Dancing and refreshments at Oak Grove, both day and evening.

Fire works and balloon ascension at 8 p. m., at the grove.

All persons living along the line of parade are cordially invited to decorate for this occasion, as this is the first 4th of July demonstration the Jr. O. U. A. M. order has had in our town, and as we will have sister councils and other orders from our neighboring towns and cities, we cordially invite you all to help to extend to them a hearty welcome, and your kindness will be greatly appreciated by the order.

Business men are invited to join the parade, making a display representing their business.

All orders intending to parade are requested to report to D. W. Carter, marshal of the Jr. O. U. A. M., at Council Room, for instructions.

Manufacturers, schools and others are requested to blow their whistles, ring their bells, etc., at 6 o'clock a. m., welcoming in the glorious 4th.

A party of ladies and gentleman expect to go from Bloomsburg to Proctor Inn at Jamison City next Monday night, for a dance and supper.

DURING LEISURE HOURS.

A firm of nurserymen at Rochester writes us as follows:

"During leisure hours, could you take hold and represent us?" Certainly, gentlemen, and we will jump at the chance. You have our most hearty thanks for throwing in our way this golden opportunity to prevent time from hanging heavily on our hands, and to enable us to get rich suddenly, by peddling fruit trees, grape vines, shrubbery, and bulbs through the county. Not only this, but such employment would give us much needed exercise. We could walk through all the thorough fares of the county, as well as the hedges and by-ways, seeking for customers, and after walking into their premises, we would, no doubt, run out in an involuntary sort of a way, to evade the watchfulness of the bull-dog trained to extend a hearty welcome to tree agents and other peddlers; and also to prevent damage to the southern portion of our only pair of pantaloons. We say walk, because we have no horse, and could not afford to buy a bicycle until after the returns of our first week's sales come in. Just as soon as we get on the bicycle, our family will stand a very fair chance to get the benefit of our life insurance.

Farmers in this section enjoy visits from tree agents. They sit on their front porches day after day, watching for them. If the dog is not vicious enough, the shot gun stands in a handy spot behind the door. By the way, gentlemen, do you supply your agents with bullet-proof clothes? If so, send on a complete outfit, including one pair of leather seated pants.

For fear that selling nursery stock will not occupy all of our numerous "leisure hours" we would like to add a few more lines to handle with your goods. If you know any people who deal in lightning rods, patent churns, hog troughs, gates, threshing machines and gold bricks, please send us their addresses, so that we can keep reasonably busy, after the very light-work of running a printing office is off our hands each week. We have nothing to do now but read exchanges, write locals and editorials, read proof, superintend the job department, keep the books, make collections, solicit subscriptions and job work, attend to all correspondence, make contracts for advertising, bounce people who come in to thresh us for publishing what is not true, and get out of the way of those about whom something has been printed that is true, (they are always the most dangerous, because they are the maddest), buy all the material, handle all the stock that is used, try lawsuits, and run a church choir. All the time not employed in one of these ways, are our "leisure hours," and we again say that our joy is unlimited at the thought that there is a way now open by which those leisure hours can be profitably spent.

By the way, gentlemen, how about your leisure hours? "Could not you take hold and represent us?" We will give you a fair commission on all subscriptions you will secure in Rochester, and if you will come down here, you can canvass the county for us on liberal terms. Newspaper men are safe in this section. People and bull-dogs don't trouble them. Bull-dogs won't bite 'em and people won't pay 'em. If you want the job, write us for further particulars.

Meanwhile send on your outfit, and when time ends and eternity begins, we shall have some "leisure hours," unless we get out of the newspaper business sooner.

DILLON-HUTCHISON.

A BLOOMSBURG MAN WEDDED TO A KINGSTON GIRL.

A pretty wedding took place Wednesday morning at Kingston, John Lloyd Dillon, of Bloomsburg, and Miss Louise Glassell Hutchison being married by Rev. F. VonKrug.

After the ceremony a wedding dinner was partaken of. On account of the serious illness of the bride's mother the affair was as unostentatious as possible, only the immediate family being present. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hutchison and family, of Newtown, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. S. W. W. Schaffle, and family, of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Hutchison, and daughter, of William Penn, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hutchison, of Kingston; Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Hutchison, of Scranton; Miss Allie Dillon, of Bloomsburg, daughter of the groom, and Rev. and Mrs. F. VonKrug, of Kingston. The couple will go on a brief tour. Mr. and Mrs. Dillon will make their home in Bloomsburg where Mr. Dillon has an extensive floral establishment.—Wilkes-Barre News-Dealer.

