to get rid of consumption is to work on the blood, make it pure, rich and whole-some, build up the wasting tissues, put the body into condition for a fight with the dread disease. The cure of consump-tion is a fight—a fight between sound tissues and the encroaching germs of disease. Robt. Hess, who was working at Ricketts' Station, returned home last nghts on the right side. It drives the germs back, forces them out of the body. It will cure 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption if it is taken during the early stages of the disease. Its first action is to put the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys into good working order. That makes digestion good and assimilation quick and thorough. It makes sound healthy flesh. That is half the battle. That makes the "Discovery" good for those who have not consumption, but who are lighter and less robust than they ought to be.

His awkward moves display.

Why does he so expectorate
Upon the snow-white ball?

Was he not taught until too late
That that's not nice at all?

Why does that fellow don a cage
And let his voice resound
In cries of "strike!" awak'ning rage
In those upon the ground?

Why do the runners always fall
And silde upon their face;
Or else—they do not care at all—
Upon some other place?

Why do the people murmur 'Rank'?
He has no tank, 'iis plain;
Why does that player, lean and lank,
Seem in such awful pain?

Why does the catcher wear that pad
Close to his bosom pressed?
And why has not the other had
His clothes cut like the rest?

Why does that player swing the wood
In such a reckless way
And question, as no good man should,
What those behind him say?

Why do the men such colors wear—"
But here she turned her head,
And then at last became aware
Her escort had dropped dead.

In Remembrance of John C. Hen-dershot of Eyers Grove, Columbia Co. Pa., who died July 15, 1895, aged 25 yrs. 5mo. 12 days.

Another happy home is broken, And the world seems dark and drear To the lonely wife, whom he has left, To mourn his absence here.

Her dear husband now has left her, All this world to fight alone; But sometime she will join him, In our Father's blessed home.

In the midst of early manhood, He was called from earth away; And with Jesus he is singing Anthems, in that endless day.

God was pleased to call him from us, To the world where all is love, But we hope to meet him later, In that blessed home above.

We will miss him in the choir, Where his voice will ne'er be heard. In the church where he had listened To the preaching of God's Word.

His father and his mother Are sad since he has gone, For they nevermore shall hear on earth The voice of their dear son.

His sisters, brothers, friends and all, Will miss him here below; But we all will hope to meet him Beyond this land of woe.
