style at the Cramp ship-yards on Monday the 12th, inst. The vessel is the first ocean grey-hound built in America, and the largest vessel afloat, with two exceptions. It is 554 feet long, and 63 feet wide, and has accommodations for 1,770 people.

Mrs. Lane, of Wilmington, a sleep walker, recently fell from a second-story window of a New York hotel and sustained serious injuries. She was found unconscious on the pavement early in the morning by a policeman, and when removed to the hospital and restored to consciousness she gave her name as Mrs. Jennie Wilmington of Brooklyn. Her injuries are likely fatal, she having sustained internal injury besides breaking several bones in the fall.

Robert Fitzsimmons, Esq., the pugilist, now has a little theatrical company of his own, though he is still interested in prize fighting, it being rather more lucrative than variety theatre work. He thinks quite favorable of the $50,000 offer of the Edison Kinetoscope Company for him to fight the bully in Mexico.

An organist of Pottsville has determined to rejoin church when he gets out of jail, where he was placed for making counterfeit money. It is possible that lack of his church membership was the money he made for playing the organ, and the pay not being as high as he wanted, he made a little money of his own.

NO. 1.

Well! the play is played out, the curtain has been rung down, the prompter has closed his book, the players have left the stage, and the lights are out. This is a good time to take account of stock, to look up the dead, wounded and missing, and to prepare for the battle of 1896. Lest something should be forgotten which ought to be remembered, we propose to put on record in these Essays facts for our party friends which may be useful in the coming contests.

Ex-Secretary Whitney is one of the shrewdest political observers in the country. He says:

It does not require a seer to see that the causes of yesterday's results were both general and special. It is a repetition, to my mind, of 1874, with the parties reversed. The panic of 1873 resulted in the great Democratic tidal wave of 1874, and the hard times of 1893 and 1894 have resulted in this great Republican victory.

That is the great underlying general cause, but along with it is the fact that the Democratic party has misbehaved since 1892, and disgusted large bodies of its friends and supporters. That fact has been perfectly evident to everybody. When people are poor and hungry they actually are against the Government, and the party in power gets the blame of it.

A great many who have loyally supported the party this time will rather rejoice at the thoroughness and completeness of the whipping. If it was to be, they would rather have the lesson written out strong enough not to be mistaken. I do not think it is a verdict against the party or its principles. The Republicans will say so, and it will take a long time to get over it, but the Democratic party has had four times as many defeats as victories since I have been a voter, and it does not demoralize easily. It will be stronger in the end.

The Reading Morning Herald has this to say of the political result last week as compared with that of 1890, and the then overthrow of the Republicans.

"The Democratic defeat in the country on Tuesday is not unprecedented. It is closely paralleled by the great landslide against the Republicans in the second year of President Harrison's term.

"In the fifty-first Congress the Republicans had a working majority in the House. In the elections of 1890 this was converted into a Democratic majority of about one hundred and fifty. As far as the new tariff was involved in the elections the condemnation of the McKinley law was far more emphatic than is the disapproval of the Democratic measure.

"The reversal of the State elections was quite general in 1890 if not so pronounced as it has been this year. Pennsylvania the rock-ribbed Republican State which gave Harrison 70,000 majority in 1888, elected a Democratic Governor by 16,000 in 1890. Illinois, which gave Harrison a majority of 22,000, elected a Democratic Treasurer by 10,000 in 1890. Massachusetts, which had been Republican with only two exceptions for thirty years, and which gave Harrison a majority of 32,000, elected a Democratic Governor two years later by over 9,000 majority. Michigan, Nebraska, Oregon and Wisconsin, all Republican States, went with the avalanche for the Democrats in the middle of Harrison's term.

"If Wilson, the champion of Democratic Tariff Reform in the House, is defeated this year, was not McKinley beaten in 1890?"

"A political reverse in the middle of the administrative term has been the rule in our history. No President since the end of the war and reconstruction period has carried a party majority in Congress through his term.

