

THANKSGIVING TURKEY.

Various Toothsome Ways to Prepare the Delightful Bird.

If you have the spirit of thankfulness in your own heart, and want to awaken a corresponding glow in the heart of your lord and master, you will serve your turkey boned and so get rid of much of the difficulty in carving.

An easy way to bone a turkey is to slit the skin down the back with a sharp knife, and, raising one side at a time with the fingers, separate the flesh from the bones until the wings and legs are reached; unjoint these from the body, and, cutting through to the bone, turn back the flesh and remove the bones. The flesh may be reshaped by stuffing. Stuff with forcemeat made of veal and a little pork chopped fine, and season with salt, pepper, sage or savory, and the juice of a lemon. Sew in shape, and press the wings and legs close to the body, and tie all firmly, so that the upper surface may be smooth and plump. Lard the breast with narrow strips of lard, fat pork, and bake until thoroughly done, basting often with salt and water and a little butter. Serve with a giblet dressing, to which has been added a cup of strained tomatoes.

To make a giblet dressing for roast turkey, put the giblets and neck in a saucepan with cold water and add an onion, salt and pepper, and a slice of dry bread that has been made very brown in the oven. Boil until the giblets are done, then strain the stock. Chop the giblets fine and put them and the stock back into the saucepan, dredge with a little flour, add the brown gravy from the bottom of the pan in which the fowl was cooked, after skimming off the fat. Serve hot in a gravy boat.

A good, old-fashioned stuffing is made by mixing with a loaf of stale bread half a cup of butter, an egg, salt, pepper, sage and thyme or celery to taste, all brought to the consistency of mush by the addition of hot water.

An oyster dressing is considered an improvement upon the old recipe. It is made by adding to half a loaf of stale bread crumbled half a cup of butter and salt and pepper to taste. Drain off the liquor from a pint of oysters, heat it and pour over the bread crumbs; add an egg and mix all the ingredients well together. A little sweet milk is a great improvement.

Most delicious of all is a chestnut stuffing, the rich nuts giving a peculiarly delicate taste to the fowl. To make it boil the chestnuts, remove the shells and brown skins and mash them. Mix them with a few grated bread crumbs and moisten with sweet cream, add a little butter and season with pepper and salt. In filling the turkey do not crowd in the stuffing. Sew up the openings and tie or skewer the legs and wings in shape. Rub thickly with butter and salt and dredge with flour. Place in a dripping pan and put half a cup of water in the pan. Use a moderate oven and cover the turkey with another pan for the first 40 minutes. Baste frequently and turn the bird occasionally to expose all parts to the heat. It should be tender and moist and a golden brown all over when done. Garnish the dish with small balls of fried sausage or fried oysters and parsley. Serve with a giblet dressing and cranberries.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Let Us Give Thanks. That is an impoverished soul which cannot on Thanksgiving day lift itself up in praise. This is the festival of households and the festival of commonwealths. Has not God been good to our homes and good to our commonwealths? Then, let us be glad before him and bless his name. Think of God's mercy to our homes. Are our families unbroken? Are we glad in the love of dear ones left to us? Let us give thanks to the God of households. Think of God's mercy to our land. Have we been spared the pangs of war, famine and pestilence? Have our fields given rich harvests? Let us give thanks to the God of nations.—Independent.

Thanksgiving in 1771. In 1771, long before which time Thanksgiving had become an annual custom in New England, the customary Thanksgiving proclamation of Governor Hutchinson met with a very cold reception. The spirit of independence was abroad, and patriotic Americans could find little to be thankful for under the British yoke. Most of the Boston ministers absolutely refused to read the proclamation to their congregations, and several in the country also declined.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Inappropriate Dishes. Mince pie and plum pudding, wrapped in blue flames, find places on some tables. Really they do not belong there. By right they should be relegated to Christmas, with the fruit cake just a year old, for if there is a New England dish it is the golden pumpkin pie.—Exchange.

Thanksgiving Day. Over the river and through the wood To grandfather's house we go. Hear the bells ring, "Ting-a-ling-ding!" Hurrah for Thanksgiving day!

Over the river and through the wood To have a first rate play. Hear the bells ring, "Ting-a-ling-ding!" Hurrah for Thanksgiving day!

Over the river and through the wood Now grandmother's esp I spy. Hurrah for the fun! Is the pudding done? Hurrah for the pumpkin pie! —L. Marie Child.

Lippincott's Magazine for Dec., 1896.

The complete novel in the December issue of Lippincott's is "The Chase of an Heiress," by Christian Reid. The scene is in Santo Domingo, a region hitherto unfamiliar to fiction.

"The Whipping of Uncle Henry" is a tale of Georgia before the war, in that original and effective vein which is peculiar to Will N. Harben.

Pauline Shackelford Colyar tells a Thanksgiving story of "Two Old Boys." "How Timmy Saved the Piece," by Livingston B. Morse, records a remarkable event in theatrical annals of the humbler sort.

The methods of "Shutting out the Sea" are set forth by George Ethelbert Walsh. D. C. Macdonald writes on "The Land of Taffy," the other name of which is Wales. George J. Varney gives the history of "Our First Silver Mine," and David Bruce Fitzgerald describes "An Old Virginia Fox Hunt."

"The Evolution of the Poster" is traced by Agnes Carr Sage from the beginnings of advertising, so far as known. Arthur Inkersley discusses "Anagrams." Jean Wright has a lively essay on "Flirtation as a Fine Art."

The poetry of the number is by Elizabeth Crooks, Grace F. Penny-packer, Emma C. Dowd and Arthur D. F. Randolph.

The only inheritance many receive from their ancestors is impure blood. Fortunately, it is in everyone's power to transmit a cleaner heritage to their posterity by the simple use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the only blood-purifier admitted at the Chicago World's Fair.
