BENTON.

Miss Grace Mann or Shamokin will spend the summer here with her sister Mrs. Marvin McHenry.

The Exchange hotel here is very lively at present. Landlord Kelchner has taken a baby girl to board, which arrived last week. Shorty is kept busy setting em up.

Our ball team is preparing to meet the Millville club here next Saturday, and a lively game may be expected, as both are very well matched in that line.

Chas. Appleman who is engaged painting at Bloomsburg spent Sunday at home.

The addition to Alfred McHenry's store is completed now, and has a fine appearance.

C. Vandemark is enjoying a large trade in green goods. He has in stock a variety of garden plants which he sells very reasonable.

Elwood Knouse is head quarters for strawberries, as he keeps them in stock through out the season.

C. E. Benton spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives at Mt. Grove, he has leased his meat market to Crosley Bros., of this place, who will conduct it in the future. Both are good business men, and without a doubt will have a large trade.

The Jr. Ball Club of Millville was here Saturday and played the small boys, and came out victorious again. Well, it seems that Millville has been a borough too long for Benton, we will have to give in.

Ira McHenry and Will Kline of the McHenry House swapped teams last week and by the looks of Will and Ira, you would think both were beat.

Fred Wood has opened a harness shop in Kemp's Block and is prepared to do all kind of work in that line at very reasonable prices.

Jamison City was well represented here on Saturday, many came down for a day off while others were here on business.

Jack Wright is agent for the Liberty Bicycle at this place and also does repairing. He is an expert machinist having been in that business for a number of years. He can do as good a job on a wheel right here in Benton, as those in the city.

THE WEATHER SIGNALS.

EXPLANATION OF THE FLAG AND WHISTLE SIGNALS ADOPTED BY THE UNITED STATES WEATHER BUREAU AND DISPLAYED BY J. M. GIDDING & CO.

The Weather Bureau furnishes, when practicable, for the benefit of the general public and those interests dependent to a greater or less extent upon weather conditions, the "Forecasts" which are prepared daily, at 10 a. m. and 10 p. m. for the following day. These weather forecasts are telegraphed to observers at stations of the Weather Bureau, railway officials, and many others, and are so worded as to be readily communicated to the public by means of flags or steam whistles. The flags adopted for this purpose are five in number, and of the form and dimensions indicated below:

Number 1, white flag, six feet square, indicates clear or fair weather. Number 2, blue flag, six feet square, indicates rain or snow. Number 3, white and blue flag, (parallel bars of white and blue), six feet square, indicates that local rains or showers will occur, and that the rainfall will not be general. Number 4, black triangular flag, four feet at the base and six feet in length, always refers to temperature; when placed above numbers 1, 2 or 3 it indicates warmer weather; when placed below numbers 1, 2, or 3 it indicates colder weather; when not displayed the indications are that the temperature will remain stationary, or that the change in temperature will not vary more than four degrees from the temperature of the same hour of the preceding day from March to October, inclusive, and not more than six degrees for the remaining months of the year. Number 5, white flag, six feet square, with black square in centre, indicates the approach of a sudden and decided fall in temperature. This signal is not to be displayed unless it is expected that the temperature will fall to forty-two degrees, or lower, and is usually ordered at least 24 hours in advance of the cold wave. When number 5 is displayed, number 4 is always omitted.

When displayed on poles the signals should be arranged to read downward; when displayed from horizontal supports a small streamer should be attached to indicate the point from which the signals are to be read.

Miserable Sinner, but Not the Worst.

At a revival in a country town the invitation was given for any one who wished to live a better life and desired the prayers of the congregation to rise. A man rose. The congregation was jubilant and noisy with "amens." Looking about him, he said:

"There is no need of making such a fuss and noise. I ain't the worst man that ever lived.—From Judge.

You've seen and heard the loud voiced man at the big railway stations, calling the trains. He tells where each one is going and keeps people from taking wrong trains—if they pay attention. One of his physical feelings are bodily "train callers." They announce the starting of all trains of disease. Most all trains of disease lead to consumption, because consumption is a blood disorder and because the blood must be poor or impure before any disease can make much headway.

The secret of health is to keep the blood pure and full of strength. When a man or woman loses flesh and vitality, there is something wrong in the blood. The start of it is likely to be in the stomach or bowels, and if they are put in order the trouble gradually stops. Consumption is a germ disease, but if the blood is good, and keeps the lungs strong and healthy, the germs cannot find a place to lodge and are cast off. If there's a weak spot, the germ will find it. Even after that, strong and pure blood will strengthen the lungs so that they can gradually rid themselves of the germs. It is by creating strength and purity that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures consumption and other diseases. It makes one gain flesh—not flabby, oily fat, but sound, firm, useful, healthy flesh. Hundreds of patients have testified to its wonderfully beneficial effects in many diseases and especially in incipient consumption.

