Miss Harriet Paul died at her home on East street, last Thursday, after a long and painful illness. Two sisters survive her. She had lived in Bloomsburg for many years, and was a member of St. Paul's church. The funeral was held at the house on Sunday afternoon, the services being conducted by Rev. W. C. Leverett.

Paul E. Wirt, who has so frequently demonstrated with cash his interest in all that pertains to the business welfare of Bloomsburg, has just recently invested $5,200 in real estate on the elevation known as Welsh Hill. Here he will no doubt erect another handsome and commodious residence in Bloomsburg, and greatly enhance contiguous property because of his im-provements in that neighbor-hood.

THE ORCHESTRAL CONCERT.

On Wednesday evening of last week Elwell's Orchestra gave its annual concert in the Opera House. The mem-bers of the orchestra are Chas. P. Elwell, director, violin; C. Max Stauffer, J. P. Casey, Alex. E. Cohen, violins; E. M. Holmes, violin; Miss Maude Runyon, piano; W. Metherell, bass viol; F. E. Miller, flute and piccolo; Morton Stevens, H. G. Eshleman, clarinets; E. F. Searle, L. E. McHenry, cornets; W. E. Knorr, trombone. P. F. Madden, of Bauer's orchestra, Scranton, played the drums and traps.

Every piece on the program was well rendered and heartily applauded, and numerous encores were responded to. This orchestra plays remarkably well, notwithstanding the fact that the pecuniary return to them is very small, and hence the inducement for frequent rehearsals is exceedingly solos by Mrs. Melick and Mr. O. H. Yetter, and a duet by Mrs. Melick and Miss Vida Miller. All of them were called out a second time, and the ladies were the recipients of handsome boquets. Mrs. Melick retains all her sweetness of voice, and sings as well as when she used to be heard the vocalists sang well and pleased the audience immensely. The descriptive pieces by the orchestra were especially fine and the burlesque imitation of a village orchestra brought down the house, and was twice encored.

The audience was small but select, and appreciative. The fact that there were meetings at nearly all of the churches, and a parade on the street, probably kept many away. The absentees missed a delightful entertainment. It is possible that the concert will be repeated soon, and then the Opera House ought to be filled from stage to door, in order that the somewhat prevalent idea that nothing can fill the hall but a Topsy, two bloodhounds and a jackass may be refuted.

. SHARP SHOOTING.

At the shooting tournament in Bloomsburg on Tuesday and Wednesday the record made by the marksmen shows preity steady aim. The participants on Tuesday were Messrs. Ely, Hughes, Yocum, Hawk, Vandyke, Mercer, Stroh, Hagenbuch, Bonham, Snyder, Boone and Cooper. These gentlemen did some very straight shooting, in some events covering all possibilities. The shooting was at targets and live birds on Wednesday.

A BRILLIANT WEDDING.

The marriage of Miss May A. Kuhn, of Bloomsburg, to Mr. Clement R. Butler, of Mauch Chunk on Wednesday evening the 5th instant, called together a very large and brilliant as-semblage of invited guests at the Lutheran church where the impressive ceremony was performed by kev. P. A. Heilman. This wedding was an exceptionally fine one throughout.

Reaching the church at the appointed time (6 o'clock) the ushers, followed by the maids, proceeded up the aisle to the altar and came down the middle aisle where they met the the middle aisle where they met the bride; then retracing their steps they returned to the altar where they formed an arch with the flowers they a penalty.

The bridal attendants were comprised as follows:

Maid of honor, Elizabeth R. Kuhn, sister of bride; best man Mr. Butler, brother of groom; bridesmaids, Miss Vida Miller, Josephine Barkley, and Daisy Williams, of Bloomsburg, and Miss Grace Wall, of Winchester, Va. ; ushers, Clark Sloan, Frank Wilson, and Samuel Harman, of Bloomsburg, and Mr. Sharkey of Mauch Chunk.

The dress of the bride was a very handsome white satin trimmed in chiffon. The maid of bonor was dressed in green and draped with white organdie and white ribbons. She carried red carnations and smilax while the bridesmaids were aressed in white organdies and green tibbons carrying white carnations and smilaa. After the ceremony the bridal party left the church in the usual formal way and proceeded in cabs to the home of the bride's mother, on Center street, where a royal repast was served. The presents were exceptionally numerous and fine, and the occasion may be truly said to have been a grand one. The happy couple it is said will begin married life in Mauch Chunk, Pa., the home and business place of Mr. Butler.

WEDDING BELLS.

Notable Society Event in Constantine---A Talented Young Lady Weds.

CONSTANTINE, Dec. 1 .- A very pretty wedding was solemnized in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends at the Lutheran church, by the Rev. C. J. Keifer of Three Rivers, Nov. 28, at 5 o'clock in the evening. The contracting parties were Mr. J. L. Richardson of Bloomsburg, Pa., and Miss Minnie Irene Bittenbender of this city. Harry A. Bittenben-der, cousin of the bride, acted as best man, and Miss Elizabeth Kelys of Grand Rapids, as maid of honor. The church was tastefully decorated with flowers and potted plants, and the arch at the altar covered with myrtle and chrysanthemums formed a very pleasing picture. O. H. Young presided at the organ and discoursed music. Precisely at 5 o'clock Mendelssohn's wedding march was played and the bridal party entered. Messrs. Fred Ernst and Fred Lintz ushered them to the altar. The bride was tastefully gowned in cream faille silk with pearl trimmings, carrying a bunch of white roses. The maid of honor was attired in lavender silk with pearl trimmings and carried white roses in her hand. The groom and best man were dressed in conventional black. Immediately after the ceremony, Lohengrin's wedding march was played and the party proceeded to the resi-dence of the bride's parents, where covets were laid for forty guests, and a dainty supper was served. The hap. py pair left White Pigeon that evening for Washington, D. C., and New York City, from whence they will go to Bloomsburg, Pa., where they will be at home to their friends after Dec. 7. The bride is an accomplished and THE NEW YORK LEDGER talented lady and will be greatly miss ed here.

Mr. Richardson is a worthy young man, and is a leading manefacturer and business man in Bloomsburg.-Kalamazoo (Mich) Telegrapa, Dec. t.

MARKET SQUARE DRY COODS HOUSE.

Bloomsburg is fortunate in being one of the eleven towns in the State which the New Vork and Chicago Air Line Railroad will strike.

We are running our business on the air line system, with rapid sales and ready pay; and we are trying to strike all the people in the county who are in want of a NEW COAT OR CAPE.

December is the last milestone of 1894, and we want to make great speed in running off more Holiday Goods than ever sold by us. As retailers we realize what the Christmas month means; it means brain work for seller and buyer; it means overtaxed nerves; it means restless and sleepless nights. Our desire is to satisfy father, mother, sons and daughter, with some article that either or all will appreciate for a present. The Christmas goods are nearly all opened and placed on exhibition. How would a fine fur or plush cape please wife or daughter? A set of fine dishes for son or daughter lately married? A dress pattern? A pair of blankets? A chenille table cover? Silver knives, forks, spoons, &c., books for young or old are always appreciated. We are the only dealers in Biooms-burg in fine China and Jaconese ware. burg in fine China and Japanese ware.