"There is discipline in the Democratic defeat, but it is neither unprecedented nor final. The Republicans have rope enough to hang them selves, and their record indicates that they will do it before 1896."

Just for the Honor of It.

There are a number of applicants in Harrisburg for positions on the military staff of Governor-elect Hastings. The position in demand is that of lieutenant colonel, with nothing to do and plenty of gold lace and brass buttons. There are eleven lieutenant colonels on the staff. The position pays nothing except for service during camp. These officers must buy their own equipments and bear their own expenses when accompanying the governor to receptions, parades, &c. It costs on an average of $500 a year for the honor of serving as an aide-de-camp on the staff of a Pennsylvania governor.

Resigned.

Another attempt to resign his pastorate was made by Rev. Dr. T. De Witt Talmage on the 5th instant. It is said he does not care to ask his old congregation to build the Fourth church for him, and that he prefers either a new pastorate or Evangelistic work in the future. It looks as though this resignation would be accepted by the board of managers.

Not Without Hope.

Though defeated, Democracy will again come up smiling. She has fought too good and effective a fight against herself and her enemies to be dismayed in the face of the apparent beneficial results of her equitable legislation. Her equitable legislation is not in dispute nor nullified by defeat; nor can her defeat be based upon it. This the popular sentiment of the country will yet recognize and approve as heartily as it sought reform by and through the elevation of the party into power. Nor will her political opponents be swift in their attempt to undo her tariff legislation. And why? Surely not because the protection of all manner of trusts, combines and monopolies will be less desirable with them, but because they know it will be impolitic to attempt it. There will be no change of issue, so far as Democracy is concerned. Her aim will continue to be along the line of further tariff reduction while the Republican party, elated over temporary success, will continue to champion the cause of the money power of America upon the tariff and every other issue that may arise. This being the attitude, in times of ordinary prosperity Democratic opportunities, we hold, will be worth more to the country and to the individual aspirant than Republican hope of continued favor.

It was upon the promise of tariff reform that Democracy swept Republicans overboard quite as disastrously as she now finds herself submerged through popular disgust at her failure to harmonize and to punctually fulfill her ante election promises. The President was almost alone in the honest effort, and in consequence disastrous political, commercial, and business depression wrought out the inglorious defeat leaving Hill, Gorman & Co., to gather what consolation they can from the temporary rebuke of the sovereign power.

The internal strife within the party and at the very seat of Government reached out in all directions and entering the halls of legislation, State and National it was an ominous precursor of party demoralization that headed directly for the inglorious revolution that followed in consequence. And yet the untrifled are not without hope for the future by any means. We are fast becoming acquainted with political "landslides," "slumps," &c., that are based upon the real or imaginary ailments of the sovereign voters, many of whom while they can neither read or write are got quite able to feel distress when it strike them.

Business Depression.

If Democratic ascendancy has been responsible for business depression it is just as well, perhaps that Republicans are again partially permitted to share the responsibility by regaining control of the lower House of Congress, as they no doubt have done through the last election. We fancy, however, that strikes so common under the Republican regime will still be heard of, and that the same old warfare between capital and labor will still be waged.

STATE GAME COMMISSION.

An Important Measure to be Presented to the Next Legislature.

The legislative committee of the State Sportsmen association, met in Harrisburg on the 8th inst. to discuss game, fish and bounty legislation. It was agreed to present bills to the next legislature providing for the establishment of a game commission to consist of six members to be appointed by the governor; the commissioners to serve without compensation other than their actual and necessary traveling expenses which are incurred in the performance of their official work. The commission is to appoint ten game wardens to be paid each $500 a year to see that the laws relating to game birds, quadrupeds and insectivorous birds are enforced.

The wardens are to work under the direction of the secretary of the commission, who will be chief game protector with a salary of $900 a year and have an office in this city. For the entire expenses of the work of the commission an appropriation of $15,000 will be asked for two years.

The association also decided to leave the present game laws remain as they are, except as to woodcock and squirrels, which shall be killed only after October 1 to December 31. At present woodcock can be taken from July 4 to December 31 and squirrels from September 1 to December 31.
