QUAY'S REFORM.

The proceedings of Mr. Quay at this time beautifully illustrate the truth of the tale about the devil who was sick and the devil who got well. A little more than a year ago, when Mr. Quay was apparently at his last with consumers. At the same time political gasp and seemed to be going in the town was an economical counto his long deferred popular judgment, he promised many things and instituted a "reform" campaign. In short ting down the company's receipts. he would become a monk, so to One day, after a particularly amusing speak; but he is not one now.

Mr. Quay declared : " Against the use of money in politics."-He won against Hastings month.

"A recognition of ability and fidelvice to the country ever foremost about all that you have left me to monkey with." fitness."-Yet it is popularly believed United States senate.

" Public office should be for the public benefit."-He is setting up fences and pulling wires for the giving of public office to the man who will be of the most benefit to him.

"All unnecessary positions and salaries should be abolished."—At fling at the moon?" this moment he is contriving an amendment to the license law which will throw another crowd of office holders upon the support of the

"No state or county employe should be permitted to influence primaries or elections."—It is by the influence of such employes toat Quay has controlled and continues to control the machine in this state.

It might be possible, but it is useless, to lengthen this list of reforms the promise of which Quay daily breaks to the hope. The crowning promise of the whole is perhaps, that girl has been afflicted with tetter for the next legislature should enact the laws necessary for the establishment head were rough and caused her much of these reforms. Everybody knows pain. She has taken Hood's Sarsathe uext legislature will be no more parilla and used Hood's Olive Ointment honest, honorable or higher principled and now her face is smooth." Mrs. than the last.

Because of his promise of reform, Pa. when it was advisable to turn monk, an organ of the senator at that time said: "The man who in these times to take, easy in effect. would attempt to deprive Senator Quay of his political supremacy might as well be considered a public enemy." According to Republican belief, then, the man who works for real reform is a public enemy .- Patriot.

Made to Order Cities.

The history of Middlesboro, Ky., proves that cities grow; they are not made to order strictly. The site was selected because of the beauty of the spot and the scenery around. It was given to the natural causes that deordained by its projectors. Lots on the main street were marked down, and some sold at $500 a front foot. A street railway was laid and operated for awhile. Iron, steel and other works that cost millions were built. A hotel was erected for $250,000. In all $20,000,000 was laid out by the stockholders in the vain design of building a city. And now the factory works are idle and rusting. Rats alone run the big hotel. The $500 a foot lots are fronted by grass grown streets. The weeds run riot over the street railway, and Ichabod is inscribed upon Middlesboro. Cities are not made altogether, though human agencies and energies go a long way in shaping their destinies and increasing the prosperity of the dwellers therein .-Baltimore Sun.

The Cuban Problem.

There is no inherent improbability in the information, vouched for by the New York World as having been derived from "State Department sources," concerning the pendency of negotiations with Spain to the end of inducing her to accept the good offices of the United States in an effort to terminate the insurrection in Cuba if the revolt should not have been suppressed by January 1 next. It is very improbable, however, that Spain would propose any terms which it would be mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians and is a possible for the Cuban people were embodied in the manifesto of Don Jose Antonio Saco, while the cuban people were embodied in the manifesto of Don Jose Antonio Saco, while the cuban people were embodied in the manifesto of Don Jose Antonio Saco, while the cuban people were embodied in the manifesto of Don Jose Antonio Saco, while the cuban people were embodied in the manifesto of Don Jose Antonio Saco, while the cuban people were embodied in the cuban people were embodied in the cuban people were embodied in the manifesto of Don Jose Antonio Saco, while the cuban people were embodied in the cuban people were embodied in the cuban people were embodied in the manifesto of Don Jose Antonio Saco, while the cuban people were embodied in the cuban people were embodi published in Madrid in that year, which included home rule in all things and especially in economic affairs or matters affecting public expenses, taxation, commerce, local improvements and education-in a word, autonomy. But autonomy will never be conceded to Cuba by Spain. On that question all Spanish parties, whether Tories, Liberals, Carlists or Republicans, are a unit.

Then consider the bonded Cuban debt. There is the "old debt" and the "new debt," each amounting to $200,000,000; the debt incurred by Spain for the purposes of the war, which amounts to not much if any less than $100,000,000, and the recent loan of $50,000,000. In any peaceful settlement Cuba would be expected located by money, no thought being to shoulder this load of $550,000,000, or more than $400 per capita for cide locations and determine growth.

The ground was secured and a city every man, woman and child inhabiting the island. Is it conceivable that ing the island. Is it conceivable that any representative body of the Cuban people would accept such a burden, even as the price of independence? The relations between Spain and Cuba have come to a deadlock which is insoluble except by the sword. Spain, indeed, may "create a solitude and call it peace" on the island Independence, however, is the only apparent alternative to the continued government of Cuba by martial law. A compromise, in the nature of the case. is impossible.—Record.

The Great Secret.

