Resolutions of Respect.

At a meeting of the Pastor's Union recently held the following minutes were unanimously adopted:

Inasmuc's as since our last meeting the Rev. P. A. Heilman has, on account of impaired health, severed his connection with St. Matthew's Lutheran Church of Bloomsburg, and removed to Philadelphia, this Association desires to place on record its high appreciation of his Christian character and uniformly courteous manners.

He was one of the original members of the Pastor's Union, and always took a deep interest in its work, extending it his hearty support and carnest co-operation. His broad Catholic views and sympathetic nature, as well as prudent counsels, made him a valuable assistant in every good work.

The Association hereby extends to him its sincerest sympathy in his enforced retirement from the active pastorate, hoping it will be out temporary. To this end, we earnestly beseech the Great Head of the Church to restore him to a full state of health, that he may be enabled to devote himself to the beloved work of t¹ c ministry in the pastoral office : in which he has already shown himself a man approved of God, a workman not needing to be ashamed in rightly dividing the word of truth we commend him, and his family to the guardian care of the Heavenly Father assured that He who doeth all things well, will cause all things to work together for his spiritual and temporal welfare.

THE TEACHING OF THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE CONCLUDED.

The committee appointed by the Overseers of Harvard College to examine into the cause of the failure of applicants for the freshman class to pass the examination in English, reported, after a careful investigation, that "in the system of instruction as now pursued in the preparatory schools, as developed in the material examined by them, only here and there the trace of an idea can be found that is to enable those taught to write the English language easily and well, so that the writer may be able to use it as a tool familiar to his hand, as speech to his tongue, in the further process of education and in the subsequent, pursuits of life. The Committee cannot speak of other departments, but in the matter of English Composition the scholar in the preparatory schools receives, indeed, nothing which can with any propriety be called an education : he is trained to pass a given examination ; that and nothing more. The present system, therefore, is radically defective. The difficulty also, so far as your committee is advised, is by no means confined to the advanced schools which fit for college. It permeates in another form the whole American grammar school system (Italics are mine) * * *. " The work of theme (essay) writing aught to be pronounced a part of the elementary training, and as such relegated to the preparatory schools. The student who presents himself for admission to the College, and who cannot write the English language with facility and correctness, should be sent back to the preparatory school to remain there until he can so write it.

"The Committee recommend that steps be taken in relation to the standard of English Composition required for admission to our colleges which shall compel the preparatory schools to change their present sys-tem, and raise their standard to the required point."

The meaning of the foregoing is too clear to be misunderstood. It also accords with reason and with the best educational thought of the day. Such requirements will, of course, demand better teaching than now prevails and better qualified teachers, but the time surely has come when no others should be licensed to teach. Innocent children have already too long been imposed upon.

Practical English, in other words, the ability to write the English language with ease and correctness, is not a difficult thing to teach for those who themselves have been pro-Resolved ; That in her death the menced early and taught throughout a pupil's period of school life.