WEDDINGS.

On Wednesday evening of last week at half past six, Miss Armina, daughter of James T. Farnsworth of Rupert, was married to Mr. Eugene K. Shultz of Philadelphia, at the M. E. Church at Rupert, by Rev. W. H. Hartman, of Buck Horn. The church was prettily decorated with flowers. Miss Lillian Roberts presided at the organ. Miss Fanny Farnsworth was Maid of Honor, Miss Etta Totten of Hazleton, bridesmaid, and Mr. John K. Rittenhouse of Philadelphia, best man. The bride and bridegroom entered together. After the ceremony a reception was held at Mr. Farnsworth's. There were numerous beautiful presents. Mr. and Mrs. Shultz went to Philadelphia, where they will spend the summer.

Miss Maggie, daughter of C. B. Sterling, and George Verdy of the firm of Cummings & Verdy, were united in marriage at the home of the bride on Thursday, June 27th, at half past six o'clock. Rev. C. H. Brandt of the Reformed church, performed the ceremony. Miss Georgia Palmer was bridesmaid, and John Sterling was best man. W. H. Brower and Charles Sterling performed the duties of ushers. A few relatives and intimate friends were present. Mr. and Mrs. Verdy went to Philadelphia on the evening train.

The Sands & Astley shows were here on Monday, and gave performances to a fair sized audience in the afternoon, and to a packed tent in the evening. The performance was good, very good for the low price of admission, twenty-five cents. There was nothing to offend the most fastidious in any way. Their bills were paid promptly and cheerfully, and the press agent, J. N. Wisner is a pleasant gentleman who understands his business. The show came from Danville to Bloom on Saturday night on the P. & R. and remained here over Sunday. The work of erecting the tents, except such as were absolutely necessary for shelter, was not done until early Monday morning.

There have been rumors afloat of certain people losing money in some games of chance on the ground. We have heard of several men who are old enough and intelligent enough to know better than to try to beat a swindler at his own game, who lost some money on these schemes. They are entitled to no sympathy, and ought to be ashamed of themselves. While the swindlers ought to be stopped from carrying on their games, those who patronize them are no better than they are. Mr. Wisner informs us that these sharpers are in no way connected with the show.

Columbia County Agricultural Society.

A meeting of the officers of Agricultural Society was held at the Exchange Hotel on Saturday. There were present, President J. S. Mensch, Secretary A. N. Yost, Treasurer J. C. Brown, R. W. Smith, A. B. Hartman, Levi Fester, J. T. Reeder, C. B. McHenry, C. E. Adams and W. B. Allen. The time for holding the fair was fixed for October 8th to 12th. The dinner stand was let to the Bloomsburg Baptist church. J. C. Brown was awarded the printing of the premium list.

Several animals including a large lion, an ibex and a goat of some kind were shipped by the U. S. Express from Bloomsburg to the New York Zoological garden on Monday evening. They were purchased from the Sands & Astley show.

BRIEF MENTION.

About People You Know.

Kulp, accompanied by a number of capitalists from the northern part of the State, departed on Saturday on a ten day's trip through West Virginia, to inspect some valuable timber land. The party will be met at Clarksburg by Senator Camden and in his special car he will convey the lumber kings over the finest timber district in our neighboring State.—Northumberland Press.

Charles J. Dittess and Fred Wells of Philadelphia, spent a few days of last week in Bloomsburg, stopping at the Central Hotel. They are friends of W. B. Taylor, and he went with them to Jamison City and Ganoga Lake. The Philadelphia Times of Monday contained an excellent portrait of Mr. Dittess, with the following sketch of his career:

One of the youngest members of Common Council in point of service is Charles J. Dittess, of the Fourteenth ward. He was born February 27, 1857, in the old Southwark district, and received his early education in the public schools. He entered a printing office at the age of 14 years, where he filled the somewhat diversified function of "devil." Later he entered the employ of Plumley & Clement, Third and Race streets, where he worked his way up to the position of foreman of the job department, and was later made manager of the entire establishment.

In 1892 Mr. Dittess engaged in business for himself at 122 North Sixth street, and has been very successful. He entered the political ring by making a hot fight for admission to the ward executive committee, and later his constituents elected him to the School Board. For two years he was president of the ward executive committee. He was elected to the Common Council in February, 1895, running ahead of his ticket. He is a Past Master of Columbia Lodge, A. Y. M.; Vice-Counselor of the order of U. A. Mechanics. Mr. Dittess is also a member of Delphi Senate Order of Sparta as well as several other beneficial and patriotic orders.
