A DOUBLE CRIME CONFESSED.

AN OLD WOMAN ON HER DEATH BED ACKNOWLEDGES MURDERING GRANDMOTHER AND CHILD FORTY YEARS AGO.

After bearing the burden in silence for forty years of a double murder, Mrs. Hettie Good, an old woman, when confronted with terrors of death, confessed to the crime committed in her youth. Mrs. Good lived in Bowmanville, a small place near Lancaster, and was sixty five years of age. No shadow of suspicion had ever rested upon her. For several years past Mrs. Good has been slowly dying of consumption and on Monday of last week she cut her throat. Her attempt at suicide, however, was a failure, and Mrs. Good then asked that William Griffiths, who formerly lived at Bowmanville, but now a resident of Mohanville, Berks county, be sent for.

Griffiths is said to have been Mrs. Good's lover forty years ago and to have been the father of her illegitimate child. Griffiths obeyed the summons of his old sweetheart and to him Mrs. Good confessed that she had beaten out their baby's brains and buried it in the yard of her house.

The unusual crime of infanticide was not the only one that rested upon Mrs. Good's conscience. On Tuesday she sent for the Rev. John Horning, a Methodist preacher of Bowmanville, and confessed that she had killed her grandmother, Mrs. Hutchinson by means of poison. Mrs. Good said that the crime had been committed with the full knowledge and consent of her grandfather, Mrs. Hutchinson's husband, as the woman was old and decrepit and in the way.

After making her confession of her grandmother's murder, Mrs. Good grew rapidly worse and died last Friday. The woman's grandfather, whom she accused of being a partner with her in the death of his wife, died several years ago.

A Notable Amusement Combination.

The old world has been ringing the praises to Sand's & Astley's Enormous Old and New World Railroad Shows which has visited in Europe during its present grand tour around the world. Since its arrival in America the press of the United States is laden with panegyrics and the opinion that it is head and shoulders above all other tented exhibitions seems to be unanimous. The circus department, we are told, presents an unusual number of meritorious acts and the grand double menagerie contains a large number of rare beasts, birds and reptiles. The hippodrome is said to be the most realistic and the curio department unusually attractive. These shows are to be here Monday, July 1st.

Dawes Out of Jail.

Joseph H. Dawes was discharged from the Columbia County prison a week ago Thursday under the insolvent laws. Judge Ikeler reduced the fine from $100 to $15 upon the recommendation of a number of prominent citizens, in addition to a very large petition from Centralia, his home. The leniency shown Dawes in the withdrawal of the charge of forgery by the representatives of the United Mine Workers Association, was upon the assurance from the District Attorney and the attorney of Dawes that he would serve three months, that he would resign from the board and hand over all papers in his possession. Not any of these promises have been kept, and in any cases in the future the plea for mercy will not be heeded as no mercy was shown the poor workmen.—Mt. Carmel Item.

We are informed that there was no such assurance given by the District Attorney and the counsel for Dawes, as that above stated. Nor was the change in the sentence made at the request of Dawes' counsel nor by consent of the District Attorney. A lengthy petition was presented to the court asking for a modification of Dawes' sentence, on the last day of the term, and as the movement was headed by those most active in prosecuting him, the petition was granted. We are further informed that Dawes has sent in his resignation.

Why Independence Day is Celebrated on July Fourth.

Did you ever hear how it happened we celebrate July fourth rather than some later day? For days the members of Congress had differed over the terms of the Declaration. As the hot summer weeks progressed, windows were opened, much to the delight of the mosquitoes and flies of a neighboring stable. The stockinged calves of congressional legs were assailed daily by the diminutive combatants, until at last the persistency of the most stubborn member was worn out on the fourth day of July. "Now that the struggle was over the members became hilarious in their good nature," John Hancock dashed down his great signature in such shape that George the Third might read it without his spectacles. "Now we must hang together," it was remarked. "Yes," said Franklin, "or we shall hang separately."—From "Colonial Philadelphia," in Demorest's Magazine for July.

RUIN AND MISERY

WHAT WILL BECOME OF THE YOUNG MEN OF THE DAY?

Cigarette smoking is one of the evils which is fast increasing among the young men of the period. It is an age of nervousness, nervous excitement, nervous weakness and debility in the growing manhood of the day. Minds are over-burdened in school, the pleasures of social life follow business worry; intemperance, sexual excesses or abuses over excite the already enfeebled nerves and result in exhausting diseases or drains upon the nervous system. It's a drag and a handicap to every young man to be a sufferer from nervous debility or weakness, low spirits, irritable temper, impaired memory, loss of will-power, and the thousand and one derangements of mind and body that result from pernicious habits often contracted through ignorance of nature's laws. The wreck of constitution, weakened vitality and manly power, following such habits would be a sorry ending to life in this splendid age of learning and labor. It will fast become an age of unsettled brains and shattered nerves unless our young men know themselves.

To reach, reclaim and restore such unfortunates to health and happiness, is the aim of the publishers of a book of 136 pages, written in plain but chaste language, on the nature, symptoms and curability, by home-treatment, of such diseases. This book will be sent sealed, in plain envelope, on receipt of this notice with ten cents in stamps, for postage. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y. For more than a quarter of a century physicians connected with this widely celebrated institution have made the treatment of the diseases hinted at above their specialty. Thousands have consulted them by letter and received advice and medicines which have resulted in permanent cures. Sufferers from premature old age, or loss of power, will find much of interest in the book above mentioned.

Pull off with starch and glass screen. The linen collar starts the morn; Pull off at noontime it is seen. All wetted, wrinkled and forlorn.

