Exit May.

Now for the month of roses.

Well, did you see the elephant.

Ice Cream signs are multiplying.

Cyclersade is a new summer drink.

It is a good time to begin to fill a rose jar.

The small boy is getting in the swim.

Hatters are preparing for election bets.

The Czar's crown is worth $450,000.

June brides are practising the requisite blush.

The exterior of the Central Hotel is being re-painted.

Some men loaf on the street corners. Others go fishing.

The caterpillar is the bugbear of the summer girl's life.

The black bass season is now open and anglers are out in full force.

The fashionable girl wears her purse on a slender silver chain.

The residence of Mrs. Clark on Market Street is undergoing repairs.

Bardsley's hearing is bad and the Board of Pardons have given him a re-hearing.

The carpenter work on the new residence of R. R. Little, Esq., is rapidly nearing completion.

The interior of the barber shop of William Dennis on East street has been painted and otherwise improved.

There will be regular services in the Lutheran church next Sunday morning and evening, conducted by Rev. Dr. Bell of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Many a good man lost his bearings so far on Sunday, that, started for the churches, he rounded up at the circus grounds.

The storm blew down one of the large bill boards of the circus near the D. L. and W. station last Thursday evening.

The name of Dr. F. W. Redeker of Bloomsburg appears this week among the list of Democratic candidates for Representative.

The property occupied by David Savage on Iron street is being re-painted. The work is being done by P. K. Vanatta.

Impoverished blood causes that tired feeling. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies, enriches and vitalizes the blood and gives vigor and vitality.

A. B. Croop of Briar Creek has announced himself as a candidate for county treasurer, subject to Democratic rules.

The Union Veteran Legion of this place observed Memorial Day by quietly and without any display, placing a wreath of flowers on the grave of each dead comrade.

William Morris, a four year old son of Richard Gross, fell off the fence last Saturday and broke his left leg. The fracture was reduced by Dr. Purman, and he is getting along nicely.

Monday evening, during the absence of the family, the residence of Firm Kressler on Turkey Hill was burglarized, and two watches, a coat and several other articles were stolen.

With good water, cheap food, big factories, fine churches, live papers and new hotels, we're a happy people. But we'd be happier if we had better light and a fire alarm system.

We are informed that Hon. Andrew L. Fritz will be a candidate for Congress.

The Elevator Plant has been re-organized. The following named gentlemen compose the board of directors: A. Z. Schoch, L. E. Waller, W. S. Moyer, C. C. Peacock, Fred Richards and J. L. Dillon.

The Baccalaureate sermon of Rev. D. N. Kirkby, rector of St. Paul's church, last Sunday, was a masterly effort, and thoroughly enjoyed by all who were fortunate enough to listen to it.

The circus has come and gone and a more gentlemanly lot of men never visited this town. They fulfilled every promise they made, and the performance was far above the average. It was well attended, and it was a success because it deserved it.

The following letters are advertised June 2, 1896. Mr. George W. Arvine, Scott Chappell, Mr. Geo. O. Kline, A. E. Meyers, Miss Fannie G. Poull, Mr. Leon A. Walker, Mr. J. H. Wallace. Will be sent to the dead letter office June 16, 1896.

JAMES H. MERCER, P. M.

The circus ground was the center of attraction last Sunday. Several parties, who would consider it almost an unpardonable sin to attend the performance, were there nearly all the day. As a consequence the attendance at several of the churches was not as large as usual.

The first mixed meeting under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held in the Lutheran Church next Sunday afternoon, and will be addressed by Rev. C. H. Brandt. The music will be unusually fine and the ladies are earnestly invited to be present.

Eighteen years ago the plumbing business was carried on by Rollins and Holmes. At that time they had in their employ as a tin smith, Mike Haley. Since that time he has been working in New York City. Last Thursday he returned to this place and went to work for his former employer W. O. Holmes.

J. R. Fowler opened his restaurant in the Opera House building last Thursday evening. The rooms are large and peculiarly adapted to the purposes for which they will be used. In addition to being roomy they are handsomely furnished, and we doubt if there are any nicer in this section of the state. The services of John Gross has been secured as manager.

In order to keep pace with his rapidly growing business it has become necessary for H. V. White to build a new four story building in addition to his already spacious mills. He has closed a contract with Gris Corn and McFrey, of Philadelphia, for a hundred barrel wheat mill. Work will be commenced on the building at once and pushed to a speedy completion.

On Tuesday afternoon D. W. Robbins of Derr's came down to meet his little son Maynard, who was on his way home from a school for deaf mutes in Philadelphia, where he has been since last September. He is now able to read, write and speak, and has made more rapid progress than many children who are not afflicted as he is. We heard him say a number of words, and could understand him distinctly. He is a bright boy and seems to be happy and contented.

BLOOMSBURG MEMORIAL DAY.

A cynic has said that Americans take even their recreations seriously. That it would be nearer the truth to say that even in their serious affairs they seek and find a brighter side has been shown in many ways, and in none more clearly than in their celebration of Memorial day. Throughout the country the day has come to have a dual quality—or, rather, the lights and shadows of the national character have equally sought expression in its observance. In both of its aspects, as a day of general outing for the masses eager for green fields, and as a day of devotional pilgrimage to the cemeteries, especially by the Grand Army veterans and their friends, the anniversary was kept in Bloomsburg with a demonstrativeness and a universality never before equalled; and it is altogether certain that its higher meaning was not lost to view in its holiday quality.

In truth, Memorial day, instead of fading out, is broadening its influence. It is more than a tribute from the living to the immortal dead—its garlands have hidden all the scars of the war time, and its banks of roses have banished out of sight all lines of sectional demarcation. It is well that the lessons of the day, learned at such fearful costs, should be annually impressed upon the minds of the rising generation; for the patriotic truths which they teach were never so necessary as in these momentous days, when reckless men are once more seeking to arouse a sectional feeling in the land.

Lives on wind—the cornet player.

The report of the Columbia County Sunday School Association came in too late for insertion in this issue, it will appear next week.

The Twin Comet lawn sprinkler is the best thing of the kind now on the market. It is nickel plated, and can be adjusted to cover a circle eighty feet in diameter, or less if desired. It not only does effective work, but is as pretty as a fountain, when in operation. We have one at our residence which can be seen at any time by calling at this office. THE COLUMBIAN has the agency for Bloomsburg. tf.
