Women in the Practice of Law.

There is much difference of opinion as to the htness of woman for the legal bought of a Bohemian peddler a profession, but there can be none as meerschaum pipe, to which he asto the success she has so far attained. It is probable that the future will wit- future. The man said that Bismarck ness a great increase in the numbers would serve three Emperors as and importance of women lawyers. Much of the popular feeling of antagonism toward woman's adopting the legal profession springs from a misconception of the lawyer's duties, it being assumed that the chief business of a lawyer is haranging juries and in-timidating witnesses. When it is rec-Later he chipped a bit off the bowl, ognized that there are many different and within a month the Emperor disfields in the profession and that actual missed him. The third sign is yet court practice is but the smallest part of the business of law, the prejudice against woman's engaging in its pursuit will be greatly modified.

The duties and obligations of a legal career are onerous and exacting; and the woman who enters upon the pursuit of law must consider all it entails. It will be noted that a great many women who have studied law have never engaged in practice, and a great many who once practiced have now ceased to do so. But it will be noted, too, that perhaps the larger proportion of women lawyers are married; that many are assistants of their husbands: and that quite a number have begun the study and practice of law after marriage .- From " Women at the Bar" in Demorest's Magazine for Nov.

TABLISHED CHRONOLOGIES.

Discoveries that Prove the World Countless Years Older Than Even Biblical Students Supposed-American Money is Doing the Work,

The University of Pennsylvania, through its expedition to Babylonia, has secured to American enterprise the honor of rendering history one of the most valuable services ever received from science.

Excavations began February 6. 1889, under the direction of Dr. John P. Peters, aid have been continued to the present date under the conduct of himself, Mrs. J. H. Haynes and Professor Hilprecht.

In the valley between the Eupbrates and Tigris rivers, rife with dendly fevers, and with the thermometer ranging from 110 to 120 degrees, the expedition has prosecuted its arduous labors with a result which marks an epoch in science.

American discoveries in Babylonia supply the world with history 2,250 years older than we have ever received.

It has long been believed by archacologists that the old mound of Nippur, where American explorations have been concentrated, held valuable secrets, but the perils, hardships and expense of the undertaking have delayed investigation.

Nippur was a mighty city, the seat of learning and culture, long before its sister city, Babylon, became great and beautiful under Nebuchadnezzar, 604 B. C.

The earliest Babylonian kings, of whom we have had any account until now, were Sargon I. and his son, Bur-Sin, 3,800 B. C. The American discoveries at Nippur are eloquent with the works of these mighty builders.

Beneath the walls which Sargon and Bur-Sin built and the pavements which they laid, American research has revealed the pavements and walls of a lower city.

The last wall uncarthed is 17 feet high, 45 feet broad, and rests upon another wall of unknown proportions. The latest encyclopaedia (issued 1895) reads: "Babylonia is one of the first centres at which men reached a high state of culture. Whether the beginnings of this culture antedate that of Egypt it is impossible to decide."

This question is decided. Egypt was young when Babylon was old and wise.

Professor Hilprecht is deciphering cuneiform inscriptions on tablets which date back 7,009 B. C. Other tablets which await his attention date back, it is believed, 10,000 B. C. And that marvelous old telltale mound of Nippur has not surrendered its last secret.

According to "Biblical chronology," the world was born 4,004 B. C.

According to the American discoveries at Nippur, the world was at 4,004 not an infant, but an old world. At least 6,000 B. C. It was living, reading, writing, loving, hating, warring, and building temples of worship "on high places to strange gods.""

It is well for the infirm of faith that "Biblical chronology," as indicat-

The use of Hall's Hair Renewer promotes the growth of the hair, and restores its natural color and beauty, frees the scalp of dandruff, tetter, and all impurities.

The only permanent cure for chronic catarrh is to thoroughly expel the poison from the system by the faithful and persistent use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This wonderful remedy proves successful when all other treatment has failed to relieve the sufferer.

What can be done with it? There it stays. It won't digest. It churns up, ferments and decays; becomes poisonous (as all putrid matter does) and causes great pain and deepseated disorders.

In order to change all this, take Shaker Digestive Cordial.

It stops fermentation and decay at once, so that no more poisons are created.

It clears the stomach of poisons already there. It helps it to turn the food that remains, into healthful nourishment. It strengthens the stomach for the next meal.

The Gamin's Idea.

A street gamin was yesterday "shinin' up" an elderly gentleman, who was leaning against a building. He was supported by two canes, which attracted the attention of the bootblack, who sought to know why they were necessary. The gentleman explained that he had an injured knee, and was thinking of having his leg taken off, but he added that it would cost $1,000.

"My!" exclaimed the lad, "that's an awful pile of money," and then, after a moment's hesitation, added: "and it might kill you."

"But if it kills me," the gentleman responded, "the doctors will give my family $5,000."

The bootblack polished away for some time, and then looked up and remarked: "I'd have the thing cut off."-Duluth News-Tribune.
