WASHINGTON.

From our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18th, 1896. Senator Vest has lost none of his old-time power of expression, nor any of his confidence in the principles for which he has been fighting so long. He made this plain th a short speech he delivered this week. Although he based his remarks upon the Dingley bill, he prefaced them by saying that he knew it was a dead issue and that he only did so because many wellmeaning people were urging Congress to act upon it. Later, the death of the Dingley bill was announced by Sherman. Apropos to the late cam-paign, Mr. Vest said: "While I may be subjected to the charge of being a lunatic, an anarchist and a repudiator, I assert that the only relief for the people is to give them more money. If we are lunatics and anarchists because we ask for the opening of the mints to the free coinage of silver, then over six million American freemen who voted for Wm. J. Bryan are lunatics, and may God help the Re-public! But it is a vile slander. The men who supported the great leader, Wm. J. Bryan, are as loyal and as in-telligent a body of men as any in this country. The gold standard, which is the root of this evil, is the vilest monopoly ever conceived in the mind of mortal man.'

The whole Cuban business was virtually postponed until January when the Senate adopted Senator Morgan's resolution asking the President to little bats" proved to be nothing more present situation in Cuba he has, as President Cleveland is hunting on the coast of South Carolina and Congress has already adopted a resolution providing for a recess from Dec. 22 to Jan. 5. The speeches made on the the family upon learning of the misbeen about as effective as the excited meetings held throughout the country.

The executive committee of the Bimetallic Union has been here for several days, preparing to continue the educational work for silver. All the prominent silver men in Congress have been conferring with members of the committee at different times, but there has been no single meeting of all the silver men yet.

Although Senator Allen's resolution for the appointment of a Senate committee to investigate the alleged wholesale use of money in the late National campaign was offered without consultation with Democrats, its spirit meets their approbation. Democrats have ever since the remarkable results of the election in a number of states were announced been anxious to investigate the why and wherefore of the abnormal increase in the total vote cast. Senator Allen had read in connection with his resolution a list of states in which Bryan's vote largely exceeded the winning vote of 1892 is certain that the total alleged vote of Maryland was at least 20,000 in excess of the adult male population on the first of last January, and he would where the excess came from. According to some of the best Parliamentarians, Mr. Allen's resolutions will have to be changed a little in order to be effective. For instance, Senator Morgan said: "If Senator Allen makes his resolution joint, and it should pass the Senate and House, there would be no doubt of the authority of Congress to probe the matter to its furthest depth. The Senate alone, as I view it, cannot enquire into an election in a state, or even into the election of a President."

From Their Point of View.

There's a good bit in being "edu-cated up" to a thing after all. "Where be ye goin to hang the little bats, ma'am?" asked a maid of her mistress during a post housecleaning rearrangeor less than Raphael's Sistine Madonna cherubs. It was another maid who always referred to her mistress' cherished cast of the Parthenon's "Three Fates" as "them dogs." "Well, I don't wonder," remarked the small boy of nomer. "Smashed up old thing like that, that you can't make head or tail of! I don't see how you can tell what they are yourself, auntie." An irreverent man in the Louvre supplied the very tassel to the cap of the climax of this sort of thing. It was in that Mecca of all art lovers the world over, the alcove sacred to the Venus of Milo, and everybody was attitudinizing in that worshipful way that is somehow inevitable to the spot. The man walked briskly in, at one sweeping glance "took in"-as he would have said-the statue and the everybodies and then in loud, clear tones remarked, "Well, for my part, I prefer woman with arms."-New York

All White Cats Deaf.

" Though I had often heard of it I never was fully satisfied that all white cats are naturally deaf until recently," said a scientific gentleman who devotes considerable of his time of animals. "I was aware that Professor Bell, in his original experiments ascertained and stated that his experiwere all either deaf or very deficient in hearing, and that other experimenters in the same direction had reached similar conclusions. To satisfy myself I recently secured in all twenty-three white cats, and experimented on them, one at a time.

"In every case I found them stone deaf. In carrying the experiment further, I found that white dogs and white horses are deficient in hearmice. I am confident I do not overstate it in regard to white cats, though I have only experimented with twenty-three, and, of course, can only speak positively in regard to them. don't hazard much, however, when I make the bold statement that all white cats are deaf."- Washington
