WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, July 10th, 1896. Hurrah for the democratic ticket

the ticket and platform, and to go to work and render what aid you can towards obtaining a victory. More will be known as to the chance debe, they will nominate no ticket of their own, but will endorse the democratic ticket. Should they do that, the McKinley crowd would be the get their backs up because the democratic convention would not allow them to name the ticket, Mark Hanna's smile would perceptibly broaden, but let us at least hope that they will do nothing so suicidal.

There are plenty of democrats in Washington who do not like portions of the platform, and many more who wanted other men nominated, but so far as I know none of them are talking of bolting. The National convention settled the matter for them, and as good party men they are now for the ticket. The talk of President Cleveland taking part in a movement to nominate a gold democratic ticket finds few believers here. It is brick houses to wood toothpicks that he does nothing of the kind. There can only be one democratic ticket, and that has been nominated in a regular manner by a properly constituted con-vention. Of course, after reading the platform one cannot expect that President Cieveland will enthuse over it.

U. S. District Attorney Frank Clark of Florida, who is now in Washington, said, in answer to a question of how things political looked in that State: "Oh, the democratic ticket will win as usual. There is considerable interest in the Senatorial race, but it is too early yet to predict the name of Senator Call's successor, except to say that he will undoubtedly be a free silver man. A great majority of Florida democrats favor free silver, although four of the delegates to the Chicago convention were for gold. That was simply the result of management, as the gold men were in the minority at the State convention."

Gen. W. R. Cox, of N. C., who is Secretary of the Senate and a good judge of the drift of political sentinent, has just returned from that state. He says: "The prospects of democratic success in N. C. are very encouraging. The nomination of a strong silver candidate and the adoption of a free coinage platform at Chicago went a long way toward insuring the success of democracy. Thousands of populists will vote the national democratic ticket, for they cannot support McKinley without stultifying themselves. And the republicans of N. C. are also for free silver. Their gubernational candidate, Judge Russel, is a silver man, and their State convention declared for the white metal. Outside of th pro-tection policy, McKinley has no special strength in the State, but al though the republicans generally favor protection, they are not half as deeply interested in that question as they are in the money issue.'

Ex-Congressman White of Tenn. thoroughly believes that the democratic party is going to win a great victory this year because of its championing the cause of silver. He said to a group of friends in a Washington hotel: "Two months ago the cause of Tourist Agent, Pennsylvania Railroad the situation is changed, and the opposition is thoroughly alarmed. A little while ago it seemed impossible that the democrats could win even in Tenn. We will carry the state in jority. The people are terribly in brethren go in peace'."

DELIGHTFUL SUMMER TOURS. Two Tours to the North via Pennsylvanis Railroad.

It is tedious to map out a tour for one's self, for invariably expense annoyances brought about by an oversight mars what should have been a pleasant trip. It is a pleasure to have everything arranged systematically before departing, thus obviating unnecessary expenses as well as in-conveniences. To this end the Pennsylvania Railroad Company first from which it is forced by pneumatic inaugurated personally conducted tours, maintained them at the highest possible standard of excellence, and gave them at opportune seasons, after Lancashire spinning sheds, except careful study as to desirable dates and every necessary detail.

For the convenience of those who seek the most attractive way of spending a Summer holiday, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has ar- burner at the extreme point of which ranged two delightful tours to the North, under the personally-conduct- the filaments pass. ARTIFICIAL SILK

Its Manufacture to be Extended into England.

London Nature has the following item apropos to the impending introduction into England of the manufacfrom the Secretary's report to the Franklin Institute.

Chardonnet, who discovered the prothe new commodity increased so of silk and cotton manufacturers met it fails to cure. Send for circulars to discuss the question, and finally and testimonials. Address, consisting of some of their own number, an engineer, a chemist and a lawyer, to investigate the subject thoroughly. This was done, and the outlook was found to be so promising that certain concessions have been secured and a company is now in process of formation; and, to begin with, a factory, which will cost $150,-000, is to be built near to Manches ter for the manufacture of artificial donbles, and some pretty traveling silk yarn from wood pulp, for sale to weavers, who will work it up by means of their existing machinery.

The way in which wood pulp can be converted into silk yarn is essentially as follows: The pulp, thorough ly cleansed, and looking very much like thick gum, is put into cylinders, pressure into pipes passing into the spinning department. Here the machinery looks like that employed in that one of the pipes referred to runs along each set of machines. These pipes are supplied with small taps, fixed close together, and each tap has a glass tube about the size of a gasis a minute aperture, through which some 12,000 of them are in use in the factory at Besancon. The effect cylinders referred to above is to force iron tubes, but also, when the small taps are turned on, through each of globule. This a girl touches with her draws out an almost invisible filatoga, or the Highlands of the Hudson.
Each tour will be in charge of one guides and on to the bobbin.

Then, one by one, she takes eight, ten or 12 other such filaments, according to the thickness of the thread to be made, and passes them through the same guides and on to the same bobbin. This done she passes them together with her thumb and forefinger, at a certain point between the glass silkworms and the guides. Not only do they adhere, but thence forward the filaments will continue to meet and adhere at that point, however long the machinery may be kept running. In this way the whole frame will soon be set at work, the threads not breaking until the bobbin is full, when they break automatically, while they are all of a uniform thickness. The new product is said to take dye much more readily than the natural silk. The chief difference in appearance between the natural and the artificial silk is in the greater lustre of the latter. The success already secured by the new process in France is such that the introduction of the industry into Lancashire is expected to produce something like revolution in the conditions of trade there, not only by bringing into existence a new occupation, but also by finding more work for a good deal of the weaving machinery that is now only partially employed.

A Rebuke From Rome.

Priests Forbidden to Exchange Masses for Merchandise.

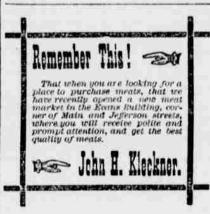

For some time booksellers, merchants and others who cater principally to Catholic priests have been in the habit of giving merchandise in exchange for Masses said for them by the priests. A sum raging from $2 up, according to their means, is usually charged Catholics for Masses, and this money goes into tho pockets of the assistant priests or curates. Those who had any commodity to exchange for Masses gradually got into the habit of offering it to the priests in lieu of money, and the latter willingly send nodel, drawing or photo, with descripted it, inasmuch as they thought then. In order that priests may not be led into error on this point it is hereby made known that such a proceeding is severely forbidden, under the penalties sanctioned in the decree, vigilanti, which emanated from this Sacred Congregation of the Council on May 20, 1893."
