UNITED EVANGELICALS.

What Bishop Dubs Says About the Prospects of the Church.

Members of the United Evangelical church in this city will be interested in knowing that in conversation with a Harrisburg Patriot interviewer Bishop Dubs stated that the Evangelische Zeitschrift a German paper will be issued in Harrisburg about January 1. About $10,000 have been expended on it but it is now on a paying basis. The church has purchased the entire plant for $12,000 and all the German publications of the church will be issued from the Harrisburg publishing house.

Bishop Dubs has gone to Nebraska to officiate at the dedication of several churches. He is very sanguine about the work of the new church and says it is advancing rapidly in every section. He gave a list of seventeen churches in Eastern and Central Pennsylvania at the dedication of which he has personally officiated during the last several months. On December 15 he will dedicate a church at Schuylkill Haven; on the 22d one at Williamsport; on the 29th one at Millersville; January 5 at Carlisle; January 12 at Mauch Chunk; January 19, at Johnstown. He said that Albright collegiate institute is growing under the presidency of Mr. Esenwein.

Few people know that all plants contain digestive principles. They cannot absorb their food until it is digested—any more than animals can. The Mount Lebanon Shakers have learned the art of extracting and utilizing these digestive principles, and it is for this reason that their Shaker Digestive Cordial is meeting with such phenomenal success in the treatment of dyspepsia. The Shaker Digestive Cordial not only contains food already digested, but it also contains digestive principles which aid the digestion of other foods that may be eaten with it. A single 10 cent sample bottle will be sufficient to demonstrate its value, and we suggest that every suffering dyspeptic make a trial of it. Any druggist can supply it.

A Girl's Essay on Boys.

Boys are men who have not got as big as their papas, and girls are women that will be ladies by and by. Man was made before woman. When God looked at Adam he said to himself, "Well I think I can do better if I try again." And he made Eve. God liked Eve so much better than Adam that there have been more women than men. Boys are a trouble. They wear out everything but soap. If I had my way half the world would be girls, the rest dolls. My papa is so nice that I think he must have been a little girl when he was a little boy. Man was made, and on the seventh day he rested. Woman was then made, and she never rested since.

Christmas And Chrysantheums.

When stately chrysantheums are in their prime, Christmas thoughts are in the air; and the happy combination of both in Demorest's Magazine for December makes it an ideal Christmas number. Page after page of handsome illustrations depict various phases of Christmas pleasure, and a timely article on "The Infant Christ in Legend and Art" embellished with numerous and beautiful reproductions of the Madonnas by modern painters, gives some curious legends about the Christ-child, and similar legends about a virgin-born saviour that exist in all the religions of the East. There is a superbly illustrated paper on the Atlanta Exposition; stories by Gilbert Parker and Joseph Hatton are among the fiction; there are Christmas poems, and lots of suggestions about Christmas gifts and entertainments, and every one of the departments is replete with timely and valuable information. In addition to all this, there is the beautiful picture of "Chrysanthemum," a perfect reproduction of the water-color by the eminent artist Paul de Longpre, which is given as a Christmas Supplement. Everyone who possesses the lovely "Yard of Pansies" and "Yard of Roses" needs this to complete a trio of pictures that cannot be surpassed for decorative effect; and any one may obtain it, also a December number of Demorest's, by cutting out this notice and sending it, with twenty cents in stamps, to the address below. The original painting of "Chrysanthemum," which is valued at $1,000, is to be given to the person who, previous to April 1, 1896, obtains for Demorest's Magazine the greatest number of subscribers. This is an unprecedented offer, full particulars of which are given in the December number. Demorest's is published for $2 a year, by the Demorest Publishing Company, 110 Fifth Avenue, New York.

Boy, Bee and Cow.

An exchange says that a humble boy with a shining pail went singing gaily down the vale, to where a cow with a brindle tail, on alfalfa did regale. A bumble bee did gaily sail over the soft and shady vale, to where the boy with a shining pail was milking the cow with a brindle tail. The bee lit on the cow's left ear, her feet flew up through the atmosphere, and through the leaves of a cottonwood tree, the boy soared into eternity.

A False Diagnosis.

La Grippe is confounded by many persons with a severe attack of catarrh, which in some respects resembles the former. These individuals suffer severely with pain about the forehead, eyes and ears, with soreness in throat and stoppage of the nasal passages, and in fact, are incapacitated for work of any kind for days at a time. These are catarrhal sufferers. Ely's Cream Balm has been used with the best results in such cases. The remedy will give instant relief.

Persiflage in a Temple of Justice.

A man by the name of John Socks was arraigned before Justice Richardson at the Armory on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Officer Schubert, who made the arrest, told the Court that he had found John wandering about Clark street in his bare feet.

"He has no socks," said the officer. "Prisoner, look here." The prisoner faced the Judge. "Is your name Jerry Simpson?" "No, sir; my name is Socks—John Socks."

