BLOOMSBURG, PA., FRIDAY, JUNE 14, 1895.

GOODHUE-LOOKARD.

On Wednesday June 12th, at twelve o'clock, noon, the words were spoken that united Mr. Samuel Amory Goodhue and Miss Jennie Lapet Lookard as man and wife. The bride is a daughter of Mr. J. K. Lookard of Bloomsburg, and the bridegroom is General Manager of the Union Tanning Co. at Jamison City. A large and fashionable audience of invited guests gathered at the Presbyterian church at the appointed hour, and before the arrival of the bridal party they were entertained by selections of music skillfully played by Miss Maude Runyon, on the organ, including the Swedish wedding march, and Pilgrim's chorus from "Tannhauser." The church was beautifully decorated with palms and ferns and flowers. The bridal party entered promptly at the appointed hour, to the Old English Wedding March. The ushers, Messrs. Sidney Miner, John D. Farnham, Samuel C. Chase of Wilkes-Barre, and Grover Flint of Petersham, Mass., entered first and passed down the central aisle, taking their places at the side of the altar. The bridesmaids, Misses Eleanor and Maude Patterson, of Bloomsburg, Alice B. and Sarah Goodhue, sisters of the bridegroom, of Salem, Mass., entered the door at the left of the altar and proceeded up to the entrance aisle, where they met the Maid of Honor, Miss Leatha Lookard, sister of the bride, and the bride on the arm of her father, who entered from the porte-cochere door. Proceeding down the central aisle, they met the bridegroom and his best man, Mr. William Reynolds Ricketts of Wilkes-Barre, who entered from the door at the right of the altar. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. I. M. Patterson.

The bride wore a gown of ivory white satin trimmed with point lace. The bridesmaids and Maid of Honor were attired in white organdie over white taffeta, and carried flowers.

After the ceremony the bridal party retired from the church to the inspiring strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, and a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, where an elaborate wedding breakfast was served. The house was beautifully decorated with plants and flowers for the occasion.

The array of presents showed a very large number of exquisite and costly articles. It is said to be one of the most beautiful assortments of gifts ever received by a bride in Bloomsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodhue departed on the 2:36 D. L. & W. train for an extended tour, followed by the best wishes of a host of friends.

Among the out of town guests were the father, mother, two sisters and brother of Mr. Goodhue; Chas. F. Allen, all of Salem, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Hicks and Miss Minnie Landis of Hummelstown, Pa.; Miss Jane Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. John Simpson of Scranton; Mr. and Mrs. Clough of Lynn, Mass.; Mrs. S. P. Hanly, Misses Katharine Jackson and Marie Brockway of Berwick; Miss Ada Hicks of Each Haven; Miss Martz of Evansville; Mr. and Mrs. Clough of Salem, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Gruver of Nanticoke; L. B. Howell and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Plesiger, J. T. Brady, Edw. Flinn, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Kennedy, E. I. Mack, Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, and E. J. Drum of Jamison City; Edw. W. Walton, Philadelphia.

Children's Day in Trinity Reformed Church.

A large crowd assembled in Trinity Reformed Church last Sunday evening to witness the Children's Day exercises by the Sunday School. The church was nicely decorated with flowers and ferns. The programme was one of the prettiest and most interesting ever rendered by this school. Everything passed off very nicely. There was not a failure in the entire exercise. Those who took part in the services and those who had charge of the preparation deserve much praise for the efficient manner in which they did their work. Everyone who was present left well pleased with what was seen and heard, and the service will long be remembered by all.

Mrs. I. W. Barnes, president of the State Primary Teachers' Union, who is sent by the Sunday School Association of Pennsylvania, will lecture in the M. E. church at Asbury, June 18, at 2 p. m., and in the M. E. church at Stillwater on the evening of the same date. Sunday school workers, especially p. mary teachers, should not fail to attend. A contribution for the benefit of the state will be lifted.

BRIEF MENTION.

About People You Know.

C. B. McHenry, Benton's popular burgess, was in town on Monday.

William Krickbaum is taking a trip in New York state.

W. G. Evans of Jamison City spent Monday in town.

J. Wilson Miller of Lime Ridge was among our visitors on Tuesday.

L. G. Dildine of Jerseytown spent Tuesday in town, and included this office in his business visits.

Peter Jones was poisoned by ivy last week while working in the old burying ground on Centre Street.

J. J. Campbell, a staunch democrat of Locust township, gladdened us with a call on a recent visit to the county seat.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Howell of Jamison City attended the Goodhue-Lookard wedding on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Neal went to Harrisburg on Wednesday to attend the wedding of Miss Boyd, a niece of Mrs. Neal's.

J. C. Brown, I. T. Reeder and A. C. Cressy went to State College on Monday to attend the commencement exercises of that institution, as delegates from this county.

J. G. Wells has secured the services of Mr. Froelich of Harrisburg, an experienced watch-maker and engraver. He will arrive on Monday.

W. H. Rohrbach of Northumberland county was a Bloomsburg visitor on Saturday. He is an old subscriber and we are always pleased to see him.

Carlton Caswell has passed his examination at the Art Industrial School of Philadelphia, and has come home to spend the summer.

