Bloomsburg Cycle Works.

This industry, although it has not attained the age of some other works of a similar nature, enjoys a reputation for good work and honestly dealing which is excelled by none in the country. Their wheels are all hand made and nothing but the best steel forgings are used. One great advantage parties have who purchase their wheels is that they can see it in course of construction, can examine it before it is made. Their patterns are all of the latest style and up to date. For the benefit of those who have not the opportunity of visiting their establishment, they will have a fine exhibit on the Fair grounds to which all are invited. The smallest pneumatic tire wheel ever built will be on exhibition, as well as a full assortment of gents' and ladies' cycles. This is an opportunity seldom offered, and an attendant will be present to give any information desired.