A large book of 160 pages, full of these testimonials with portraits and autographs of the writers, can be had by sending 6 cents to cover postage to WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, No. 603 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Senator Cochran's Son Shot.

Garrett Cochran, son of Senator J. Henry Cochran, of Williamsport, and Frederick Pierson Ohl, of New Castle, Pa., both students in the freshman class at Princeton college, were shot and dangerously, if not mortally, wounded at 10 o'clock Saturday night by a negro named John Collins.

The shooting took place in an alley in front of the side entrance to Anderson's hotel. Collins is a laborer, 26 years old. He had had words with the students and in a fit of rage drew a twenty-two caliber revolver and fired first at Ohl, then at Cochran and again at Ohl. All the shots took effect. The bullet fired at Cochran struck him in the mouth and traveled to the base of his right ear. Both of Ohl's wounds were in the stomach. The students fell to the sidewalk and were quickly removed to the college hospital. Collins was placed under arrest by Marshall R. B. Tyrell. He took his prisoner to the town lockup.

A report gaining circulation that both Ohl and Cochran were dying, the students grew very excited and demands that the negro be lynched went up on every side. "Hang him, hang him," was an exclamation repeated frequently. At the lockup it was heard that some of the students had procured a rope and were marching there in a body. Marshall Tyrell, fearing for the prisoner's safety, handcuffed him and removed him to a piece of woods about a quarter of a mile from the college, and kept him there until after midnight. By that time the excitement had subsided and a conveyance was obtained and Tyrell and two officers took Collins to the county jail at Trenton. Stephen Downs, also colored, was lodged in the county jail at the same time. He was in the company of Collins immediately before the shooting took place.

Ohl and Cochran, with some other students, it seems, were walking down Witherspoon street a little before 10 o'clock. Collins and Downs approached them from an opposite direction, and Collins used insulting language, directing it toward the students. The latter rejoined sharply and there was considerable profanity. A few minutes later Cochran and Ohl met Collins in the alley alluded to. Downs was a few feet away. Collins stood in the door of the hotel bar and reviled the students and dared them to enter. They undertook to do so when the negro whipped out his weapon and began the firing. This is the story of the affair as given by persons who were on the scene soon after the shooting. The negroes would see no reporters in the county jail. Downs bears the reputation of being a peaceable man, and he claims that the students assaulted them with fence rails.

Ohl died on Tuesday but Cochran is improving.

Judge Dunham accompanied by his attorney, Frank Ingham, Esq., of Lupton, was in town on Monday and Tuesday looking over the ground in the judicial contest proceedings and getting ready for the battle which commences here on the 17th. Witnesses are being subpoenaed by both sides and preparations are being made for a battle when business commences week after next. The contestants seem confident of victory, and if they throw out anywhere near the number of votes they claim they will, there can be no question as to the result. —Tunkhannock Democrat.

WEATHER FOR JUNE.

MR. HICKS PROMISES SOME SEVERE STORMS DURING THE MONTH.

Irl Hicks, the weather prophet whose forecasts are looked for each month with interest, and, on the part of some, considerable faith, offers the following for June: Early in the month expect phenomenal rains and local waterspouts, much hail, lightning and thunder, with dangerous gales and tornadoes in many localities. Extreme warmth will prevail during the storms, sudden drops in temperature afterwards to very cool.

About the 21st of June is always a time of electrical and storm perturbations beyond normal. The reactionary period being central at that time this month, increases the probability of great electrical and other disturbances—the centre of the Venus equinox falling just in time to aggravate and prolong the storms. About the 15th to the 19th Vulcan will join the disturbers, and his presence will be detected by extreme change to warmer, ending in varied and general storms of lightning and thunder.

About the 22nd and 23rd look for very warm weather, and possibly for some of the most active storms of the month. Note the effect of the moon's perigee on the 24th, and see the greater disturbance is about that time, or at the new moon on the 22nd. Very cool weather for the season is likely to follow the storms at this time. The last period of the month is central, with the moon's first quarter, on the 29th. This indicates that the temperature will be high, and storms will be on their eastward march as June goes out. See if such is not the case, in a progressive way, over the country generally.

That many storms will take place in June, seems inevitable. None of them may be dangerous, but no harm can come for preparing for the worst. Overwhelming rains may not come, but the chances are good for such. Look for much—for more than you will see in the following month, and prepare in every way to make the best of it. For instance, have all your broken, cracked cisterns repaired, connect and repair your spouts, and clean out and strengthen the embankments of your ponds.