Mr. E. W. Walton, formerly with J. G. Wells, spent last week at Proctor Inn, and came down on Wednesday to attend the wedding. He is in business in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Sisson and daughter, of Tenally, N. J., and Miss Throckmorton of Jersey City are the guests of E. P. Williams and family.

William Beishline of Mt. Pleasant, was in town on Monday, and his friends hardly knew him, the removal of his beard has so changed his appearance.

Col. J. G. Freeze attended the Diocesan Convention of Central Pennsylvania at Reading this week, as chancellor of the Diocese. Messrs. Wirt and Wigfall attended as lay-deputies from St. Paul's Church.

When attacked by a savage dog that had bitten several children, at Schuykill Haven, Rev. O. H. Strunk kicked the life out of him. Mr. Strunk was formerly the pastor of the Reformed Church of this town.

Mayor Nichols of Wilkes-Barre, was in town on Saturday. He is making strenuous efforts to close the dives in that city, and public sentiment is with him, but the co-operation of the council and the police seems to be lacking.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Gilbert of Philadelphia spent a few days here and in Catawissa this week. They came up to attend the wedding of Miss Sarah Gilbert and Dr. Reynolds, which took place on Thursday at the bride's home in Catawissa.

The Tent Campaign

Was inaugurated by the Young Men's Christian Association last Sunday. The attendance at the men's meeting was large and the meeting was pronounced a success. Rev. R. M. Miller, of Reading, Gen'l. Secretary of the Sunday School Board of the Reformed Church, made a most excellent address. The move of the Association in pushing out on this line of work received many favorable comments. The program for next Sabbath is not completed, but it promises to be a rich one. Sunday a week Mr. J. W. Dean, the quaker Evangelist, will address the meeting. The music at these services is a feature; the Y. M. C. A. orchestra is developing into one of the best musical organizations in the town.

The interest in the Association during this year has been splendid, and we expect it will continue. The attendance at the rooms daily has averaged over 100; Prayer, cottage and jail meetings have been held with gratifying results. The attendance at the Men's meeting, Sunday afternoon is an indication of the interest in the work. During the first five months of 1894 the attendance was 1843; during the past five months of 1895 the attendance reached 3973, just 27 short of four thousand. Let everybody encourage the work, all the time they can, in every way they can.

Keep Your Eye on the Nail.

Engagement of the peoples' popular little soubrette Cora Van Tassel and her superb company of players including the Rocky Mountain string band and the Sand Hill Quartette, who will appear at the Opera House for two nights and Saturday matinee, commencing Friday, June 14th with change of bill at each performance, opening with Scott Marble's beautiful western Idyl, the most successful comedy-drama of the season, "Tennessee's Partner." The following is from the Boston Sunday Globe: During the past week the dainty little comedienne Cora Van Tassel has accomplished more in the way of winning hosts of admirers on her first week in Boston than many of the older stars have accomplished in years. Her play "Tennessee's Partner," is a charming western story full of quaint characterizations drawn from the author's memory from the people he came in contact with while a resident of the mountains. The supporting company is exceptionally strong proving all that could be desired in the parts entrusted to them, and they held the audience throughout the four acts without an instant's cessation while the alternation between pathos and humor keeps the listeners between tears and laughter.

SCHOOL WORK.

A VERY CREDITABLE DISPLAY OF THE WORK OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOL PUPILS, AT THE HIGH SCHOOL.

There is now on exhibition in the High School room a large display of work done by the pupils of the public schools. It embraces specimens of penmanship, drawing, designing, clay-moulding, kindergarten work, &c. One table is devoted to a display arranged by pupils of the Third street school, and it is very amusing as well as interesting. The entire display reflects great credit on both teachers and pupils. It is open to the public inspection, and every citizen of Bloomsburg should see it.

The band gave another enjoyable concert in front of the Court House on Saturday evening.

M. E. SUNDAY SCHOOL EXCURSION.

The members of the M. E. Church and Sunday school will go to Winona Park on Friday, the 14th, for their annual picnic. The fare for the round trip is 50 cents, children under 12 years, free. An invitation to participate in this excursion is extended to all, without regard to church connections.

At a meeting of Ent Post No. 250 G. A. R. the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we give a vote of thanks to the citizens of Bloomsburg for their liberal contributions to defray the expenses of Memorial Day. Also to J. C. Brown for his appropriate and eloquent oration in the Opera House. To the Bloomsburg papers for local notices. To the Ladies Aid Society for assistance in making bouquets. The Bloomsburg Cornet Band. Gilmore's Band, Sons of Veterans, P. O. S. of A., Jr., O. U. A. M., Boys' Brigade, Friendship Fire Co., Normal and Public Schools and all others who participated in the Memorial service.

Mr. Jacob Miller and Miss Laura, daughter of Wells Girton, all of this town, were married at the home of the bride on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, in the presence of a number of invited guests, by Rev. P. A. Heilman.

The bride's maids were Misses Alice Black and Phoebe John, and the ushers were Harry Foust and William Strausbach. After the ceremony refreshments were served, and an enjoyable evening was spent by all present. The bride received many handsome gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Miller will soon go to housekeeping in their own house on First street.

Major William H. Broadhead died at his home in Wilkes-Barre on the 7th inst. He was an officer of the 9th Regiment National Guard, until about six months ago, when he resigned. Last December he was married to Miss Mary Van Tassel of Berwick, who survives him.
