Senator Gorman said no change in the rules was needed, and to prove that the Senate passes more bills than the House, which has rules which shut off debate, he cited the number of bills passed by each in the following Congresses : Forty ninth, House 1,820, Senate 1.997 ; Fiftieth, House 2,284. Senate 1,818; Fifty second, House 882, Senate 1,242; Fiftythird, up to the beginning of the pre sent session, House 624, Senate 724. "No," retorted Mr. George, amidst the laughter of the Senate and the people in the galleries ; " It is an accession of the populist party to me "

As was expected, the House Ways and Means Committee has made a favorable report on Chai man Wilson's bill for the repeal of the differential duty imposed on sugar imported from countries which pay an export bounty. There will be no difficulty in getting the bill through the House, but the prospect in the Senate is not very hopeful, although everybody admits that the duty ought to be repealed.

The House committee on the Judiciary has decided by a vote of 7 to 6 that Judge Ricks, of Ohio, ought to be impeached, and will report a resolution providing therefore to the House, but there is not much probability that anything will come of it, owing to lack of time for the trial by the Senate at this session. Representative Bailey, of Texas, who was chairman of the subcommittee that went to Ohio to investigate the charges against Judge Ricks, says he thinks the matter can be disposed of at this session, but that if it isn't he intends to bring it up again in the next Congress. He fully believes that pitation, Shortness of Breath, Smoth-Ricks deserves impeachment and proposes to do all he knows how to see that he gets it, if not in this Congress, then in the next.

issue of Lippincott's is "The Chapel of Ease," by Harriet Riddle Davis. It is a pleasant, peaceful story of rural life in Maryland, and of a young widow's somewhat complicated love-affair. Francis Lynde, in "Quong Lee," shows that there are some good Chinamen. "Precedent," by Alice M. Whitlock, narrates an unusual incident in a home for aged clergymen and widows of clergymen. In "An Idyl of the Forties," Champion Bissell points the consoling moral that men should marry the daughters of their first loves. "The Fate of the Farmer," by Fred Perry Powers, is an instructive essay on the growing evils of agricultural tenancy. David Bruce Fitzgerald, in a brief and readable article, tells all that most people need to know about "The Diamond Back Terrapin." Mrs. Caroline Earle White describes the festival of "Corpus Christi in Seville," and Dr. Charles C. Abbott shows what one who has eyes and a love for nature may see during "A Walk in Winter."

Under the heading, "Lingo in Literature," William Cecil Elam, a Virginian, exposes the blunders made by many writers, even those of repute, in trying to reproduce negro dialect. He speaks by the card and with authority on a topic which (in fiction) is usually handled in a happy-go lucky, hit-or-miss, guess it-will come out-right manner.

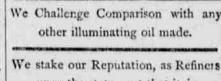

Annie Steger Winston discusses The Pleasures of Bad Taste" with much acumen. "The Beginnings of a Cavalry Troop," by Kenneth Brown, is an amusing jeu d'esprit.

The poetry of the number is by Florence Earle Coates, Carrie Blake Morgan, Edith M. Thomas, and Richard Stillman Powell. The latter pays a deserved compliment to Mr. Stanley Weyman's novels.