That's what you must expect of such a collar; it's the linen of it. The stand-up collars won't stand up, and the turn-down collars will wilt down. The easy, cheap, and pleasant way out of this is to wear "CELLULOID" COLLARS AND CUFFS. These goods are made by covering linen collars or cuffs on both sides with "CELLULOID," thus making them strong and durable, and waterproof, not affected by heat or moisture. There are no other waterproof goods made this way, consequently none that can wear so well. When soiled simply wipe them off with a wet cloth. Every piece of the genuine is stamped like this:

Insist upon goods so marked if you expect full satisfaction, and if your dealer does not keep them, send direct to us enclosing amount and we will mail sample. State size and whether a stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted. Collars 25c. each. Cuffs 50c. pair. THE CELLULOID COMPANY 427-29 Broadway, New York.

WILLIAM L. MANNING.

PRESIDENT OF BRIGHTON VILLAGE, NEW YORK, AND FORMERLY OF THIS COUNTY, IS NOT AFRAID TO TALK IN COURT.

We have received a copy of the Union and Advertiser, of Rochester, N. Y., under date of June 15, which contains an excellent picture of William L. Manning, President of Brighton Village. He is a handsome man, in the prime of life, and his friends here are proud to know of the record he has made since leaving Columbia county. His former home was in Jackson township, and his wife is a daughter of the late Judge Iram Derr. He is a brother of H. D. Manning of this town. The subject of this notice has been serving on the grand jury in his county, and we clip the following from the paper above named, in connection therewith. Will never was afraid to say what he thought on any subject. The Union and Advertiser says:

The grand jury, which had been in session since May 6th, an unusually long term rose yesterday afternoon, as stated in an extra edition of yesterday's Union, and presented a number of open as well as fifteen sealed indictments.

Justice Werner looked over the indictments and asked the jury if it had any further business to consider. Foreman Eddy replied in the negative. Then Juror W. L. Manning of Brighton rose and said:

"I do not know as I have any right to deviate from the action taken by the members of this jury, but I wish to say that I regret that certain parties whose cases have been brought before us have not been indicted. I believe they should have been indicted and held for trial. I refer to the cases of the gamblers which have been before this jury."

Mr. Manning called upon District Attorney Forsyth and asked him if he did not think his statement was correct.

The district attorney said that since his opinion was called for, he would state that in his opinion there had been sufficient evidence before the grand jury to warrant the indictment of the gamblers.

Mr. Manning continued: "I am sorry that the business associations of certain members of this jury were such as to lead them to look lightly upon criminals of this class."

Justice Werner said: "I sincerely regret that there has been a difference of opinion among the members of the grand jury on one of the matters that was of such importance. The evidence that was before the jury is not before the court, and the court cannot therefore pass upon it. I suppose that a sufficient number of the members of the jury has voted upon this matter to render it lawfully binding so far as this jury is concerned. What the juror has said about the sufficiency of evidence to warrant an indictment is corroborated to some extent, and under the circumstances the only thing I can do is to direct that the matter be again referred to the next grand jury."

The following letters are advertised June 18, 1895. Mr. E. H. B. Abbott, Asher S. Hile, John Keifer, Mr. Harry Long, Miss Lizzie J. Minnich, Miss Jennie E. Ohl, Miss Leola Welliver, Mr. W. S. Wintersteen. Will be sent to the dead letter office July 2, 1895. JAMES H. MERCER, P. M.

The unusual and exalted prominence in the amusement world of Sand's & Astley's shows, and the announcement of the coming visit of that organization, is interesting our community young and old.

SMITH-HARTER.

On Tuesday afternoon June 18th a quiet and pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Dr. T. C. Harter, by the Rev. H. Brandt, pastor of Trinity Reformed Church. The contracting parties were Mr. Albert Smith of Briggsville, Pa., and Miss Lucinda H. Harter of Chicago, Ill., sister of Dr. Harter. After the ceremony a sumptuous repast was served, and the happy couple went on their way rejoicing. They have the best wishes of their many friends and acquaintances for a long and prosperous life.

LIPPINOOTT'S MAGAZINE

FOR JULY, 1895

The complete novel in the July issue of Lippinoot's is "A Social Highwayman," by Elizabeth Phipps Train, author of "The Autobiography of a Professional Beauty." It is a tale of New York society with a hero in whom accomplishments and virtues were incongruously joined with highly objectionable habits—a sort of urban and modernized Robin Hood.

Francis Lynde furnishes a tale of the west, "The Strike in Pinon Gulch;" Will N. Harben one of the south, "Matt Digby's Meddling," and Lieut. Charles Dudley Rhodes one of the army, "The Recall of Fathers." Yet shorter stories are "McGheoghan's Lapse," by the late Prof. Willis Chamberlin, and "From Four to Five," by C. K. E.

Charles Morris gives an account of "The Railroad Invasion of Asia;" J. Kumpei Matumoto explains the mysteries of "The Tea Ceremony of Japan," and Alvan F. Sanborn describes "The Great Market of Paris."

"The whole duty of Woman, as understood by Man in the Fourteenth Century," is an interesting paper by Emily B. Stone, with quotations, which read somewhat jocosely now, from documents of that age. As a pendant to this, Prof. H. H. Boyesen has a lively and extremely modern article on "The New Womanhood."

"Our National Extravagance" is exposed and deplored by Frances Courtenay Baylor. Under the heading, "Fact in Fiction," Frederic M. Bird gives reasons for thinking that the two are best apart, verisimilitude, not verity, being what is wanted in fictitious narratives.

The poetry of the number, besides couplets by Grace F. Pennypacker and Calvin Dill Wilson, is by Celia A. Hayward, Juliet V. Strauss, and Clinton Scollard.

A Special Invitation.

Is given every lady in this city and vicinity to see the cooking exhibit by the representatives of the Majestic Manufacturing Co. on their great steel range, Majestic, at the store of the dealer from June 24th to 29th.
