That old campaign bugaboo-which was worked half to death last yearthat the recent hard times and 'depression in business were caused by the fear created by the election of 1892, is being harnessed for the work of the present campaign by Republi-can editors. But it will be robbed of its power quickly.

In 1892, out of a total popular vote of twelve millions the anti-Republican vote aggregated seven millions. As the principal issue before all the people was the tariff every vote of the seven millions was directly or indirectly a vote against high tariff. Is there anybody foolish enough to believe that these seven millions of voters, having elected a Democratic presi dent, fofthwith scared themselves half to death, drove themselves into a busiing in mental power as to believe that putting the Democratic party in power stampeded themselves like a herd of dition, agreeable to Lord Dunraven." Texas steers and trampled each other under foot? What was this tariff revision the fear of which it is said created the panic? Was it not just what had been labored and voted for ? The depression noted after the election of 1892 began before that, when the treasury was forced to buy tons of silver and pay for it with gold ; when the Republican administration needlessly expended moneys in the purchase of bonds not yet matured, paying high premiums for them, in order to make a debt reduction record; came suddenly upon a charming when Secretary Foster, knowing the group-a comely woman with a bevy treasury was empty, made a surplus on paper by transferring to the account of available assets sums of money otherwise disposed of ; when and leaned over the front gate. treasury payments were postponed from time to time instead of made promptly as theretofore; and when the secretary was known to have been preparing an issue of bonds to meet the treasury deficiency. These things became known and had immediate effect. In addition to these the labor weile, however, tax payers will be required to pay each of the justices or that time the sum of $2,500 or history of several years prior to 1892 was a chronicle of strike after strike and wage reduction after reduction, culminating in the bloody battle at Homestead, where under the Mc-Kinley law wages were reduced that estem of plundering the treasury that sveals the true character of the late have been voluntarily increased under the Wilson law.

igislature and the present executive. But worse than all this was the despicable work of Republican news papers, which immediately after the presidential election began a campaign of mendacity unparalleled in the .t a meeting of the Republican history of any country. It was done with the deliberate and foul intention gue of Pennsylvania held at York, , September 13, 1895, Ex-Lieuten of making the Democratic party suffer Governor Black, was discovered if necessary-and as it transpired inthe audience, and was escorted to platform. The deliberate intention was to foster the panic which began with the mismanagement of the Republican administration, and it was successful. Without the aid of the Republican press the depression would not have been so long or deep. Will Not Accept the Drexel-Fell Offer to Race With Valkyrie.

Mr. Iselin Declines.

A. J. Drexel, of Philadelphia, received a letter from C. Oliver Iselin, of New York, in response to a proffer made a few days ago by Mr. Drexel and J. R. Fell, of a purse of $10,000, or a cup of that value, for a race between the Defender and Valkycie on any course between Sandyhook and Marblehead and under the rules of of the New York yacht club. Mr. Iselin declines to accept the proposition.

Mr. Drexel declined to give for publication the entire text of Mr. Iselin's letter, but stated that the following passage sufficiently indicates its tenor: "Although appreciating your generous offer, our syndicate feels ness panic and committed commercial hari kari? Even An Experienced Campaigner May Make a Mistake at Times.

"Uncle Dick" Oglesby, says the Chicago Times - Herald, always prided himself on his success in campaigning when called upon to reach a man's vote through his family pride. On one of his tours he passed through a country town in Illinois, when he of little ones about her-in a garden with a high picket fence in front of it. He stopped short, then advanced "Madam," said he, in his most ingratiating way, "may I kiss these beautiful children?"

" Certainly, sir," the lady answered, demurely; "there is no possible objection.

"They are lovely darlings," said Uncle Dick, after he had finished the eleventh. "I have seldom seen more beautiful babies. Are they all yours, marm ? "

The lady blushed deeply. "Of course they are-the sweet little treasures. From whom else, marm, could they have inherited these limpid eyes, these rosy cheeks, these profuse curls, these comely figures card orders please return those sent and these musical voices?"

The lady continued blushing. "By the way, marm," said Uncle Dick, "may I bother you to tell your estimable husband that Richard J. Oglesby, Republican candidate for Governor, called upon him this evening?

"Alas. sir," quoth the lady, "I have no husband."

"But these children, madam-you surely are not a widow?" "I fear you were mistaken, sir,

THE COLUMBIAN

From this it will be seen that the Treasurer's accounts shall be at all times open to the inspection of the Commissioners, and each of them. The law does not require him to permit the public to handle his account books. He is under heavy bonds, and if everybody had the right to handle his books, an evil minded person might make trouble by a change of figures. No business man would do business that way, and the law is right in not compelling the county to do it in that way

The Treasurer shall, once in three months, or oftener, if required, furparilla as an excellent nish the Commissioners with a statespring or fall medicine ment of money received and paid out, &c. In this the law has been strictly complied with, but it will be noticed that this account is only for the inforand it has done us much good. We do mation of the Commissioners, that they may know the condition of the finances. It is not for publication, though the Commissioners say they have no objection to showing these statements to any one who wants information for legitimate purposes. The law requires the Treasurer and Commissioners, once a year, to produce their accounts before the Auditors for examination. This they do. If the Auditors find anything wrong, they will say so, and if the Auditors make mistakes the law affords ample remedy by appeal.

The Industrial World makes the following sensible remark upon the credit system, and claims that merchants generally are responsible for it: Why do merchants encourage the credit system? You answer that you don't. Yes, but you do. If the system was not encouraged by the merchants it would not be in existence to day. Did you ever stop to think that the mercantile community of the country are the only body of men who tolerate the credit system ? Let's see you buy postage stamps, postal notes, money orders, etc., on credit ; try it, and see what you'll be told. Go to the theatre and you pay money. Express companies demand cash, and railroad tickets are cash on delivery to the purchaser. Why should not the merchant demand and receive cash ? Simply because he encourages the credit system. It may be an impossibility to completely eradicate the system, but strict limitations on credit is a step in the right road, and the evolution will be practically a cash basis system of doing business. It is worth a trial and should be begun at

The Berwick Fair.

The twelfth annual fair of the Northern Columbia and Southern Luzerne Agricultural Association will be held on their grounds at Berwick, Pa., on October 2, 3, 4, and 5. This association, always noted for its fine displays and numerous attractions, is this year overdoing everything in the past. A special effort is being put forth for good racing-professional bicycle racing being a great feature, in which many of the best professional riders of the country are entered. In addition to these a balloon ascension daily and championship shooting, with the many other attractions, will be more than one pair of eyes can behold. Full particulars are given in pamphlets issued by the society, which can be had on application or by addressing A. E. Shuman, Secretary, Berwick, Pa. The public is assured that this year's exhibition will prove pre-eminently attractive.