Boerhaave, the greatest doctor of his time, was anxious that it should go forth that even the most eminent doctor is somewhat of a "humbug." He carefully handed the key or a small diary to his executor, bade him open it immediately after his decease and let the contents go forth to the world at large. When the notebook was opened, all its pages but the last mailed of the most popular Catarrh were blank, and on that final one there was written in large letters : "Directions to patients," your feet warm and your head cool, and trust for the rest to Providence.'

An exchange says:-A "Towanda Review poet prays for the building of Cream Balm and after using it six a trolley road for him to go to heaven weeks I believe myself cured of ca- on. ## AN OCTOGENARIAN SCORCHER.

Miss Yates Claims to be the Oldest Wheelwoman on the Pacific Coast,

Mrs. Christina E. Yates claims the distinction of being the oldest wheelwoman. She is proud of the record she has made awheel, and stands ready to meet any woman of her age, either in a contest of skilful riding or as a matter of endurance. Miss Yates is 80 years old. She says that age does not count when it comes to riding a bicycle. She can wheel her way over the roughest roads, and seldom gets weary.

Miss Yates resides at 960 Grove street, Oakland, where she can be seen almost any day going out for her exercise. She gave an exhibition of riding in Jefferson Park in the presence of a number of people. The way she sailed around the paths and cut the figure eight with the wheel was a revelation to the few young damsels who had been inclined to make some fun of the aged cycler. But Miss Yates does not fear the smiles of the younger members of her sex. On the contrary, she enjoys attracting some attention, and is pleased to be recognized as the champion old indy

"I believe I am the oldest woman bleyele rider on the coast," said Miss Yates, after giving an exhibition of her riding and posing for her picture. "I am proud of it, and I intend to hold the record. I do not believe that there is a woman of my age in the state who can outdo me in ordinary or trick riding. It was queer the way I learned to ride. I saw lots of these old gray-headed men around town sailing along on their wheels, and I came to the conclusion that there must be something good in it. I said to myself, if an old man can ride a wheel, surely an old woman can equal him. So I got a wheel and commenced to ride, and now here I am, a maiden lady of 80 years, and the champion rider of my sex as to age. In a short time I am going back to my old home in Columbus, Ohio, and I'm just going to astonish the natives. Won't the old boys open their eyes when they see Christina coming into town on a wheel and cutting a figure eight on the way?"

Miss Nellie G. Robinson, late of Cininnati. Ohio, where she practiced law for three years, has applied for admission to the New York bar, and has established herself in an office on Broadway.

Her experience legally has been a wide one. She has practiced in open court, but unintentionally made divorce cases her specialty.

"I was forced into it," is her explanation, "at first because women came to me who couldn't afford the expense of a suit. And afterwards most women came to me."

Miss Robinson is of plump and pleasing personality, and possesses a childish dimpled face and an abundance of blonde hair that are arguments in themselves.

THE BLUES.

A GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION OF THE DREADFUL FEELING.

What Is Meant by This Form of Acute Misery-Where Doctors Make Mistakes. When a cheerful, brave, light-hearted woman is suddenly plunged into that perfection of misery, the BLUES, it is a sad picture.

It is usually this way :-She has been feeling "out of sorts" for some time; head has ached, and back also; has slept poorly; been quite nervous, and nearly fainted once or twice; head ((,) dizzy, and heart has beat very fast; then that bearing-down feeling Her doctor says, "cheer up, you have dyspepsia; you'll be all right soon."

But she doesn't get "all right." She grows worse day by day, till all at once she realizes that a distressing female complaint is established.

Her doctor has made a mistake. She has lost faith in him; hope vanishes; then comes the brooding, morbid, melancholy, everlasting BLUES. Her doctor, if he knew, should have told her and cured her, but he did not, and she was allowed to suffer. chance she came across one of Mrs. Pinkham's books, and in it she found her very symptoms described and an explanation of what they meant. Then she wrote to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for advice, feeling that she was telling her troubles to a woman. Speedy relief followed, and vigorous health returned.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound instantly asserts its curative powers in all those peculiar ailments of women. It has been the standby of intelligent American women for twenty years, and the story recited above is the true experience of hundreds of women, whose letters of gratitude are to be found on file in Mrs. Pinkham's library.

A Strange Bed-

One of the patients in the Good Samaritan Hospital at Cincinnati is sleeping in a bathtub. She is Mrs. Young, of Morehead, Ky., who has had a bullet located in her body by means of the Roentgen rays and removed by the surgeons.

From lying in bed previous to the operation her body became so sore and tender that she could not endure touching even the softest substance. The doctors at the hospital decided to build a novel water bed for her to lie upon.

The bathtub was filled with tepid water and connected with two pipes, one for receiving a fresh supply of water and the other for the discharge. Then a band of linen upon which was placed a pillow of down was laid upon the top of the water.

Another band of linen ran across the feet, Mrs. Young was placed uponthis novel bed and rested quietly. In this position she eats and sleeps while the stream of tempered water constantly flows through the tub .- New York Journal.