"See here, prisoner, are you attempting to make light of the law by making puns in this court?"

"No, sir," returned Socks, humbly. "That is my name."

"Well, I have a notion to sock it to you. What do you mean by roaming about the streets barefooted?" "Because, your Honor, I have been suffering with bunions and have been told that it was good for them."

"I'll let you go this time, John Bunyan, but you must leave town at once."—Chicago Paper.

Fall Farm Work.

The fall farm work, under the extraordinarily long spell of fine weather, is nearly all done, and farmers and all others are ready to welcome a several days' rain, which will not be any too much to soak the dried out earth and fill the subterranean reservoirs from which the springs are supplied. As long as this drouth continues springs will keep failing and streams get lower.

Harper's Magazine IN 1896.

Brissel, a new novel by William Black, written with all the author's well known charm of manner, will begin in the December Number, 1896, and continue until May. A new novel by George Du Maurier entitled The Artisan, will also begin during the year. It is not too much to say that no novel has ever been awaited with such great expectation as the successor to "The Personal Recollections of Joan of Arc" will continue and will relate the story of the fall and many features of the Maid of Orleans. Other important fiction of the year will be a novelette by Mark Train, under the title, Tom Sawyer, detective; a humorous three-part tale called Two Morons from Mudletty, by Langdon Elwyn Mitchell; and short stories by Octave Thanet, Richard Harding Davis, Mary E. Wilkins, Julia Ralph, Brander Matthews, Owen Wister, and other well-known writers. Prof. Woodrow Wilson will contribute six papers on George Washington and his times, with illustrations by Howard Pyle. Poultony Bigelow's history of the German struggle for Liberty, illustrated by R. Caton Woodville, will be continued through the winter. Two papers on St. Clair's defeat and Mad Anthony Wayne's victory, by Theodore Roosevelt, with graphic illustrations will be printed during the year. A noteworthy feature of the MAGAZINE during 1896 will be a series of articles of Caspar W. Whitney, describing his trip of 3000 miles on snow-shoes and with dog-sledge trains into the unexplored Barren Grounds of British North America in pursuit of wood-bison and muskoxen. Mr. Whitney's series will have the added interest of being illustrated from photographs taken by himself.

The volumes of the MAGAZINE begin with the Numbers for June and December of each year. When no time is mentioned, subscriptions will begin with the Number current at the time of receipt of order. Remittances should be made by Post-office Money Order or Draft, to avoid chance of loss. Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of Harper & Brothers.

THE BICYCLE WILL DO MORE FOR WOMEN THAN MEDICINE.

But Those who are Sick Must not Ride—A Delicate Subject, but why Should the Truth not be Told?

A Plain Talk, Backed up by Facts, Showing a Sensible way out of the Difficulty which every Afflicted Woman Should Read.

KNOW THYSELF.

From the Era, Bradford, Pa.

Too few people are acquainted with the rapid advance of medical science, and too many doctors are still plodding the old paths. Once it comes to pass that people know themselves, that all physicians are abreast of the world's knowledge, much of our suffering will come to an end. Medical scientists are not delving into the depths of knowledge for the mere benefit of brother physicians, but for the benefit of the world. They place in the hands of the well man a means of keeping well, in the hands of the sick a means of recovery. To the parent they give the power of saving the child. Science is working for you—will you accept the proffered help?

Mrs. George Rowend, an estimable lady who resides at No. 276 East Main Street, Bradford, Pa., has cause to feel grateful towards the science of medicine.

One day recently a reporter, learning that Mrs. Rowend had been greatly benefited by the use of a new medicine, interviewed her. She stated that she had been suffering with a female trouble for many years. She had been doctored for the ailment for a long time—in fact, nearly all her life—and had never received anything more than temporary relief. During the last three years her condition grew worse and was aggravated by an affection of the heart. Her health was so poor that she found it almost impossible to perform her household duties.

"I never believed in proprietary medicines," said Mrs. Rowend, "but one day last fall I read an article in a newspaper which told of the cures effected by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I decided to try the medicine. Before I had taken the contents of one box I began to feel better. The depressing weakness which had bothered me for so many years began to disappear, and the action of the heart at once became stronger and more regular.

"I took nine boxes of the pills and I am now feeling better than I have for several years, and I have unbounded faith in the medicine."

Mrs. Rowend will now be able to ride her bicycle, if she wishes, without danger to her health, a thing which was impossible before her use of Pink Pills.

A STORY OF PECULIAR INTEREST TO WOMEN.

