THE STATE COLLEGE'S LOSS.

FERTILIZER MANUFACTURERS GAIN $3,500 A YEAR BY THE SURREPTITIOUS ELIMINATION OF A CLAUSE IN A BILL PASSED BY THE LAST LEGISLATURE AND APPROVED BY THE GOVERNOR.

The fertilizer manufacturers doing business in Pennsylvania will save about $3,500 a year at the expense of the State college by the surreptitious elimination of a clause in a bill passed by the recent legislature and approved by Governor Hastings. The act of June 26, 1879, requires manufacturers of fertilizers to take out licenses and file an affidavit of sales with the secretary of the commonwealth. An analysis of each brand of fertilizers is filed with the secretary of agriculture and the license fee paid to the state treasurer. This arrangement caused much confusion and in order to simplify the matter Secretary Edge had the legislature pass a bill changing the time of taking out the licenses from August 1 to January 1 and providing that all papers should issue from and be filed in the department of agriculture.

When the bill was under consideration in the house of representatives on second reading an officer of the State college had inserted a proviso that the certificates could only be extended after the payment of one-third of the license fees of the previous year. This was done because the college receives the license fees for making the analysis of samples of fertilizers furnished by the department of agriculture, and if the licenses were extended, as was at first proposed without any additional fees, the institution would lose about $3,500 a year.

The bill was sent to a conference committee to eliminate some objectionable features and was reported with the State college proviso all right, but in some manner the proviso was eliminated before the measure reached the governor. The college officials have not been able to learn how the proviso was taken. The possibilities are that it was secretly stricken out by a friend of the fertilizer manufacturers during the confusion at the closing hours of the session.

Lawyer—You will get your third out of the estate, Madam. Widow—Oh, Mr. Bluebags! How can you say such a thing, with my second hardly cold in his grave?—Judge.

Paterfamilias—What on earth makes that young man stay so long? Doesn't he know how to say good-night? Edyth—Of course he does. That's what makes him stay so long.—Puck.

A good, healthy wholesomeness will make even a homely face attractive. There are many reasons why women should take care to be healthy. One very strong reason is that beauty and illness are very seldom found together. Illness—and especially the kind peculiar to women—makes the complexion bad, the eyes dull and sunken, the manner listless and the intellect dull.

No woman in this condition can be attractive to her friends. Personal appearance counts for much, but comfort amounts to even more. What's the good of living if one cannot enjoy anything? If headaches and backaches and dragging weariness and pain accompany even slight fatigue?

If the system is constantly subjected to a debilitating drain, where is the energy to come from to make enjoyment possible?

Personal comfort and a consideration for the feelings of others are two of the incentives to an effort to secure health.

If the illness is in any way connected with the purely feminine organism (and the chances are ten to one that it is) Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure it.

Dr. Pierce has used the "Prescription" in his practice for thirty years with unbroken success. A large book written by him entitled "Woman and Her Diseases" will be sent (securely sealed, in plain envelope) to those who will send this notice and ten cents to part pay postage, to WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Resolutions.

The following resolutions of condolence upon the death of William M. Kitchen, which occurred June 19, 1895, were adopted by the Kitchen's M. E. Sunday School.

WHEREAS, Our Heavenly Father has seen fit in His infinite wisdom to call from this earth to his heavenly home our brother William M. Kitchen, and

WHEREAS, In view of the loss we have sustained by the death of our brother and Classmate, his parents, brother and sisters have sustained a still heavier loss, therefore be it,

Resolved; While we deeply deplore the loss of our brother, we submit to him who doeth all things well.

Resolved; That it is a just tribute to the memory of our departed brother to say, that, in regretting his removal from our midst we mourn for one who was worthy of our respect and regard; whose courteous deportment and zeal in promoting a high standard of membership of the different branches of Christ's Church, have endeared his memory to every member of the same.

Resolved; That we will ever cherish his memory and endeavor to emulate his example.

Resolved; That we tender our heartfelt sympathy to the parents, brother and sisters of the deceased, assuring them that we sincerely mourn with them, the loss of our kind friend and brother. Be it also

Resolved; That a copy of these resolutions be presented to the family of the deceased, and also be sent to the Millville Tablet and Bloomsburg papers for publication.

His earthly talks are o'er,
His work forever done;
But if we think a moment,
They have only just begun.

He like the tiller of the soil,
Has sown for worthy gain;
But Eternity alone,
Can reap the golden grain.

We as his listeners,
Recall his thoughtful brow;
And may we as children,
Await the Saviour's call.

One by one we're crossing over,
Soon we'll leave this timely shore;
And we hope to meet our brother,
Who has just gone on before.

The Schools Elect No Delegates.

Governor Hastings began his administration with a notice to the legislature that economy must be practiced, and he has been harping ever since on a decrease of revenue, the fear of which caused him to veto certain appropriations. But while the Governor managed to deprive important educational institutions of money needed for their maintenance, he neglected to guard the treasury against the place hunters and spoilsmen. He is not to be regarded as a particularly good watch dog, but a watch dog with vagaries. His alarm about the condition of the treasury is probably not well founded, but if it is he should have kept down the expenses of the Executive Department instead of increasing it more than $800,000. The Governor's course in this matter must be regarded in the light of practical politics. The schools that his economy may have wrecked will have no voice for either Quay or Hastings, but the politicians whom he has appointed to new offices, or whose salaries have been increased, will all be for Hastings.—Public Ledger.

DUNHAM AND SITTZER.

A NICE LEGAL QUESTION HAS ARISEN SINCE JUDGE RICE HAS BEEN ELEVATED—THE CONTEST.

The Dunham-Sittzer judicial contest court at Laporte, Sullivan County, adjourned last Saturday evening to meet again at that place on the 12th. The commissioner to take testimony will sit again in Tunkhannock on the 10th, and it is now thought the work in Wyoming County will be completed in the two days given it there. The Sittzer side made an effort to reopen its case to add further to its bill of particulars, charging more bribery, but after considerable discussion, was refused by the court, and the Sittzer side is in consequence closed, except such matters of rebuttal as it may have to bring. This makes it look as though the end might be reached by fall. From the best reports obtainable it appears that the Dunham side has been making substantial gains in Sullivan County. It is the general opinion that it has certainly gained decidedly in Wyoming.

With the retirement of Judge Rice as a member of the contest court to assume his position as president judge of the Superior Court, there is a great legal question as to the status of the court constituted to hear the judicial contest. It seems generally conceded that he cannot finish his work on the commission to which he was appointed in this judicial district. Then can the other two judges go on without him and make a report of their finding which will be legal? It seems to be the general opinion that Judge Woodward as president judge of Luzerne County will be commissioned by the governor in his stead, but to this the respondents will object. The governor and attorney general seem as much at sea as the other parties concerned and whatever action shall be taken it is evident that if the finding of the reorganized contest court should be adverse to Dunham, the case would have to be reviewed by the Supreme Court. There is no precedent to throw light on this puzzle.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures.

Almost every neighborhood contains some one who has been helped by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Mrs. J. Tingley Mullen, of Clearfield, Pa., writes under date of Nov. 28th, as follows: "Last winter our oldest boy had the mumps after which he got cold and it turned to diphtheria. We did not think he could get well, and after he did recover he had not sufficient strength to walk. He had no appetite and we got a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and he began taking it. In three days he was able to eat as well as usual. My husband had catarrh of the throat and the doctors could not relieve him so he took Hood's Sarsaparilla and he has not been troubled since. Last spring I had a pain across my kidneys which troubled me a great deal and I was also afflicted with swelling in my throat: I took two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and a box of Hood's Vegetable Pills, and have no such troubles since."
