Died In Prison.

The announcement of the death of Ira Sanborn, in a Philadelphia prison, for the murder of daughter-in-law and grand child, has elicited a great deal of attention among railroad men because of his being formerly employed as an engineer, on the Philadelphia & Reading's Catawissa branch running between Lofty, and Catawissa, for many years. He had the reputation of being one of the fastest engineers that ever took hold of a throttle. Sanborn had only one very bad quality which frequently got him into trouble and this was his violent temper. It was the cause of his losing his position with the Reading some years ago, after which he removed to Philadelphia to reside with his son. He was a man of powerful stature having been 6 feet 4 inches in height, and weighing over 200 pounds.

The act which brought his career on the Catawissa branch to a close, occurred one night while making a trip from Catawissa to Lofty. He and his fireman, Harry Campbell had some very angry words while climbing up the grade near Mainville. He charged furiously on the fireman, who took refuge on the train knowing full well the desperate nature of the big engineer. Campbell returned to the engine, and when approaching the bridge near Ringtown, Sanborn seized him in his arms, and threatened to dash him to death 165 feet below. He begged for mercy, and escaped to an empty freight car. Sanborn fired and ran the engine the remaining part of the run, and brought his train in on time to Catawissa on the return trip. After this he was unable to secure any work under the Reading, a circumstance which caused him to develop more desperate tendencies. In a moment of rage he committed the double murder with which he was charged when he expired.—Ashland Telegram.

Miss Klyns, after a visit of several weeks to Mrs. J. L. Richardson, returned to her home at Grand Rapids, Mich., on Monday. She made many friends during her visit.

A terrible mine explosion occurred at Wilkes-Barre Thursday, at which six men were instantly killed and two seriously injured. The cause of the calamity is not yet known.

Pierce Fight With a Big Bear.

While surveying a tract of land in Plunket's Creek township, Lycoming county, G. B. Fry and Joseph Bobst encountered a large black bear. A revolver was the only firearm the men had, and with this they put seven bullets into bruin. Fry then attacked it with the ax. The bear fought furiously, but was finally killed. The pistol balls did little else but stun the brute. The bear weighed 200 pounds dressed.

A Misrepresentation.

A man representing himself as a member of the board of pension examiners is going about soliciting applications for increase of pensions in several adjoining counties, and telling old soldiers that the act of assembly granting peddlers' licenses to veterans of the war will be repealed at the next session of the Legislature, urging them to immediately apply for a license, which he agrees to furnish for $1. The act of assembly says that a member of the board, as well as the court, must give such a license on application, without charge. A soldier having a pension certificate is not required to have a certificate from the board of examiners in order to apply for an increase.

JOHAS LONG'S SONS' WEEKLY CHATS.

WILKES-BARRE, PA.,

October 29, 1896.

Our news this week tells you of a great Manufacturer's Sale of Muslin Underwear that is now in progress. Our New York buyers were fortunate in closing out a manufacturer's surplus stock and the price paid for it was less than one-third the usual factory cost. Ready cash and keen foresight brought this big stock to us. You will be the possessors of it at a slight advance over the cost, although the quantities are greater than any number of pieces we've ever handled. We would advise promptness in ordering, as the very low prices will hurry them away rapidly. Positively no discounts will be allowed from these prices to merchants, and to give our patrons the full benefits we cannot fill wholesale orders for more than a dozen pieces.
