LESSON'S IN COOKING.

Beginning last Monday afternoon, and continuing for six successive weeks, is being given in the Normal School Auditorium a series of six lectures and lessons on cooking by Mrs. A. W. Kusel, of Berwick. The subjects include the cooking of meats, baking of breads, cooking of vegetables, eggs, &c., and will be illustrated by practical exhibitions of the art of cooking, which will be done on the platform in the presence of the audience. In order to defray the expenses of this course of lectures there will be a small admission fee charged—not exceeding fifty cents for the course. It will be made as small as possible as it is not desired to make any money out of the course, simply to make expenses. Mrs. Kusel is a disciple of Mrs. Rorer, whose reputation is national, and is employed by private enterprise to instruct pupils in the public schools of Berwick in the art of cooking. This is what makes it possible to get her here at such low rates.

SAYS BOOTH IS ALIVE.

C. C. Ritter Declares He Sailed to Brazil After Lincoln's Assassination.

Christopher C. Ritter, an intelligent German-American citizen who arrived in Newark, Ohio, nine months ago and has since been doing landscape gardening, tells the following story concerning the assassination of Lincoln: "To day I am at liberty to disclose facts hitherto hinted at by newspaper writers, but strenuously denied by historians.

"History says that Boston Corbett shot J. Wilkes Booth for Lincoln's assassination, but I say that Booth is to-day alive in Brazil, and that it was Edward Fuchs who was shot by Corbett. Fuchs was an actor who bore a striking resemblance to Booth, and in fact, I know of frequent instances where he was mistaken for him. On May 6 Booth and I both sailed for Brazil on a private schooner and arrived in Para on May 22. I soon returned to Germany. Letters were exchanged by us. In 1884 Booth and I met at Hamburg for the first time since 1865. He then looked well and had apparently been prospering. The last time I heard from Booth was in December, but I am confident he is yet alive. I know to a certainty that Booth frequently corresponded with Allan Pinkerton."

Ritter says that he has almost completed a book on the subject of Lincoln's assassination. He says he promised Allan Pinkerton not to reveal this alleged fact for thirty years and the time expired to-day.