We have heard so much talk throughout the county of late concerning Mrs. Martha Gates, of Maine, Broome County, N. Y., that yesterday a reporter of the Binghamton Republican interviewed her for publication, and her story, which will interest all women, is as follows:

"I was born in Hartford, Cortland County, New York, forty-two years ago. I have been married twenty-one years and am the mother of eight children. About two years ago I was afflicted with troubles incidental to my sex and suffered agonizing pain. The trouble continued to grow worse, until last winter I was compelled to take to my bed. I called in a regular physician, but his treatment did not seem to do me much good and only relieved me for a little time, after which my condition became worse than before. I was confined to my bed for three months and was absolutely unable to attend to my household duties. I could hardly feed myself, so weak had I become. I had to be waited upon day and night and was a physical wreck. There was very grave doubt about my ultimate recovery. The best hope the doctor could hold out to me was that I might be able to get around again and attend to my household duties after remaining in bed a few months longer. But instead of getting better I grew steadily worse. One day I happened to read in the paper about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and decided to give them a trial. Immediately after taking them and before I had used half a box I saw a marked change for the better in my condition. All this time, however, I was confined to my bed. I continued taking the medicine until I had used four boxes, and by that time I was able to be about and around again. The improvement has been steady ever since. I am still a little weak, but am growing stronger as fast as nature, aided by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, will let me. I have great faith in these pills and shall use them hereafter. My husband, who felt very miserable all the spring, took them and they made a new man of him. I have also used them for my daughter aged nineteen years, who has found them very beneficial for troubles incidental to her sex. So far as I am myself concerned, I consider it a wonderful cure."

Mrs. Gates has lived in North Maine for many years and is highly respected. Any statement she makes is cheerfully acquiesced in by her friends and acquaintances.

The foregoing is but two of many wonderful cures that have been credited to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Diseases which heretofore have been supposed to be incurable, such as locomotor ataxia and paralysis, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effect of a grippé, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexion, all forms of weakness either in male or female. Pink Pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent post paid on receipt of price, $5 cents a box, or six boxes for $25.00, by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

SWAN QUARTER'S CHURCH.

A Godless Man Refused It a Site, But a Tide That Beat the Record Settled It.

"If you should ever go down into Hyde county, N. C.," said a member of the Pamlico Sound Sportsman's club, "and should stop at Swan Quarter, the quaint county seat, you would see a church perched on top of what they called a hill. There is a curious story connected with that church.

Hyde county has two coasts, the Pamlico Sound coast and the Atlantic ocean coast. Half of the county lies under water from 100 to 200 feet deep. That water is Pamlico Sound. The county also includes in its area that narrow strip of shifting sand dunes and scrub grass extending from Chicomack Banks southeast to Cape Hatteras and from Cape Hatteras southwest to Ocracoke Inlet, a strip apparently unstable, and in some places barely a stone's throw across, but yet able to defy the Atlantic's fiercest attacks. That is how Hyde county came to have two coasts. During the fierce northeast storms that are frequent there the sound tide rises sometimes as high as six feet.

Swan Quarter is in the southeast corner of the mainland, on the sound. Several years ago some of the Swan Quarter citizens resolved to build a church. There was only one spot in the town that offered a site entirely safe from the tide in time of storm. This was what is known as a hill down there—a hummock of sand rising a few feet above its surroundings. This hill belonged to a man who didn't want any such thing as a church, and who refused to sell it at any price. The church people did the next best thing and built their church on ground which, while not being entirely beyond reach of the tide, was not in any particular danger, and to make it absolutely safe, they set it on piles that raised it above the highest high water mark on record on that coast.

The church was completed and ready for occupation. Two nights before the day the dedication exercises were to be held in it there came a terrible storm. Next morning when the citizens of Swan Quarter went forth they were amazed. Such a tide as had never been before must have risen during the night, for the church was gone from its high place on the piles. But, more amazing still, the tide had risen still higher than that, so high that it had carried the church to the summit of the hill and then receded, leaving the church standing squarely on the hummock, uninjured in any way. Of course, every one saw in this the unmistakable hand of Providence. It alarmed the godless owner of the hill, who had refused to sell it at any price for the sacred edifice, and he not only gave the land to the congregation without money and without price, but also became a devout member of it himself and remained one to his dying day. The church stands to-day just where it was carried and left those many years ago; never since has the fiercest storm that has beaten upon that coast driven before it a tide half so great as was that memorable and providential one.

WHO GOT THE PAY.

At the sessions of the State Senate Committee which is investigating the municipal affairs of Philadelphia last week, considerable evidence was given in regard to the alleged failure to incinerate garbage and keep the streets in repair as required by law, but the most interesting witness was Thomas Warren. He was employed as a laborer on city bridge work, was named on the pay roll as receiving $3 per day, but the highest pay he ever received, he stated was $2 per day.

The witness declared that when he received for his wages the amount in the warrant was always covered over. Warren further stated that two lads named McKee, who were also employed in the same gang, and who were named on the pay roll as receiving $3 per day received $5 per week.

Frederick H. Roff, also a laborer employed on city bridge work, whose wages were given as $3 a day, testified that he received but $1.50 per day and "street car fare."

The Committee adjourned until Tuesday, December 3.
