dismissing the motions. Judge Brubaker handed down a dissenting opinion, taking the ground that it was too severe on the Dubs people to shut them out of a place where they had worshiped for years Judge Livingston filed an additional state.

A scrotting condition of the blood invites catarrh, bronchitis, and consumption. We're all exposed to the germs of consumption, grip and malaria—yet only the weak ones suffer. When you're weak, tired out, and debilitated, or when pimples and blotches appear—heed the warning in time. The 'Golden Medicial Discovery' sats all the organs into healths. Livingston filed an additional statement saying that the Dubs people had refused to obey his order and sought another place of worship. The equities of the case will now be tried equities of the case will now be tried at the next term of court.

This is one of the most noted cases in dispute between the two factions in the county.

Indian Pottery.

While out hunting on last week, Henry Miller, employed at H. T. Young's stone quarry in Beaver township, ran a rabbit into a hole, and in removing the stones pulled out some fine specimens of Indian pottery. Unfortunately, he did not at first notice them particularly, and threw them upon a pile of rocks breaking them to pieces. He afterwards picked up some of the pieces and took them back to the quarry. Mr. Young, seeing that they were something unusual, sent him back for the rest, but was obliged to return here before Mr. Miller returned. The pieces shown us by Mr. Young are very fine specimens, and from their appearance had evidently been used in melting ore of some kind. In support of this theory, W. G. Yetter, ex Superintendent of the P. & R. RR., says that a number of years ago while putting in a siding at that point the workmen discovered a boulder of very pure lead ore. Mr. Young will make a thorough investigation of the locality to see whether other specimens may not be found.-Cataroissa Neros Item.

Judge Livington delivered an opinion in the dispute between the Bowman-Esher and Dubs' faction of the Evangelical Church over the possession of the Bishop Seybert Church, in Manheim. A preliminary injunction was granted to the Bowman-Esher people in August restraining the Dubsites from worshiping in the church. A motion to dissolve was argued at the September term, when Judge Livingston made an order permitting both factions to use the church on Sunday at different hours.

Judge Livingston made a decree dismissing the motions. INTERESTING CONVENTION.

The Y. W. C. A. in Session From Friday until Saturday Evening .- Services in the Different Churches on Sunday. A Large Attendance and Great Interest Manifested.

The Y. W. C. A. began its existence in a little place called Normal, Illinois, on "How to Dignify the Association With You. in 1872. From that small beginning among some college girls it has grown to be a National, International and Miss Wing World's organization. There are now in this country alone 280 college organizations and 61 city, a few of which are in Canada.

Miss Wing spoke briefly of the benefits growing out of carefully kept records and how to strengthen intercollegiate relations

The Saturday morning session of the convention convened in the Lutheran church at 8:30 o'clock with one hundred and forty-one delegates present, Every city Association was represented and with two exceptions every school and college Association in the State. Lock Haven Normal School and Carlisle Indian School sent delegates with a view to organizing Associations and becoming connected with the work.

The reports of the State Secretary. Miss Dunn, and Treasurer, Mrs. Carr, were very encouraging. Four new Associations, three college and one city, were organized during the year. The total receipts of the year were over sixteen hundred dollars. The balance in the treasury was one hundred and nine dollars. The city membership aggregates over three thousand, the college one thousand.

In the Bible hour Rev. J. T. Jeffers spoke of the study of the Bible. His talk was full of beautiful thought and inspirations for students and teachers of the Scripture. Miss Skeele, director of the physical culture department gave a very practical talk on the "Relation of Physical Culture to Y. W. C. A. Work." She also gave in the presence of the Convention a lesson illustrative of the work which can be done in Associations which are unable to purchase apparatus. The afternoon session opened at 1:30 p. m. with a Normal conference led by Miss Sara S. Kirk, of West Chester, who offered a very practical plan for systematic giving to the Association which was afterward adopted by the Association. In this conference reports of the work being done in the individual societies were heard from Clarion, West Chester, Mansfield, Edinboro, Millersville, East Stroudsburg and Bloomsburg.

Immediately after this a college
